TRIBUNE STARTS A PRESIDENTIAL POLL IN ILLINOIS

Voters to List Views on Candidates.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

In an effort to ascertain, before the national political conventions open, what the voters of Chicago and Illinois are thinking as to nominations for President, THE TRIBUNE will take a straw vote covering all sections of the city and state.

Squads of canvassers are now out gathering the first ballots in THE TRIBUNE'S presidential poll. The Republican national convention opens in Cleveland on June 9 and two weeks later the Democratic national convention starts in Philadelphia. The sole purpose of the poll is to gauge the sentiment of Illinois residents on the one great question of whom they favor for nomination for the White House by the two great parties.

Candidates in Primaries.

In the recent primaries, only two candidates were entered for the Republican preference vote—Senator William E. Borah of Idaho and Frank Knox, Chicago publisher. President Roosevelt had no opposition in the Democratic preferential primaries.

With six active Republican candidates in the field, each with delegates already pledged to his support in the convention, and with dark horses being groomed, THE TRIBUNE'S poll gives voters an opportunity to register their preference out of the entire field of avowed or dark horse possibilities.

The public this year is unusually interested in the national conventions. The purpose of the straw vote is not to indicate what may happen at Cleveland or at Philadelphia but what the trend of sentiment on candidates is in Illinois, which is accounted a pivotal state in the November election.

Names Rotated on Ballots.

The straw ballot which the canvassers are circulating contains the names of the active candidates with a blank space for those who desire to write in the names of others they may prefer. The names are rotated on the ballots so that the position at the top is divided equally among the avowed candidates.

The style of the straw ballot is as follows, this particular one being from the first batch, in which the names are in alphabetical order:

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE PRE-CONVENTION STRAW VOTE

VOTE FOR ONE ONLY.

REPUBLICANS	DEMOCRATS
☐ William E. Borah, Idaho	☐ Franklin D. Roosevelt
☐ L. J. Dickinson, Iowa	☐ .....
☐ Frank Knox, Illinois
☐ Gov. Alf M. Landon, Kansas
☐ Robert A. Taft, Ohio
☐ Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan
☐

Covering Entire State.

Squads of canvassers in automobiles are circulating in villages, hamlets and cities in the northern counties, a great agricultural region with much dairying. They are traveling into the corn belt, and into the river counties along the Wabash, Illinois and Mississippi, and are garnering ballots in the coal regions and fruit areas of Egypt.

In Chicago the presidential poll will cover every section of the city. Straws are being collected at selected movie theaters, at churches, along sidewalks, and in other places where people congregate.

In former years THE TRIBUNE straw votes have made a reputation for ascertaining the trend of popular sentiment. The mayoralty poll of 1927 hit the nail on the head, and the presidential polls of 1928 and previous years gauged sentiment with remarkable accuracy.

The Stoneciphers Plan Surprise Visits; Surprise!

St. Petersburg, Fla., May 29.—(AP)—Last week Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stonecipher of this city decided to pay a surprise visit to their daughter, Mrs. Eddie Stout, in Detroit. About the same time Mrs. Stout decided to pay a surprise visit to her parents in St. Petersburg. Each family arrived at its destination to learn they had merely exchanged places.

SENATORS DEFY ROOSEVELT AND CUT TAX RAISES

Levy on Surpluses Set at 7 Pct.

Raise "Quoddy" Issue

An attempt by administration leaders to revive the Passamaquoddy tidal power and Florida ship canal projects blocked a vote in the United States senate yesterday on the relief-deficiency bill. The senate will meet today. Story on page 4.

BY CHESLY MANLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Defying personally delivered orders from President Roosevelt, the senate finance committee today reported its own compromise revenue bill with a flat 7 per cent tax on undistributed earnings of corporations instead of the drastic house rates reaching a maximum of 42½ per cent.

The committee also increased existing corporation income tax rates which President Roosevelt wanted repealed, 3 per cent in all brackets. Moreover, the committee boosted existing individual surtax rates 1 per cent in all brackets from $6,000 to $50,000.

Estimate 707 Million Yield.

Proponents of the compromise measure estimated that it would yield 707 million dollars in new permanent revenue, or 87 millions more than the amount demanded by President Roosevelt. The President also demanded 517 millions in temporary revenue to be spread over a period of three years, and the committee put in only 82 millions of this amount to be raised from confiscating refunded and unpaid processing taxes.

The President wanted 793 millions in new revenue for three years and 620 millions for six years thereafter, so that the senate bill would be only 86 millions short for three years and would return the full amount of desired temporary revenue in six instead of three years.

Even if the compromise bill passes the senate without change, some concessions may have to be made by the senate managers in conference with the house, whose bill not only imposed the drastic Roosevelt-Tugwell-Eccles rates on undistributed earnings but also repealed the existing corporation income tax.

Black to Carry On Fight.

Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], announced that he would submit a minority report and carry the fight for the President's revolutionary social reform principles to the senate floor. However, Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the committee, pledged his word to support the senate bill substantially in its present form when it was adopted 18 to 1 last week. Moreover, Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson said he planned to take up the tax bill as soon as it returned from the printers, probably Monday, and rush it to final action in the hope of adjourning congress by June 6.

The vote today was 12 to 6, the test coming on a motion by Senator Black to substitute a Roosevelt-Eccles plan submitted yesterday, which contemplated retention of the existing corporation income tax rates and superimposing graduated undistributed earnings rates ranging up to 30 per cent on all above 40 per cent retained.

Two Proxies Refused.

Voting for the Black motion were Black himself, Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.], Edward P. Costigan [Dem., Colo.], by proxy; Joseph F. Guffey [Dem., Pa.], and Robert La Follette [Radical, Wis.] The Black forces sought to vote the proxy of Senator Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.], but Acting Chairman William H. King [Dem., Utah] ruled that they had no authority to do this. Likewise, the majority sought unsuccessfully to vote the proxy of Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.], who was temporarily absent.

Those voting against the Black motion were King, Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.], David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.], Josiah W. Bailey [Dem., N. C.], Harry F. Byrd [Dem., Va.], Augustine Lonergan [Dem., Conn.], Peter G. Gerry [Dem., R. I.], James Couzens [Rep., Mich.], Henry W. Keyes [Rep., N. H.], Daniel O. Hastings [Rep., Del.], and Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.]. There was no record vote on the question of reporting the bill as it stood.

The committee decided to graduate

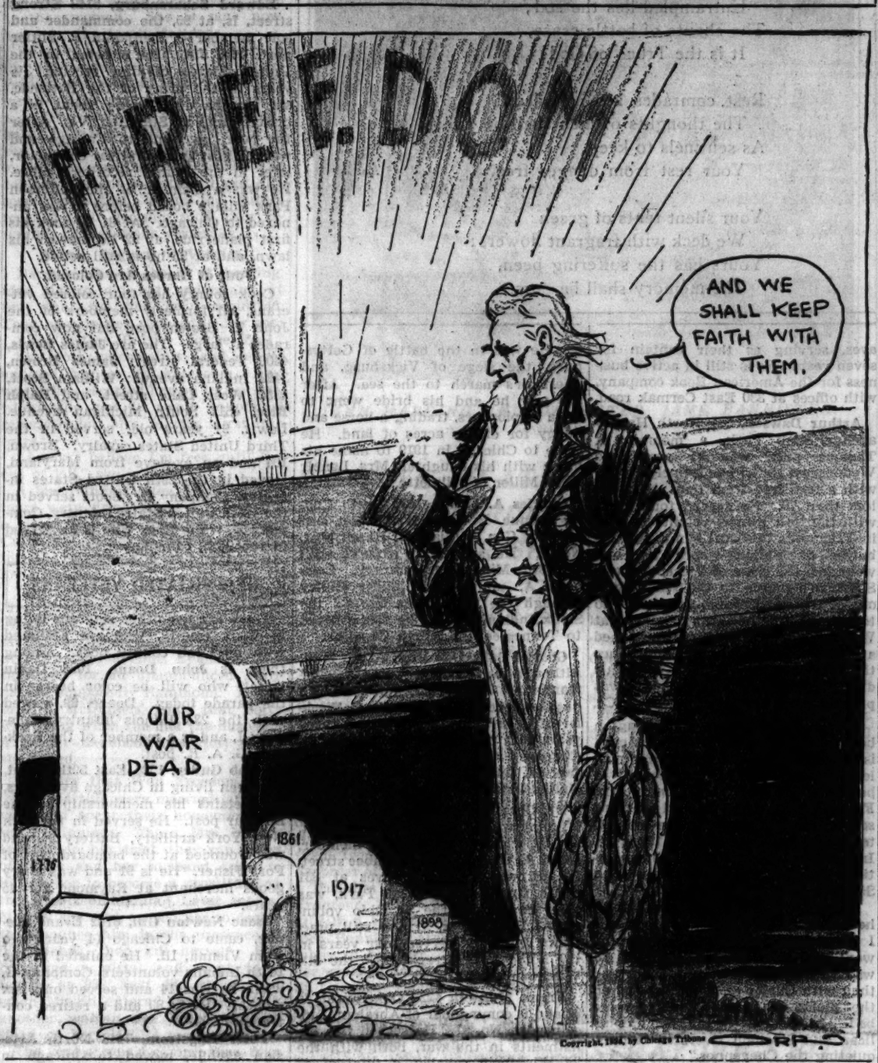
THE ONE GREAT CAUSE FOR WHICH THEY FOUGHT AND DIED



Policeman Is Slain in Battle with 5 Bandits

Policeman Jerome McCauley, 37 years old, 510 Deming place, was shot and killed last evening in a battle with a gang of five robbers at Bloomingdale road and Wood street. The shooting took place after an automobile chase at breakneck speed through northwest side streets.

McCauley was the first Chicago policeman killed in action since Nov. 2. He had been a member of the force since 1933, and was assigned to the accident prevention bureau.

Radio Call Starts Pursuit.

McCauley and his partner, Policeman Edward Brieske, were touring on regular duty when a radio message reached them, stating that the five robbers had held up stores at 4200 Fullerton avenue and at 4063 Milwaukee avenue. They got $200 in the second stickup.

The message added that the last three digits of the license number on the robbers' car were 953.

At Elston and Damen avenues the policemen sighted the car of the gang, which was being driven southeast in Elston avenue. They pursued at once, Brieske driving the squad car. With their siren shrieking they sped along the carline street, narrowly missing other motorists and street cars. The bandits turned into Wood street.

Near Bandits' Car.

At Webster avenue they were slowed down by construction work on the pavement. The policemen approached to within 50 feet and Brieske leaped out to shoot at them. The fire was returned as the robbers moved on and the police car was struck once. Brieske leaped back in the car and followed. The pursuit continued in Wood street.

As the police car approached the Bloomingdale road viaduct McCauley leaned out and fired several times. The bandits fired a volley in return and one bullet crashed through the windshield. Presumably this was the one that struck McCauley. He dropped his pistol in the street.

Chase Is Abandoned.

Brieske, unaware that his partner was wounded, drove on. When he reached Paulina and Dean streets in a weaving course he heard a groan and, looking back, discovered McCauley on the floor. He abandoned the chase and drove to the North Avenue hospital, where McCauley died within an hour.

The robbers drove east in Julian street. Their automobile was found in front of 1550 Orchard street shortly before midnight. There were several bullet holes in the rear of it.

From Mrs. Sidney Lewis, who was robbed by the gang in the Midwest poultry store at 4063 Milwaukee avenue, investigators learned that the men were all young.

The bandit car had been reported by its owner, Herbert Max of 2420 North Lawndale avenue, as stolen on May 9.

Policeman McCauley is survived by his widow. He was a chauffeur before joining the police force and had served in the navy during the world war.

DRINKING DRIVERS ASKED TO SEND IN OBITUARY AND PHOTO

"Memorial Day Celebrators:

"The Tribune requests that persons who intend to mix liquor with automobiles in Memorial day celebrations kindly leave typed obituaries and photographs or one column cuts with the city editor before beginning the day's observance. The clearing of the accident stories thus will be facilitated for the city news staf.

"Automobiles already have claimed 16 lives in Tulsa this year."

SPECIAL DEPUTY SHERIF SHOOTS DOWN A ROBBER

Two masked robbers who attempted to hold up Max Schwartz, 40 years old, owner of a dress shop, and his wife, Jeannette, in the hallway of the building in which they live at 646 Waveland avenue early today got a little more than they bargained for.

Schwartz, who has been commissioned a special deputy sherif, drew a pistol and fired on the men. One of them, who had knocked down Mrs. Schwartz, released her. Both then fled. Schwartz pursued them to the street and shot one man near the heart. The other escaped.

In the hallway of the apartment building investigators found burglar's tools that had been dropped by the pair. Neither man, apparently, had a pistol.

Through finger prints the wounded man was identified at the American hospital as Edward McCollister, 40 years old, who once served a term in Leavenworth penitentiary for impersonating a federal officer. He refused to talk to the police. It was said he had only a slight chance for recovery.

Burns to Death in Fire in His Basement Home

Joseph Polk, 43 years old, a WPA worker, was burned to death early today in the basement of a two room shack at 3523 Prairie avenue, where he resided. The fire is believed to have started in a rubbish pile and spread to Polk's bed while he was asleep.

New Mark for Day's Run Set by Queen Mary

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD THE S. S. QUEEN MARY EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK, May 29.—The Queen Mary today broke the first of the records of her French rival, the Normandie, on her maiden trip to New York by covering 747 sea miles in 25 hours at an average speed of 29.88 knots. The 25 hour period stretches from noon yesterday to noon today, the daily alteration of the clock adding an extra hour to the normal 24.

The record, which experts on board the giant British liner claim could be bettered easily, was three sea miles ahead of the Normandie and six miles better than expected. Commodore Sir Edgar Britten was elated.

Commodore is "Satisfied."

"I am completely satisfied with the ship's performance," he said.

"We are just keeping to schedule," said Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the Cunard-White Star line. "We are not out to beat any records. I can say that the bridge says the ship is the easiest to handle we have ever built."

The Queen Mary with an unusual burst of engine power at times appeared to be traveling well over 30 knots. The Normandie's average on the westward trip, which won the blue ribbon for her, was 29.68 knots. On her return the Normandie's average speed was 30.31.

May Dock Monday Noon.

Cunard line officials said they hoped to reach New York Monday noon, but that is not reckoning with possible designs on the Normandie's record of four days three hours 13 minutes.

Whether the Queen Mary will beat the record was the chief topic of conversation. Heavy wagers are being laid, one American betting $5,000.

Life aboard the liner livened up when news got around that a stowaway had been discovered. He is Frank Gardener, 41 years old, of London. Gardener went aboard at Southhampton with the crew and has been eating in their mess. Ship's officers put him to work in the crew's kitchen.

"I could not find work in London so I took a chance," Gardener said in explaining why he became a stowaway.

The elaborate children's playroom again was crowded this afternoon. This room took the fancy of King Edward VIII. last Monday. He got into the padded chute with Princess Elizabeth, his niece, and slid down it, according to the story being told aboard the liner.

An automobile speeding at 50 miles an hour under the unsteady guidance of a drinking driver hurtled with terrific force late last night upon a hayrack on which a party of twenty young men and women were starting gayly for a trip to the moonlit countryside of northwest Cook county.

The accident, which took place just north of the Edgebrook Riding academy at 5879 North Central avenue, put a tragic end to the gayety. One young man was killed and at least a dozen other persons, including several who were not on the rack, were seriously injured.

Stanley Nicpan, 21 years old, 1518 West Erie street, the driver of the automobile, was seized at the scene by policemen. As they opened the door of his automobile a partly filled bottle of liquor dropped out onto the road.

Driver at Beer Party.

"I was on my way home," he said apologetically, "after being at a beer party in a friend's house in Niles Center."

The man who lost his life in the crash was Patrick Hodgins, 23 years old, 6301 Lakewood avenue, a graduate of Loyola university and a former student at Notre Dame university. He was the son of the late Attorney P. J. Hodgins, once a candidate for congress.

Like the others who were sitting on the hayrack as it was being drawn north in Central avenue by an automobile, young Hodgins was tossed into the air and landed on the concrete. His back was broken and he suffered other injuries that caused his death some two hours later in the Swedish Covenant hospital.

Dozen Persons Injured.

Among the injured are Miss Martha Taylor, 21 years old, 3831 Rokeby street, whose right wrist and ankle were broken; Miss Ann Joachim, 24 years old, 3622 North Whipple street, whose back was sprained; Miss Edith Wilson, 21 years old, 4832 Kenmore avenue, who suffered scalp injuries; Miss Betty Strudeman, 26 years old, 2959 Newland avenue, who was severely cut and bruised, and Miss Sylvia Rosenberg, 23 years old, 1305 Farwell avenue, who was cut on the forehead.

Other victims were William Nelson, 27 years old, 4258 Belmont avenue, right leg broken; Peter Nitzu, 28 years old, 4131 Washington boulevard, both legs broken; Harry Kammes, 20 years old, 4516 Fulton street, skull and jaw fractured; Jacob Rabskin, 31 years old, of New York, internal injuries; Edward Wisniewski, 20 years old, 1616 George street, who was riding with Nicpan, cuts and bruises, and Nicpan, who suffered a cut on his head.

Tragedy Ends Happy Party.

The gay party had started in the riding academy with the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schmidt, as hosts. Shortly before 11 p. m. it was decided that all the celebrants, who were dressed in riding clothes, should get on the hay rack and go to a roadhouse in Morton Grove to continue the hilarity.

They had all climbed onto the wagon, which was attached to a small automobile, and had proceeded hardly a hundred yards, to the accompani-

MIGHTY PARADE TO HONOR WAR HEROES TODAY

Memorial Day Rites at Cemeteries.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Ideal marching weather, moderate and clear, with temperatures below 70 degrees, was forecast yesterday for today, when the annual Memorial day parade again will thrill thousands of Chicagoans assembled along the line of march. At 2 p. m. the procession will move out from Chicago and Michigan avenues and will proceed southward in Michigan avenue to Roosevelt road. Parade officials expect 60,000 to be in line.

The week-end's celebration began yesterday with the departure of thousands of Chicagoans by road and rail for the surrounding country—many bound for their native neighborhoods to visit the graves of relatives. Police expect the volume of trafic to increase today until a million automobiles are moving in Cook county's highways.

Decorate Every Hero's Grave.

In Chicagoland the principal observance of Memorial day, aside from the parade, will be the placement of flowers on the graves of men killed in the civil war, the Spanish-American war, and the world war. In Cook county's 123 cemeteries the graves of all of the war dead will be decorated this morning by members of patriotic organizations included in the Grand Army of the Republic Memorial association, assisted by 250 Boy Scouts.

The parade in Michigan avenue this afternoon will be reviewed by Gov. Horner and other state, city, and federal officials, resident consuls, and other leaders. They will occupy a stand on the east side of Michigan avenue, just south of Balbo avenue.

Boys in Blue to Head Column.

The procession is to march past in five divisions, the last of which is expected to reach Roosevelt road at 4:30 o'clock. In automobiles at the head of the first division will be 36 "Boys in Blue," veterans of the civil war who fought in the Union army, led by Lieut. Julius H. Reed, 94 years old, grand marshal of the parade, and Milton H. Myers, 94 years old, chief of staf.

When the 15 cars of G. A. R. veterans reach the reviewing stand they will alight and take seats there.

Following the G. A. R. men will march the Woman's Relief corps, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Old Glory Drum and Bugle corps, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and the National Indian Veterans of the United States.

Spanish-American Division.

The United Spanish War Veterans will lead the second division, with the Lane Technical High school R. O. T. C. unit and band as an escort.

"Forty per cent of the Spanish-American war veterans still are alive," according to P. J. Skerritt, past commander of the William McKinley camp, No. 6, "survivors of the army that cemented the north and south and made the United States a world power."

The Third division is to consist primarily of world war organizations. The 215 posts of the American Legion in Cook county, numbering 35,000 members, will be represented here by thousands of marching men. One of their number, Carlin H. Woodbridge, is to be adjutant general of the parade.

Escort of Guardsmen and Planes.

Acting as the Legion's escort and leading the division will be 5,000 men of the Thirty-third division of the Illinois National Guard and attached troops. Overhead will fly three planes from the 108th observation squadron, following the line of march. Other units will include:

Headquarters of the Thirty-third division, the 131st infantry, the 132d infantry, 112th and 124th field artillery, 202d coast artillery, 108th engineers, 108th medical regiment, and special troops.

Sidney T. Holzman, marshal of the Third division, will be escorted by the Combat Medal Men's association, all wearers of the Distinguished Service cross, of which Holzman is a former president. They will be commanded by their president, Dan Sullivan.

Much Color and Music.

In the forefront of the Legion ranks will be the Commonwealth Edison post, No. 118, drum and bugle corps, followed by brilliantly clad infantrymen from Woodlawn post, No. 17[illegible]

Massed American flags and Legion standards will provide more color as the Third steps along.

A dramatic part of the Third division of the parade will be the Gold Star Mothers of Chicago, who lost sons in the world war. Following them in 120 automobiles will be 500 disabled ex-service men from Hines hospital and the government hospital in North Chicago. Both mothers and disabled men will join officials in the reviewing stand. After the parade the veterans will be guests of the American Legion in the La Salle hotel at dinner.

Nearly 2,000 members of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War will be followed by women of the American Legion auxiliary, the Sons of the American Legion and men who fought for the allies in the war.

Comrades in Arms to Be There.

The allied groups are to include the American Czechoslovak Legion of Chicago, the American Jugo-slav Legion, the Belgian-American War Veterans, the Canadian Legion post, No. 61, B. E. S. L., the French War Veterans, Italian War Veterans' association, and Polish Army Veterans' association.

The Fourth division will include detachments from the regular army and navy, the United States Marine corps, the Army Reserve corps, and 500 men comprising three battalions and a band of Naval Reservists led by Lieutenant Commander Fred B. Orr. From Fort Sheridan will come an infantry company of 110 men and a band and bugle corps of 50 men.

The Chicago council of the Boy Scouts of America, the Chicago fire department headed by Chief Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan, and the Naval Order of the Republic band will march in the Fifth division.

Memorial Rites to Be Held.

This morning, after the decoration ceremonies in the cemeteries, several patriotic societies plan memorial rites.

One of the most dramatic incidents of Memorial day will be the ceremonies at the confederate monument, Oak Woods cemetery, marking the burial spot of 6,000 confederate soldiers and sailors who died in Camp Douglas. They will be conducted by the United Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at 10:30 o'clock.

The Grand Army of the Republic Memorial association will hold a service at the David Kennison plot in Lincoln park at 10:30 o'clock today. Col. Carleton B. Cunningham will speak. Aaron Minor chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be in charge.

Carillon to Be Dedicated.

At the Bohemian National cemetery, 5255 North Pulaski road, services will be featured by dedication of an amplified carillon.

Other events of today are listed:

Park Ridge, 9 a. m., community parade; 11 a. m., service at Soldiers monument in Maine Township cemetery.

Hines hospital, 9:30 a. m., field mass by the Rev. Boniface Fielding; boys' choir of St. Gabriel's church to sing, the Chicago police band to play.

St. Thomas Aquinas church, 10 a. m., requiem mass, then parade of James G. Brophy Legion post to Brophy memorial.

Winnetka, 10:30 a. m., Legion service on village common.

St. John of God church, 52d and Throop streets, Polish Legion ceremony in afternoon.

Museum and Zoo to Be Open.

In observance of Memorial day the Chicago postoffice and all of its stations will be closed today, and no delivery will be made by letter carriers. The Field Museum of Natural History will remain open and the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield will stay open until 7 p. m. The Chicago Stock and Curb exchanges, the Chicago Board of Trade, and other principal commodity and security exchanges will stay closed.

Several veteran groups are to hold reunions over the week-end, the first being a reception for Grand Army men to take place in the Chicago public library before the parade. After the marching Distinguished Service Cross wearers will meet at the Edgewater Beach hotel for dinner.

Memorial day programs were put on yesterday in many schools of Chicago and suburbs.

ROOSEVELT WILL ATTEND SERVICE AT CEMETERY

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Standing on a hilltop above the graves of 43,000 soldier dead, President Roosevelt tomorrow will pay silent tribute at Arlington National cemetery to the casualties of the nation's past wars.

Making no address, the chief executive will hear the national observance of Memorial day epitomized in addresses by Gen. John J. Pershing, chief of the world war expeditionary force, and a cabinet member, Secretary Daniel C. Roper.

The memory of a naval hero of early American history will be dramatized at exercises attended by Mr. Roosevelt later in the day at Annapolis. There naval academy midshipmen will reënact Stephen Decatur's recapture of the frigate Philadelphia in 1804 in the Bay of Tripoli.

Mr. Roosevelt will witness the pageant from the presidential yacht Potomac, sailing later for a week-end cruise.

In the capital veterans of the civil, Spanish-American and world wars will march along Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues.

COUNTY'S LAST FEW HEROES OF '61 PARADE TODAY

Pictures of forty-three civil war veterans living in Cook county will be found on the back page of today's Tribune.

"If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn observance of Memorial day, ours shall keep it well so long as the light and warmth of life remains in us."—Gen. John A. Logan, commander of the Grand Army of the Republic (May 5, 1868).

BY MARCIA WINN.

With this thought uppermost, as it has been for sixty-eight years, Cook county's few remaining "boys in blue" today will head their 69th Memorial day parade.

Seventy-one years ago some of those who today will ride down Michigan avenue in shining limousines marched triumphantly through the streets of Washington, D. C., in the grand review celebrating the close of the long, wearying war between the states. At that time they sang—

Twenty-one miles of boys in blue
Fifty abreast in the grand review.

Today, however, there will be no marching of the "boys in blue," and if they could march the 43 veterans left in Cook county could not make even one line of fifty abreast.

Marching Days Are Over.

For all of these—the oldest an ex-slave of 104, the youngest a former drummer boy of 86—marching days ended five years ago. A white goateed major of 96, one of the sturdiest of the 45, recently walked from the North Western station to Memorial hall in the public library, a distance of half a mile, but march in the parade?

"I believe I had better not try," was his smiling comment.

Yet, although they ride, the cadence of marching feet will resound in the fire and enthusiasm of their spirits, which weakening frames and passing years have failed to daunt.

There are twelve G. A. R. posts left in Cook county, but George H. Thomas post, No. 5, with 17 members, is the only post still holding meetings. Of the remaining eleven, six have only one living member. Four have only two.

COUNTY MUSTER ROLL

Lieut. Julius H. Reed, 943 Edgecomb place, a past commander of Thomas post and now custodian of Memorial hall, will serve as grand marshal of today's parade. At 93 his hair is white and his shoulders slightly stooped, but his energy is unflagging.

Lieut. Reed was born in Lee, Mass., in 1842, and enlisted in the 37th Massachusetts volunteers, 6th corps, Army of the Potomac, in 1862. He remained with the regiment until the end of the war, serving under Burnside, Hooker, Meade, Grant, and Sherman, and participating in many memorable battles, Gettysburg among them.

After the war he went to Cedar Rapids, Ia., as a railroad clerk, later going to the land department of the Union Pacific at Omaha. He entered the milling business at Boone, Ia., in the '70s, and was associated with the B. F. Gump company of Chicago for 50 years. At the time of his retirement five years ago he was known as "dean of milling historians" for editorial work on the American Miller.

Milton H. Myers, 918 Crescent avenue, Park Ridge, is, at 94, the alert commander of Thomas post. Of slight stature with a white goatee and fiercely intelligent eyes, he walks briskly, chides his comrades when their memories fail on the matter of ritual and is a master of polysyllables.

Commander Myers was born in Alexander City, Pa., and was teaching school in Crawford county, O., when war broke out. He enlisted in May, 1862, and served three years, first in the 84th Ohio infantry and later in the 110th Ohio, ending up as first lieutenant. He is one of the few survivors of the bitter Wilderness campaign, in which 40 per cent of his comrades were wiped out. He himself was wounded at Cold Harbor.

He moved from Ohio to Missouri in 1876, where he became a painter and decorator. He has been a resident of Illinois for 42 years, 22 of them at Harvey, and retired from business less than five years ago.

Maj. George Mason, 525 Roscoe street, is a past commander of Thomas post, a past commander-in-chief of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion [civil war officers] and is president of the Memorial Hall association. He is 96, but his step still is sure, his back straight, and his blue eyes shining. He is vice president of the Wisconsin Granite company and president of the Dell Rapids [S. D.] Quarry company. "I am practically retired," he smiles from above his white goatee, "but I am down at my office every day."

Maj. Mason came to Chicago in 1844 from Paisley, Scotland, where his grandfather, also George Mason, operated the Paisley Shawl mills. He enlisted in the 12th Illinois volunteers when 21, was made a first lieutenant and adjutant for meritorious service at the battle of Shiloh, served on the staffs of both Gen. McArthur and Gen. Oglesby and was with Sherman at Atlanta. He was commissioned a captain and brevet major in March, 1865.

Thomas Ambrose, 4358 Drexel boulevard, is 86. He is retiring state commander of the G. A. R., but claims his G. A. R. eligibility almost by chance, having enlisted in the 53d Kentucky mounted infantry on April 5, 1865, only four days before Lee's surrender at Appomattox. "The war ended too soon," he says, "for me to have achieved distinction or extinction."

He was 16 when he enlisted, but previously had served with the home guard, engaging in skirmishes with Morgan and other raiders. After the war he organized the Cincinnati Zouaves, serving as their captain for seven years. He is still in active business for the American Book company, with offices at 330 East Cermak road.

Arthur Dawson, 321 North Harvey avenue, Oak Park, a member of Thomas post, was 91 years old Wednesday, but, handsomely erect, with a face free from lines, he looks less than 70. He served four years with the 15th Illinois volunteers, was in Fremont's Missouri campaign, the battle of Shiloh:—where he was wounded, the siege of Vicksburg, and Sherman's march to the sea. He is one of the few Chicago veterans who took part in the grand review at Washington. He was commissioned a captain in August, 1865, and since the war has been in the wholesale drug business here. He formerly was president of Robert Stevenson & Co.

Dennis W. Finley, 4349 Washington boulevard, a member of Thomas post, is 88. He says he is the "only man left in these parts" who served in both the civil and Indian wars. Mr. Finley ran away from old Fortune school in Chicago when he was 15 to enlist, and served with Bridge's Independent battery, 1st Illinois artillery, 5th corps, and went with Sherman to the sea.

"I'm the last two-vet man living," he declares. "After the civil war I enlisted in the regular army and went out west to fight Indians. I was with Kit Carson two years and then with Custer campaigning out on the plains when the Indians were bad. In '68 I went on the Republican and Solomon rivers in Kansas, quieting the Cheyennes."

James C. Crugom, 7229 Rogers avenue, is at 86 one of the "babies" of Cook county, just as during the civil war he was the "baby" of the 1st Wisconsin infantry, for which he was drummer boy for 49 months. He enlisted at the age of 11 in the regiment in which his father was a private and his 14 year old brother a drum major. An indispensable member of Thomas post, he opens every meeting with the swift drumming that he mastered 75 years ago.

Capt. Charles H. Robinson, 5326 Blackstone avenue, a member of Thomas post, is 93 and a vigorous exponent of outdoor life, with hiking and nature study as his principal recreations. He has been a member of the Prairie club for many years, but recently has ignored organized hikes in favor of long solitary ones of his own. A new species of wild rose, bearing 13 petals, which he discovered in the dunes, was named for him.

He served three enlistments in the civil war, one with the 86th Ohio volunteers and two with the 129th Ohio volunteers. At the close of the war he studied law, became an attorney for the interior department at Washington and later was sent to Iowa as a government pension agent. There he entered politics, serving two terms in the state legislature and one term as mayor of Knoxville, Ia.

Eben Matthews, 90 years old, 4933 Dorchester avenue, born in Yarmouth, Mass., served nine months with the 42d Massachusetts infantry, Company E, taking part in Sheridan's campaign through the Shenandoah valley. He came to Chicago in 1865, and was a member of the Board of Trade from 1881 to 1928. He now is an honorary member.

James C. Thomas, 3981 Drexel boulevard, served two and a half years as regimental commissary sergeant of the 111th Ohio infantry, and fought at Huff's Ferry, the siege of Knoxville, Buzzard's Gap, and Nashville. "For almost three years I hadn't slept in a bed a single night," he recalls, "and my first night in a bed at home I caught cold." Mr. Thomas is 92 years old.

Thomas O'Shaughnessy, 3425 West Adams street, a member of Thomas post, served as drummer for the 44th Massachusetts infantry, Company I, and as recently as 1931 marched in the Memorial day parade, playing "The Girl I Left Behind Me." He was for many years active in Republican politics, and held several appointive federal positions. He was candidate for city treasurer in 1903. As last commander of Julius White post, No. 740, he relinquished its charter in 1929 and became a member of Thomas post.

Henry C. Johnson, 826 East 42d street, is 91. He served as sergeant of Company C, 3d Maine volunteers, and participated in some 20 battles of the Army of the Potomac. Following the war, he went to Boston and learned the machinist's trade, coming to Chicago in 1883. He built the house where he now lives in 1890.

MEN OF OTHER POSTS

John A. Hood, 106 Sixth avenue, Wilmette, is 93. He served three years and three months with the 51st Indiana infantry volunteers, Company D. He was in the battle of Gettysburg, the siege of Vicksburg, and Sherman's march to the sea. After the war he and his bride went to Iowa as pioneers, trading a horse and buggy for eighty acres of land. He came to Chicago in 1919 to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Lenoir Hood Miller of Wilmette.

Charles A. Moses, 1625 South Cuyler avenue, Berwyn, is the last survivor of Gen. William B. Hazen post, No. 7. He served 35 months with the 8th Minnesota infantry, Company A, campaigning under Sulley through the Bad Lands against the Sioux Indians. Later he was ordered to Tennessee and North Carolina.

George Dohl, 1625 Vine street, is 91. Although bedfast, he still is commander of Lyon post, No. 9, which has one other member, John C. Weckler of Glen View. Dohl served three years with the 113th Illinois infantry, Company G. Weckler served from Jan. 18, 1865, to June 24 in the 13th United States infantry.

Dr. Charles O. Brown, 88 years old, is commander of U. S. Grant post, No. 28, which has one other member, Dr. E. L. Graves, 2054 Larrabee street. Dr. Brown, who now lives at 831 South Grove avenue, Oak Park, was chief bugler for the 3d Ohio volunteers. Dr. Graves, 91 and still practising dentistry, served four years in the noted "eagle regiment," the 8th Wisconsin volunteers.

Frank Munsell, 4222 Oakenwald, is 91 and is commander of Abraham Lincoln post, No. 91. He served two enlistments in the war, both with the 2d Wisconsin cavalry, a total of 43 months. He served as horse scout, carrying dispatches for Sheridan and Sherman, the latter on the famous march to the sea. Richard Dodson, 1141 West 71st street, 89 years old, formerly was a member of Lincoln post, but now, blind and feeble, takes part in no G. A. R. activities. He served three years in the 6th Iowa cavalry, coming to Chicago at the end of the war. Until 1920 he worked at the stockyards as weighmaster.

Reason M. John, 3240 Fulton street, who was 92 on May 13, is commander and sole survivor of the W. Lyle Dickey post, No. 105, of Pontiac, but now lives in Chicago. He enlisted in May, 1861, at the age of 17, and served as sergeant of Company E, 139th Illinois volunteers.

William Metzger, 7719 Evans avenue, 89 years old, is the commander and last member of L. H. Drury post, No. 376. He served four years in the 72d Illinois infantry, Company E, and was in the sieges of Vicksburg and the capture of Memphis. He was wounded at Fort Blakely, Ala.

John S. Kauffman, 2306 Collins avenue, Blue Island, is the last survivor of Blue Island post, No. 473, and William P. Turner, 1911 Colfax street, Evanston, is commander and last survivor of the Gen. John A. Logan post, No. 540. Both were in the cavalry, Mr. Kauffman in the 20th Pennsylvania and Mr. Turner, who was a corporal, in the 12th Ohio.

John H. Kievlan, 91 years old, is sole survivor of Phil Sheridan post, No. 615, Oak Park, but he is not commander, for that title belonged to Le Roy A. Simmons, who died on May 9 at the age of 99. Mr. Kievlan, now in Hines hospital, was born in Sligo, Ireland, and came to Chicago in 1853. He served from Feb. 18, 1865, to Sept. 21 in the 153d Illinois infantry and later served in the Spanish-American war. He claims the distinction of being the only Chicagoan to know definitly the cause of the 1871 fire. "I was within fifty feet of Mrs. O'Leary's barn helping my brother move some furniture," he declares, "and it wasn't the cow at all. It was some kids smoking cigarets in the alley who started it."

John Burke, 7804 Emerald avenue, is commander of Wilcox post, No. 668, and Henry Stanley, 1048 West 104th street, is his sole member. Burke served three years and three months in the 108th Illinois volunteers, Company C, fighting at Arkansas Post, Champion Hills, and Fort Gibson. Stanley served in the 187th New York infantry under Grant in the Army of the Potomac.

Dr. C. B. Plattenburg, 360 East Garfield boulevard, is one of two members of Columbia post, No. 706. The other member, William Davis, is living in Arkansas. Dr. Plattenburg, now in a sanitarium, served as ensign in the Mississippi squadron, United States navy. "But," he boasts, "I fit some, even if I was in the navy."

Albert E. Gage, a tall patriot of 90, is the commander of Old Glory post, No. 798. He served in the 37th Illinois volunteers and says he was under fire alone in advance of the army at the battle of Pea Ridge. He later saw two years' service of guerrilla warfare. He lives at Hotel La Salle and is 91 years old.

William McGuffage, who is 95; Isaac Adler, who is 94, and John L. Nelson, who is 87, are the other three members of Old Glory post. McGuffage, who lives at 6737 Cornell avenue, served in the 5th New York infantry, Company F, and later was a member of Duryea's Zouaves. Mr. Adler, 7419 Paxton avenue, not only is a civil war veteran but believes he is the last survivor of the firemen of the 1871 fire. Mr. Nelson, 4854 Wabansia avenue, born in Sweden, enlisted in the 141st Illinois volunteers, Company F, when he was 13. He came to Chicago in 1872 as an electrical engineer. He now is critically ill with a paralytic stroke.

W. H. Luther, 1225 Winona street, is a comrade at large. He served a year and a half, first with the 147th Illinois infantry and later with the 47th Illinois, taking part in Sherman's march to the sea. After the war he was an engineer for the North Western railway for 50 years, and also owner of a grain elevator business in Glyn Ellyn. He served on the village board of Glen Ellyn for 25 years and on the school board for 15 years. He is 91.

Edward Scharenburg, 5142 Strong street, is, at 95, the commander and sole member of Benjamin F. Butler post, No. 754. He enlisted in the United States cavalry, serving 3½ years in the army of the Potomac, six months of it being spent in a prison camp at Staunton, Va. After the war he came to Chicago and worked first as a horse car conductor, later in the county recorder's office. He was a member of the Jefferson Park village board before it was annexed to Chicago. At 81 he took his first plane ride, at 92 he mowed his lawn, and at 95 he is still active.

Four of Heroes Are Colored.

Cook county has four colored veterans, all formerly members of the John E. Brown post, but now comrades at large. The are James Lewis, 4409 Federal street; James Brown, 3422 Indiana avenue; William Scott, 2352 West Lake street, and Ralph Rice, 4517 South Michigan avenue. Lewis, 91 years old, served in the Third United States cavalry. Brown, 104 and an ex-slave from Maryland, served in the 29th United States infantry, Company D. Scott served in the 125th United States infantry, Company D, while Rice, who is 91, served in the 96th, Company I.

UNAFFILIATED VETERANS

There are five other veterans living in Cook county, who are affiliated with no Cook county post. Among these is John Doane, 1023 Dakin street, who will be color bearer in the parade today. Doane, 89, served with the 23d Illinois infantry, Company I, and is a member of the Rockford G. A. R. post.

Jacob Guller, 1526 East 59th street, has been living in Chicago five years, but retains his membership in the Decatur post. He served in the 16th New York artillery, Battery F, and was wounded at the bombardment of Fort Fisher. He is 91 and was a dry goods merchant at Raymond for 45 years.

Isaac Newton Gill, 6142 Evans avenue, came to Chicago 14 years ago from Vienna, Ill. He enlisted in the 144th Indiana volunteers, Company G, when he was 14 and served only six months. He is 89 and a retired contractor.

Peter Engstrom, 7448 North Artesian avenue, moved to Chicago in 1929 from Clay Center, Kas., where he retains his post membership. He served one year in the 148th Illinois volunteers, Company I. Born in Sweden, he came to Illinois when 6, crossing the Atlantic in 11 weeks and three days in a sailing vessel. He is 89, but will not be in the parade today because of a broken hip, caused when he was struck on April 9 by what he terms a "hit and run pedestrian."

Ezra Peebles, 6707 South Halsted street, formerly a member of St. Anne post, No. 25, also is a comrade at large. He is 91 and served three years with the 113th Illinois infantry, Company B. He fought under Sherman and Grant and took part in the siege of Vicksburg.

Visiting Veterans to Parade.

Various other veterans, members of Cook county posts who live in neighboring counties, will be in the parade today. Among these are Charles W. Beam of Mendota, chaplain of Thomas post; Silas Nichols of Waukegan; Capt. R. D. Parker of Downers Grove, and J. C. Trask of Elmhurst.

Cornelius H. Clark, 2242 Kedvale avenue, a member of Thomas post, is in Davenport, Ia. Hiram M. Pense, also a Thomas man, is in Detroit. Killian Inners, the last survivor of Washington post, No. 573, is in a soldiers' home in Milwaukee.

Typical of the spirit of these frail old veterans is the letter received from W. W. Wright of Metropolis, a comrade at large who is visiting his son, William H. Wright, 531 Hinman avenue, Evanston.

"I have decided to appear at Memorial hall on the 30th," he wrote in a trailing hand. "I can't march, but trust it will not be impossible for me to be on the invalid roll. I feel I must participate."

". . . so long as the light and warmth of life remain in us," ordered Gen. Logan. And the veterans, soldiers still, obey.

DECORATION DAY

By Henry W. Longfellow.
(In 1882.)

Sleep, comrades, sleep and rest
On this Field of the Grounded Arms,
Where foes no more molest,
Nor sentry's shot alarms!

Ye have slept on the ground before,
And started to your feet
At the cannon's sudden roar,
Or the drum's redoubling beat.

But in this camp of Death
No sound your slumber breaks;
Here is no fevered breath,
No wound that bleeds and aches.

All is repose and peace,
Untrampled lies the sod;
The shouts of battle cease,
It is the Truce of God!

Rest, comrades, rest and sleep!
The thoughts of men shall be
As sentinels to keep
Your rest from danger free.

Your silent tents of green
We deck with fragrant flowers;
Yours has the suffering been,
The memory shall be ours.

DRIVER'S BRIDE IN TEARS, BUT HE GETS JAIL TERM

Gorman Sentences Eight in Safety Drive.

A weeping bride and the "doctor's orders" were some of the excuses which did not forestall jail sentences for reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, or leaving the scene of an accident yesterday before Municipal Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the Safety court. Judge Gorman imposed eight jail sentences, raising to 111 the number of motorists who have been sentenced to jail for disregard of life and limb since he began sitting in the court May 1.

Tony Chott, 22 years old, 4431 Union avenue, appeared in court with his young bride of a few months on his arm. He was charged with reckless driving. Police testified that on March 24 he passed on the left side of a street car at Damen avenue and 47th street, knocked down two high school girls, and injured both. Chott's lawyer pointed to the bride, who was in tears, and urged that his client, by pleading guilty and confessing his offense, deserved probation.

Turns Down Probation Plea.

"There is no probation in this court," said Judge Gorman. "This man knew he was taking a chance with some one's life when he violated the law. Five days in the county jail."

Terrell Browne, 35 years old, 4244 Kenmore avenue, a WPA worker, was sentenced to five days in the county jail for reckless driving. An accident prevention squad arrested him Thursday evening after he had driven over the curb at Grace street and Lake Shore drive.

They said that he had been drinking and was weaving in trafic, endangering other drivers. Browne admitted that he had had several glasses of beer, but asserted that he drank them on his doctor's orders.

"The doctor didn't order you to drink and then drive an automobile," said Judge Gorman.

Charles Tucker, 38 years old, 850 Waveland avenue, was sentenced to thirty days in jail for leaving the scene of the accident. Police arrested him early yesterday after, they testified, he had struck a car parked at 4207 North Kedzie avenue and sped on without stopping.

Gets Two Sentences.

Jason Deslive, 54 years old, 6242 Magnolia avenue, received two ten day sentences, for driving while intoxicated and for leaving the scene of an accident. He struck a parked car at Thorndale avenue and Broadway Thursday night, and drove several blocks before submitting to arrest, police charged.

The lightest sentence of the day went to Louis M. Mascher, 22 years old, 132 West Madison street, Oak Park. Patrolman R. J. Williams of the Chicago park police testified that when Mascher drove onto the sidewalk in Humboldt park to pass a barricade, a woman on the sidewalk with a small child had to throw the child into an adjoining lawn to save her from being struck.

"I didn't use an ounce of reason," Mascher told the judge. "I deserve to be punished."

Out in Time to Work.

Judge Gorman agreed to Mascher's objections that sentences of 30 days or 15 days might be too severe. When Mascher said that he was working, the judge ordered a three day sentence, telling him that he would be released in time to go to work Monday.

Wilbur Cummings, 27 years old, 1539 West Polk street, was sentenced to ten days in jail for reckless driving. He struck a parked car at Jackson boulevard and St. Louis avenue. Frank Winkler, 21 years old, 1819 Bissell street, got five days in jail for reckless driving, on testimony that he drove through a stop sign and struck another car. Ike Ware, 52 years old, 4711 Indiana avenue, a colored miner, was sentenced to five days' imprisonment for reckless driving in heavy trafic Thursday at Oakwood boulevard and South Park way.

Woman Fined in Oak Park.

Mrs. Emily Hodges, 35 years old, 431 Marengo avenue, Forest Park, a divorcée, was fined $100 and costs for driving while intoxicated yesterday by Justice of the Peace Martin H. McGrath in Oak Park. Justice McGrath and police said that her case was the first in their memory in which a woman had been arrested in Oak Park, a dry suburb, for driving while intoxicated. Mrs. Hodges was charged with driving her automobile into a parked car on May 14.

GETS YEAR IN MORALS CASE.

Oscar Nelson, 64 years old, 6703 Oliphant avenue, was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell and fined $200 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by Judge Eugene L. McGarry yesterday.

Predicts Death of 270 Today in Auto Accident

Two hundred and seventy lives will be lost in the nation's Memorial day trafic today, R. L. Forney, chief statistitian of the National Safety council, declared yesterday.

His prediction was based on figures compiled in past years and was issued with the reminder that Memorial day, which annually brings a heavy increase in motor vehicle deaths, occurs this year on Saturday, which ordinarily has 35 per cent more accidents than a week day.

Forney estimated that the double holiday would cost 29 more lives than the average for Memorial day. If, as the weather man promises, today is fair and moderately warm, at least 20,000,000 of the nation's 22,500,000 registered automobiles will be out on the streets and highways, ready to deal death and injury unless drivers observe unusual precautions, Forney said.

Killed Near Taylorville.

First of the holiday fatalities was the death of Carl H. Blase, 36 years old, 5427 North Christiana avenue, who was killed on route 48, near Taylorville, Ill., last evening. Driving with his wife, Elsie, to Wood River, Ill., to spend the week-end with relatives, Blase swerved his automobile into a ditch to avoid striking another car driven by Charles Weatherford of Taylorville. Mrs. Blase was slightly injured.

Mrs. Christina McMillan, 64 years old, 7223 Woodlawn avenue, died in the Burnside hospital early yesterday of injuries suffered Thursday when the car in which she was riding crashed into an abutment of the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad at 87th street and Eggleston avenue.

Mrs. McMillan, in a car driven by G. J. Johnston, 8154 South Marshfield avenue, was returning home from the Evergreen Park cemetery, where she had placed flowers on the grave of her husband, George, who died several years ago.

Dies in County Hospital.

Mrs. Sarah Graber, 60 years old, 1434 Polk street, died in the County hospital last night of injuries suffered Thursday when she was struck by an automobile at Ashland boulevard and Polk street. The driver, Craig Stevens, 40 years old, of Hebron, Ind., was charged with reckless driving by the Maxwell street police.

Albert Rzemikiewicz, 26 years old, 3040 West 40th street, was killed last night when he was struck at 40th street and Albany avenue by an automobile driven by Frank Ucherek, 26 years old, 4829 South Tripp avenue.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 402 persons had been killed in motor vehicle accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. In the same period 315 were killed and Funeral for Train Victims.

A mass funeral service will be held in the chapel of St. Andrew's church in Calumet City at 11 a. m. today for the four women and two children killed when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad train at the Michigan City road crossing in Calumet City Thursday.

After the services the six will be buried in the Holy Cross cemetery in Calumet City, beside the members of their families whose graves they were on their way to decorate when they were killed.

The six were Miss Marie Trenczynski, 22 years old, driver of the car; Miss Regina Luczyk, 24; Miss Luczyk's sister, Mrs. Eleanor Kunka, 29; Mrs. Kunka's son, Daniel, 3; Miss Lillian Cichy, 24, and Miss Cichy's niece, Patsy Fleming, 2. All six lived in Calumet City.

An inquest into the death was continued yesterday until Friday to enable members of the train crew to attend.

The Chicago Motor club, which conducted its own investigation into the tragedy, recommended that state laws be enacted to provide for the elimination of trees and shrubs within 30 feet from all such dangerous traffic points. The club's investigators determined that Miss Trempczynski, who was driving, was unable to see the approaching train because of the foliage of bushes and trees.

In the last six years 1,074 deaths have occurred at railroad grade crossings in Illinois, club officials said, 39 of them in the Chicago metropolitan area.

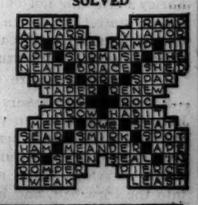
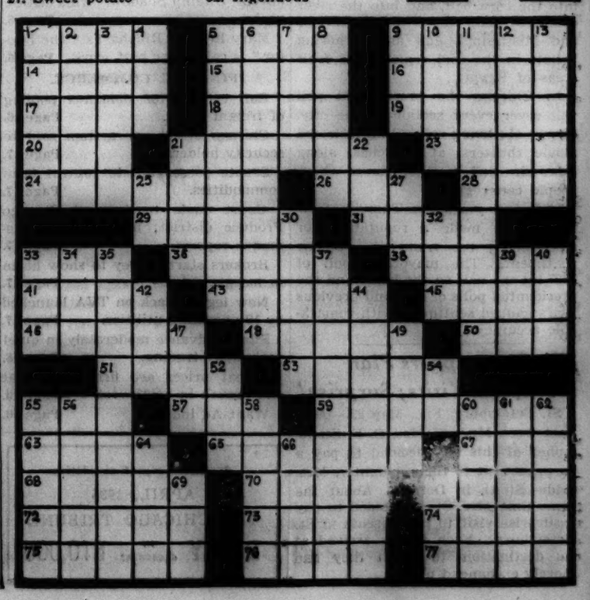
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





. A. R. GOES BACK 2 YEARS TO TWO OLDIERS IN TENT

linois Is Home State of Veterans' Society.

Seventy-two years ago last Feb- ary a ragged Union chaplain and a rn surgeon huddled in their tent tside the little city of Meridian, ss., and mused upon the bonds of rtime friendship.

"You know," mused the Rev. Wil- m J. Rutledge, chaplain of the 14th linois infantry, "we should get up me form of association that would eserve the friendships we have rmed here——"

"And the memories of our com- on trials and dangers," finished aj. Benjamin F. Stephenson, regi- ental surgeon.

"Yes," said Rutledge. "That's it."

So G. A. R. Is Born.

With these casual words, spoken two Illinois soldiers as Sherman arched them the 150 miles from cksburg to Meridian in the bitter inter of 1864, arose that mighty or- anization, the Grand Army of the epublic, which had 409,489 members its peak in 1891—and now has less an 5,000.

It was not until two years after e Meridian expedition, however, at Chaplain Rutledge and Dr. tephenson proceeded to act upon eir tent-made agreement. Then in arch, 1866, they met at Springfield d, pledged to secrecy, drew up a tual.

Within four months the secret ciety had been organized in thir- en states. In November, 1866, the eterans held their first national en- ampment at Indianapolis. In Illi- ois, the mother state, interest was so gh that posts were organized in al- ost every hamlet, until, suddenly, a isrupting note crept in—politics. s a result, although the national rder continued to expand, all Illi- ois posts except one at Rockford had isbanded by 1869.

32,984 Members at Peak.

Not until ten years later was re- rganization definitly under way. By 885 there were 420 posts in Illinois, ith 20,015 members, and in 1891 the rder reached its peak with 32,984 embers in 620 posts.

Today, however, with its founders ong in their graves and with its oungest members already looking ackward at their 85th birthdays, the 2,984 Illinois members have dwindled o 314—only 36 of whom appeared at he 70th annual state encampment at Malone last week. Of the 620 posts, harter after charter has been relin- uished as the last member died, ntil now there are only 105 posts— nd of these, 48 have only one member.

SEIZE LOTTERY TICKETS IN RAID; ARREST THREE

Several thousand lottery tickets and the plates from which many of them were engraved were seized yesterday by the Central police in a raid on room 1116 at 542 South Dearborn street. Three men arrested in the office gave their names as David Shapiro, 30 years old, 2751 North Troy street; his brother, Julian, 22, of the same address, and Howard Bassett, 26, of Peoria. They were held for questioning by department of justice agents.

Telegrams, letters and receipts found in the office indicated the place was a wholesale distributing center for agents in several cities. The tickets, ranging in price from $2.50 to 50 cents, provided opportunities to bet on the outcome of the Louis-Schmeling fight, the Epsom Downs Derby in England, the Arlington Classic, and baseball games. Others were number games based on the daily United States treasury balance.

Police said the presence of the engraved plates indicated many of the tickets were counterfeits.

NIGHT WATCHMEN GIVEN 'DIPLOMAS' BY FIRE SCHOOL

Two hundred night watchmen, members of the first class in the newly created Chicago fire prevention school organized by Fire Marshal M. J. Corrigan, received their certificates of merit at a "graduation" ceremony yesterday in the auditorium of the Chicago board of underwriters, 175 West Jackson boulevard. The certificates were presented by George E. Graves, chief of the fire prevention bureau and head of the school.

The purpose of the school is to instruct watchmen in the methods of preventing fire losses. They are told how to turn in fire alarms and are given directions for the use of fire extinguishers, sprinklers, automatic fire protection equipment, and instruction regarding explosives, chemicals, and special hazards.

A second class, for which enrollment already is completed, will begin June 1 in the school's headquarters at 720 Sabor street.

Atty. Arthur L. Schwartz Retires from Glenn Firm

The remaining members of the firm, which is headed by Otis F. Glenn, Republican nominee for United States senator, will take new quarters in the Field building, 135 South La Salle street.

Hollywood, Cal., May 29.—[Special.]—Warren Osbourn, a truck driver, waited in the office of H. S. Gould, motion picture executive. And waited. Then he grew tired and picked up the telephone. ASK IERC TO KEEP UP PAYMENTS TO BONUS VETERANS

Board Debates Cutting 22,000 from Rolls.

Spokesmen for organized veterans yesterday told the Illinois Emergency Relief commission that they are opposed to dropping from the rolls 22,000 veterans who they said will shortly receive an average of $500 in soldiers' bonus. Earlier in its meeting the IERC had been forced by a shortage of funds to order a 12 per cent cut in family relief budgets for June.

The commission delayed making a decision on the question of whether an exception shall be made for the veterans to the general rule of reducing or stopping relief payments to a family which receives new income. The veterans are to receive approximately $11,000,000. That amount therefore would be saved the state if they left the relief rolls and spent their bonus money only for living expenses on the IERC budget scale. However, several arguments were advanced that the money should go to purchase other than bare necessities of life.

Legion Chairman Quizzed.

"Is it your philosophy that these bonds should not be used for current living expenses of the veterans' families?" asked Wilfred S. Reynolds, adviser to the chairman of the IERC. "After all, the IERC is commissioned solely to sustain life among dependent families."

Lawrence J. Fenlon, state chairman of the committee on employment and relief of the American Legion, replied that there is "a little difference between the bonus and the money the average person gets." Fenlon declared that recovery would be accelerated if the veterans on relief spent the money for other than absolute necessities.

"How would we answer general complaints that veterans on relief rolls were buying new automobiles, new radios, and new furniture?" asked Executive Secretary Leo M. Lyons of the IERC.

Planning to Buy Cars.

"I'm a banker in a small town," said one IERC member, Omar Wright of Belvidere. "I know the veterans are making arrangements to buy cars. I know how much criticism would be leveled against this commission if veterans on relief went driving down the street in new automobiles in my town."

Omar A. Cooper, vice commander of the Veterans' Relief commission, said it was not the intention of congress when voting the bonus payment to have relief taken away from the recipients. He said that when $140,000,000 in bonds is paid to Illinois veterans half of it will be spent immediately, producing more than $2,000,000 in state sales tax. Many veterans will leave the relief rolls of their own accord, he said, but the IERC should not force them to do so.

Keep WPA Jobs.

An additional 14,000 veterans are employed by the Works Progress administration, having been taken off the relief rolls. They will not lose their WPA jobs when they receive the bonus. However, WPA has no rule as to outside income received by its ex-relief personnel.

The commission had allocated $4,680,320 to its county units for June, but since only $4,161,522 is available, from one-third of the 3 cent sales tax, from a special appropriation made by the legislature earlier in May, and from local funds, family relief budgets will be reduced 12 per cent on the average.

William H. Sexton, a commission member, won support for his suggestion that Gov. Horner be notified of the deficit and of what Sexton described as the chaotic conditions which will face Illinois after July 1, when township supervisors are scheduled to take over relief administration.

OFFERS TO CUT GAS BILLS; FINED.

William Williams, 57 years old, 1721 North Albany avenue, who was arrested Wednesday on complaints that he represented himself as a gas company employé and offered to reduce service bills for a fee, was fined $35 on a disorderly conduct charge yesterday by Judge Justin F. McCarthy.

Weinel, a battalion commander, and for a time commander of the midshipmen regiment, received a total multiple of 907.61 for the four year term.

Midshipman W. B. Near of Wauwatosa, Wis., with a multiple of 905.05, stood second. Midshipman J. A. Brown of Nashville, Tenn., took third place with a multiple of 897.88.

Crashes Into Another Car.

The car of Nicpan rolled over a bridge which separates the Edgebrook golf course from the academy grounds. It crashed first into the towing car, sidewiped it, then plunged almost head on into the side of the hay rack.

The frail structure collapsed and all the celebrants were hurtled to the ground. The Nicpan car, however, continued its career and crashed into an automobile behind it. In this car rode Werner Peterson, 2325 North Sawyer avenue, and Miss Roberta Gilbert, 7237 South Francisco avenue, who were slightly hurt.

Hillard Surzynsky, 20 years old, 5531 North Parkside avenue, the driver of the towing car, also was slightly hurt.

AIRPLANE STOLEN HERE IMPOUNDED IN OWNERS' FIGHT

The ownership of a Laird biplane flown from the Chicago airport to Peoria on Thursday by two men who represented themselves as prospective purchasers appeared to be a mystery yesterday.

In Peoria, where the ship was impounded yesterday under a writ of replevin, Fred Bohart, amateur pilot and tavern owner, declared he bought the plane six months ago, and that he obtained the writ to protect his interests.

In Chicago H. S. Wagner and R. A. Vandervere, young pilots of South Bend, Ind., declared they were the owners. They said they bought the plane from A. J. Hartman, manager of the Burlington, Ia., airport last November. They were allowing the supposed buyers to "try it out" when the latter flew away with it.

Maj. George Vest, supervising inspector for the bureau of air commerce, ordered the ship "grounded" until the title dispute is settled.

Roof of Highland Park Home Destroyed by Fire

Damage estimated at $2,500 was caused yesterday by a fire which destroyed the roof on the home of Dr. Robert J. C. Hamilton at 539 Forrest avenue, Highland Park. The blaze shot up to the roof after Mrs. Hamilton had lighted the wood in a fireplace in the living room. The Hamiltons have a town home at 6318 Winthrop avenue, Chicago, and had only recently purchased the suburban house.

BLONDE SLAYER GOES FREE; HIDES AMONG FRIENDS

Held Insane on Night of Shooting, Sane Now.

Betty Fobert Martin, 32 years old, platinum blonde hat check girl, who was acquitted yesterday by a jury in Criminal court of slaying her husband, Andrew, was in seclusion last night among friends. The jury found that Mrs. Martin was temporarily insane on the night of April 9 when she shot her husband to death after finding him in a south side tavern with another woman. She is sane now, however, the jurors decided.

Haggard and disheveled, Mrs. Martin was under severe strain as the verdict was read at 10:20 a. m. The jury, which received the case at 4 p. m. Thursday, had wrangled noisily until midnight without reaching a verdict and was ordered locked up by Judge Cornelius Harrington. The defendant spent a restless night and seemed startled when the jurors reached their decision soon after resuming deliberations yesterday.

Misses Import of Verdict.

Because she is hard of hearing, Mrs. Martin did not understand at first that she had been acquitted. Then an attorney shouted in her ear: "You're free, Betty! You're free!"

She rose uncertainly, and bailifs assisted her to an anteroom. But when they escorted her on to her cell, where she was to await an official release order, Mrs. Martin burst into tears.

"I won't believe I'm free until I'm out of jail," she wailed.

A few minutes later, however, her tears were dried when she received a note from her attorneys, George Crane and James M. Burke, explaining the verdict and the reason for her detention.

Then the release order arrived and Mrs. Martin was shown to a jail exit. There she was met by Mrs. Minnie McDaniels, owner of a barbecue stand at 100 Asbury avenue, Evanston, and they left for an unannounced destination, supposedly Hammond. It was in Mrs. McDaniels' home that Betty was living when she met the husband, a former handbook operator, whom she killed.

Story that Won Freedom.

The Martins were married late last year and spent their honeymoon in the Philippines. There, Mrs. Martin testified in her trial, they ran short of funds and her husband tried to induce her to become a prostitute on the streets of Manila. Later acts of Martin, she said, caused her to decide to denounce him in the presence of his friends, then kill herself. She borrowed a pistol and went to a tavern at 938 East 43d street, but when Martin entered the place with another woman she killed him instead of herself.

The verdict was a compromise, four jurors holding that the defendant deserved at least the stigma of insanity for her act, and not exoneration.

After being dismissed, the Martin jurors filed silently into a large room where sat about 30 veniremen who had done jury duty in other courts in the building and were awaiting new assignments. As the 12 walked in the veniremen burst into loud boos. The jurors grinned sheepishly.

SUIT ASKS $10,872 FROM LAND FIRM ON FRAUD CHARGE

Earl W. Thompson of Downers Grove, manufacturer of strings for musical instruments, yesterday filed suit in the Circuit court against the Resources Corporation International, 180 North Michigan avenue. He asks an accounting and the return of $10,872 which he says he invested in the concern. In his bill Thompson charges that the corporation is really a syndicate to defraud investors through the sale of Mexican land.

Harper S. Hoover, chairman of the board of the syndicate; William L. Kellogg, president; Arnold Joerns, vice president, and the United Mining company, a related concern, also are named defendants.

Thompson charges that the syndicate sold shares in Illinois without qualifying under the blue sky law. He asserts that the land which the syndicate's prospectuses assert is worth $150,000,000 was actually bought for 30 to 50 cents an acre and sold at a profit to the syndicate by Hoover and Joerns. No stockholders' meetings have been held for three years and the officers, Thompson charges, have been using the money for other purposes than purchasing land.

Claim to Half of 'Miser' Kelly's Estate Dismissed

Another claim for a share of the $140,000 estate left by James Thomas Kelly, so-called "flophouse miser," was dismissed yesterday. Mrs. Hannah B. Andell of Williams Bay, Wis., based her claim to a half of the estate on an oral agreement she said she had with Kelly in 1911. He stumbled into her camp near Twin Lakes, Wis., in the winter of that year, she said, and after she had nursed him through pneumonia he promised her half his estate. But Judge Edgar Thoma of Du Page county, sitting in County court here, ruled Mrs. Andell's claim lacked sufficient proof.

The party was headed by Lord Wolmer, member of parliament and the son of the earl of Selborne. With him were Maj. R. A. B. Smith, Harold Hilton Drew Anderson, Albert Y. Cowen, and Halford Walter Lupton Reddish.

Pursued by Divorced Husband

EX-MATE BEATEN BY ANN HARDING IN RACE FOR SHIP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

QUEBEC, May 29.—Ann Harding tonight completely outsmarted her divorced husband, Harry Bannister, in his attempt to prevent her from taking their child Jane, 7 years old, to Europe. She boarded the Europe bound liner Duchess of Atholl with her daughter in a surprise stratagem only a half hour after Bannister arrived by plane from New York to stop them from sailing tomorrow on the Empress of Australia.

The film actress left the Chateau Frontenac hotel by a freight elevator at 7:15 p. m., only a few minutes before Bannister arrived in the main lobby to register. The actress' lawyer whisked her from the hotel to the St. Lawrence river water front, where a tender was hired.

Catches Up With Liner.

The tender caught up with the Duchess of Atholl, which had sailed earlier, in midstream, and Miss Harding, her daughter, the nurse, and the screen star's manager, Harry Eddington, and his wife, went aboard.

The lawyer returned to the hotel, but did not notify the management that the others in his party had left. They were still registered as guests.

Bannister, in the belief that his former wife was not planning to sail until tomorrow, announced he would seek a writ tomorrow to prevent her and their child from leaving. He grimly announced he would sail with them if necessary and continue his fight in England for the custody of his daughter.

Denies Plan to Get Money.

"Reports that I am trying to balk my wife's plans in order to obtain money are absolutely untrue," he said. "I love my daughter and I want her. I believe if I permit her to accompany Miss Harding to England I will lose her forever. She would never return."

Custody of the child was awarded Miss Harding at the time of the divorce four years ago, but it was stipulated that the girl should visit her father at stated intervals.

DISPLAY FLAGS AT HALF STAF UP TO NOON TODAY

The flag should be displayed at half staf from sunrise until noon today in observance of Memorial day, according to the official code of flag etiquet. From noon until sunset the flag should be flown at full staf, "for the nation lives," the code says, "and the flag is the symbol of the living nation."

When flown at half staf the flag should be hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to the half staf position, for the flag is never raised to half staf, but is lowered to it.

The G. A. R. Memorial association has requested that the public today refrain from placing flags on the graves of any one except a veteran. Blue stemmed stick flags, the official memorial emblem, have been furnished by the association for the 20,000 veterans' graves in Cook county.

JUDGE IS TARGET FOR BUCKSHOT ON WAY FROM COURT

Raleigh, Miss., May 29.—(AP)—Circuit Judge Edgar M. Lane, 54, militant Smith county jurist, was shot and seriously wounded near the courthouse today. He charged his assailant was a member of a family which bore him a grudge.

The jurist was struck in the hip and groin by buckshot. He told officers Frank Bruce, about 60, one of whose sons was killed by the judge's brother in a case described as self-defense last December and another in a voting precinct shooting when Judge Lane was reelected last summer, fired the charge.

The judge said Bruce had threatened him.

Sheriff J. M. Martin said Bruce escaped and that he was conducting a search.

JUDGE RITTER TAKES IMPEACHMENT CASE TO COURT OF CLAIMS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Halsted L. Ritter of Miami, Fla., ousted federal judge, attacked in the Court of Claims today the constitutionality of his conviction by the senate on house impeachment charges.

In an unprecedented action, Ritter filed claim for his salary since April 1, contending the senate's verdict against him was "illegal, arbitrary, unjust, unconstitutional, and void."

He filed a sixty-six page petition with the court. The former judge contended he was acquitted of six specific charges brought by house articles of impeachment, and that on a seventh, an omnibus charge, he was convicted.

He insisted no specific charge was made by the final article, which accused him of such conduct as "to bring his court into scandal and disrepute."

STRAY DOGS BITE 7 SCHOOL PUPILS AT FLAG RAISING

Seven school children were bitten and nearly 400 others were thrown into a panic yesterday when two stray dogs ran through their ranks during Memorial day flag raising ceremonies in the yard of the Bennett Elementary school, 10115 Prairie avenue. The injured children were sent home for treatment by their family physicians.

One of the dogs was captured near the school by the Burnside police and was taken to the dog pound for observation to determine if it had rabies. Police learned that the other dog, owned by James McCullough, 9711 Calumet avenue, had followed his son, James Jr., 7 years old, to school. Police seized it later at the McCullough home and took it to the pound.

The children bitten are Leonard Peterson, 8 years old, 25 East 99th place; June Shiro, 13, of 10412 Calumet avenue; Mildred Kohnke, 13, of 10516 Edbrooke avenue; Charles Berman, 10, of 10823 Calumet avenue; William Larson, 11, of 9925 South Michigan avenue; Ronald Swanson, 10, of 10727 Calumet avenue, and La Verne Meicer, 8, of 10435 South Michigan avenue.

COWBOY ROMEO GETS 30 YEARS AS A KIDNAPER

William Scott [Buster] Bartlett, romantic minded cowboy who was arrested in Chicago on May 21 with Miss Corlee Lockhart, 16 years old, daughter of a Colorado sheep rancher, pleaded guilty yesterday at Sterling, Colo., to kidnaping the girl and was sentenced to 30 years in the state penitentiary. Testimony in the case showed that Bartlett, who insisted while here that he intended to marry the girl, already has a wife and child who live at Fort Morgan, Colo.

SAGE FOUNDATION OFFICIAL URGES CURB ON COURT

Fears Fascism as Result of Opposition.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 29.—(AP)—Curbing of the United States Supreme court's power to review social legislation was proposed tonight by Mary Van Kleeck, Russell Sage Foundation executive. An amendment to the act creating the court would, she said, accomplish this end.

Such action, she told the National Conference of Social Work, would "prevent the onslaughts upon Democracy which are made by the Supreme court in declaring social legislation unconstitutional." An amendment to the judiciary act could be passed immediately by congress whereas an amendment to the constitution would take several years, she held.

Would Withdraw Many Laws.

Her proposal would withdraw child labor, regulating hours and wages, social insurance and similar laws passed by a majority in congress from review by court.

Fascism threatens in America, Miss Van Kleeck said, because of the "need for continued relief and the ruthless opposition of big business toward governmental social service."

She praised President Roosevelt for "personifying the people's hopes and incurring the bitter criticism of financial and business interests," but said the administration has been unable to fulfill these hopes.

Sees Politics in Security Act.

The social security act may bring disappointing results because of "the obvious political character" of many state appointments to the administrative positions under it, Frederick Dewhurst of the social science research council said.

Prof. James H. S. Bossard of the University of Pennsylvania told the American Birth Control league that birth control must be extended to the rural sections.

The national conference of social work tonight elected Miss Edith Abbott, dean of the graduate school of social service administration at the University of Chicago, its 1936-37 president. She was unopposed and succeeded Msgr. Robert F. Keegan, executive director of Catholic charities in New York.

SENATORS DEFY ROOSEVELT AND CUT TAX RAISES

Levy on Surpluses Set at Flat 7 Per Cent.

the corporation income tax rates by boosting each bracket 3 per cent in lieu of permitting a $1,000 exemption on corporations with net income up to $15,000, achieving the same result both with respect to revenue and favoring small corporations. The present rates range from 12½ to 15 per cent and under the senate bill they will be 15½ per cent on income up to $2,000, 16 per cent on the next $13,000, 17 per cent on the next $25,000, and 18 per cent on all over $40,000.

The treasury estimated that a 3 per cent boost all along the way in the corporation income tax rates would produce 215 millions, but the senate committee and its own tax experts, including Lovell H. Parker, chief of staf of the joint committee on internal revenue, placed the estimate at 302 millions. Senators accused the treasury officials of deliberately under-estimating the yield in order to win support of the President's plan.

Besides this $302,000,000 estimate, the total of $707,000,000 estimated for the senate bill is arrived at as follows:

7 per cent tax on undistributed earnings	$222,000,000
4 per cent normal tax on dividends	90,000,000
1 per cent increase in surtax rates	50,000,000
Import tax on fish oils and other fats	10,000,000
Graduated income tax rates designed to induce liquidations.	33,000,000

Insurance Companies Exempt.

Banks, general trust companies, and insurance companies, under the senate bill, will pay the same income taxes as corporations but will be exempt from the 7 per cent undistributed earnings tax. Corporations in bankruptcy or receivership will not be subjected to the undistributed earnings tax unless it can be shown that funds are available for distribution to stockholders after requirements of creditors have been met.

Senator Byrd, who led the opposition to the Roosevelt-Tugwell scheme but will vote for the senate bill, declared:

"The best that can be said of the tax bill as reported is that it is infinitely less harmful than the one the house offered. If we continue to spend huge sums in excess of current revenues we must continue to increase taxes. What we should do is to reduce expenditures and avoid the necessity of new tax burdens."

EMMA T. GARY'S ESTATE SHRINKS; LACKS ART FUND

New York, May 29. — [Special.] — How a shrinkage in the value of the estate of Mrs. Emma T. Gary, widow of Elbert H. Gary, former chairman of the United States Steel corporation, wiped out her property to such an extent that there was nothing left for a residuary bequest given to the Metropolitan Museum of Art to maintain an art collection left to the museum was disclosed by a decision of the Appellate division today.

The court decided, 5 to 1, that the Metropolitan may accept the gift on a conditional basis. The case may go to the Court of Appeals.

At the time Mrs. Gary made her will, in 1928, leaving her collection of jewels and art to the Metropolitan and directing that no part of either collection was to be sold if the gift was accepted, her estate was sufficiently large to provide a residue of $358,000.

When she died, in April 1934, the shrinkage was so great that there was only a sufficient sum to pay half the general legacies, leaving no residue.

The Metropolitan, in view of the disappearance of the residue, agreed to accept the gift on condition that the jewels, worth $475,000, be sold by the executor to provide payment of all bequests and a sufficient residue for the maintenance of the art collection, appraised at $35,600.

CHILE CHEERS 4 U. S. CRUISERS ON GOOD WILL VISIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANTIAGO, Chile, May 29.—Four United States cruisers anchored in Valparaiso bay today on a five day good will visit to Chile—the first in six years. They are the Chicago, Houston, Chester, and Salt Lake City, led by Rear Admiral Thomas Hart on the flagship Chicago. Officers and men of the ships will be entertained daily at official receptions.

Thousands of persons lined the shore at Valparaiso and cheered as salutes were exchanged between the forts and the ships. Special trains will transport a delegation of American officers to Santiago to be received by President Arturo Alessandri.

An impressive ceremony is scheduled in Valparaiso tomorrow morning, when a delegation of Americans will visit the Protestant cemetery to deposit floral tributes on the graves of 58 sailors of the United States frigate Essex, commanded by Capt. David Porter, which fought and held at bay the two British men-o'-war, Cherub and Phoebe, on Feb. 28, 1814.

ASKS SEARCH FOR MISSING BOY.

Mrs. Marie Hughes, 6141 Kimbark avenue, yesterday asked the Woodlawn police to search for her son, Gerald, 12 years old, who has been missing since Thursday morning.

EFFECT OF SURTAX INCREASES

The effect of the senate committee's surtax increases is shown in the following table. The first figure, $180 surtax, is arrived at in the following manner: Surtax on $4,000 to $6,000, the first bracket, is 4 per cent. Four per cent of $2,000 is $80. Surtax on $6,000 to $8,000 is now 5 per cent. Five per cent on $2,000 is $100. Added, they make a total of $180 on a net income of $8,000. Increase in surtax from 5 to 6 per cent in $6,000 to $8,000 bracket adds $20 to the $180 figure.

The surtaxes shown in the table are cumulative, figured in each case on a difference of $2,000. If your income lies between the figures quoted, in uneven numbers, interpolation will be made simple by dividing the bracket difference by 2,000 and adding the result to the amount of tax shown in the preceding bracket.

$ 6,000 to $ 8,000	5	6	$ 180	$ 200
8,000 to 10,000	6	7	300	340
10,000 to 12,000	7	8	440	500
12,000 to 14,000	8	9	600	680
14,000 to 16,000	9	10	780	880
16,000 to 18,000	11	12	1,000	1,120
18,000 to 20,000	13	14	1,260	1,400
20,000 to 22,000	15	16	1,560	1,720
22,000 to 26,000	17	18	2,340	2,440
26,000 to 32,000	19	20	3,380	3,640
32,000 to 38,000	21	22	4,640	4,960
38,000 to 44,000	24	25	6,080	6,460
44,000 to 50,000	27	28	7,700	8,140

The surtax for each succeeding bracket automatically will be increased $440 over the existing surtax, that being the effect of the increase in the last bracket.

QUODDY PROJECT BACKERS SCORE IN SENATE TESTS

Fight Delays Vote on Deficiency Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—A desperate effort by administration leaders to open the way for continuation of the Passamaquoddy tidal power project with work relief funds got the senate into a tangle today and blocked a vote on the $2,370,000,000 relief deficiency bill.

The wrangle developed when Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.] sought approval of an amendment to the bill authorizing new expenditures on the Passamaquoddy and Florida ship canal projects if engineers find continuation of the work is feasible.

The projects have been denounced as visionary by engineers, and congress has repeatedly refused to appropriate funds.

Administration Scores Point.

In the battle over the amendment administration forces scored a point for revival of the two projects when the senate voted to overrule a point of order against the amendment. When this wrangle delayed the vote on the relief-deficiency bill itself, Senator Robinson threatened a night session. He decided instead, however, to call a session tomorrow. Saturday sessions are rare.

President Roosevelt already has allocated, out of the 4 billion dollar 1935 relief appropriation, $7,000,000 for the 'Quoddy project in Maine and $5,400,000 for the Florida canal.

The house refused to indorse any further appropriations for the two projects, the total cost of which would approach 200 millions.

The senate appropriations committee put a bar against further appropriations for the two projects by incorporating in the $1,425,000,000 work-relief appropriations bill a provision that "no federal project shall be undertaken or prosecuted with funds provided for in this appropriation unless and until an amount sufficient for its completion has been allocated and irrevocably set aside for its completion."

Because of the huge cost of the tide harnessing and canal projects, President Roosevelt will not be able to set aside an amount sufficient for their completion. The provision, as long as it remains unmodified, effectively kills both projects.

Tries to Evade Provision.

Senator Robinson sought to get around this provision with his amendment, which provided that the President should appoint two boards to study and report to the President by July 20 the feasibility of continuing work on the two projects. Under the circumstances a favorable report would be almost a certainty, it was declared, and the President then would be empowered, under Robinson's amendment, to allocate 9 millions for Passamaquoddy and 10 millions for the Atlantic-Gulf of Mexico ship canal.

The majority leader's amendment was immediately subjected to points of order by Senator Alva B. Adams [Dem., Colo.] and Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.].

Clark made a point of order to the entire section and after lengthy wrangling he was overruled by the chair. He appealed the decision to the floor of the senate and the senate upheld the chair's decision, by a vote of 53-19. Another vote was then taken on the germaneness of Robinson's amendment and the senate decided in the affirmative, 53-21.

SENATOR DROPS FIGHT ON TARIF BOARD'S CHIEF

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—Senator Coolidge [Dem., Mass.] said at the White House today he had agreed, at the request of President Roosevelt, to withdraw his opposition to confirmation of Robert Lincoln O'Brien, a Massachusetts Republican, for reappointment to the tarif commission. O'Brien is chairman of the commission.

Coolidge has been holding up action on the nomination in the senate.

"I shall vote for his confirmation because it is a presidential appointment," the senator said after talking with the President.

Coolidge said he had based his opposition to O'Brien on the ground that the commission had reduced duties on many imported articles to the detriment of New England industries.

LOWDEN, HOME, SAYS HE'LL AID G. O. P. IF ASKED

But Won't Offer Help to Party Conclave.

BY PARKE BROWN.

As much by his manner as by the words he used, Frank O. Lowden manifested clearly yesterday that while he is willing to help if his aid is sought he will not attempt to present his views on agriculture or any other subject to the Republican national convention at Cleveland on June 9.

Returning from Europe, where he spent six weeks at Baden Baden, Germany, the former Illinois governor arrived in Chicago on the Broadway Limited, spent a few hours in the city, and then motored to his home, Sinnissippi farm near Oregon.

Welcomed on Arrival.

He and Mrs. Lowden, who was with him in Europe, were met at the train by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr.; Brode B. Davis, an old Chicago friend, and a squad of reporters and camera men.

Old acquaintances in the group were impressed chiefly by the distinguished Illinoisian's fine physical condition and energy.

Mr. Lowden's guard was up and it dropped for only a moment when an effort was made to ascertain how he felt over the omission of his name from the list of national delegates at large from his home state.

"Some people expected you would be included," he was told. "Did you talk with anybody about it?"

"When was that?" pursued the questioner. "Before you left here or over in Europe?"

"Over There," He Says.

"I—I think it was over there," Lowden answered slowly.

He was told that former President Hoover and others had proposed that he write the agricultural plank for the Republican platform.

"That's up to the resolutions committee, isn't it?" he replied smilingly, and added: "Not that I wouldn't be glad to do anything I could if I were asked."

He said he did not intend to go to Cleveland.

"I've been going to conventions so long," he laughed, "that they're no longer a novelty."

LUNACY CHARGE FILED AGAINST GRACE BRANDON

San Antonio, Tex., May 29.—(AP)—A fear of "one who she knew was going to kill her" resulted today in the filing of a lunacy complaint against comely Grace Brandon, the government's key witness in the wife poisoning trial of her admirer, Maj. Charles A. Shepard, six years ago.

She came under official observation when she sought permission to carry a pistol. A small caliber pistol was taken from her and she was booked for carrying the weapon. She did not elaborate on her fear of death.

The lunacy complaint "speaks for itself," said Dr. T. N. Goodson, Bexar county health officer. He indicated a hearing will be held Monday.

"I'm just as sane as anybody," protested Miss Brandon. "But I'm not surprised—I've been expecting this."

While Maj. Shepard, army physician, was attending the army flight surgeons' school here he met the tall, attractive stenographer. He was tried at Kansas City, Kas., in December, 1930, on a charge of poisoning his wife at Fort Riley, Kas. The government accused him of killing her so he would be free to marry Miss Brandon.

Convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment, he won a new trial and was acquitted.

5 MEN RESCUED ADRIFT IN BOAT; COMPANION DEAD

HAUGESUND, Norway, May 29.—(AP)—The German steamer Helene radioed tonight that it had picked up one of the lifeboats belonging to the Norwegian steamer Hogstad, which sank yesterday in the North sea. Six men were in the boat, one of them dead, the Helene reported.

The master of the Dutch steamship Westplein yesterday reported it had rescued the captain of the Hogstad. He was drifting alone in a lifeboat. The Westplein was unable to reach a second lifeboat, thought to have contained 12 men, before it capsized.

The rescued captain was too exhausted to relate what had happened.

BAR'S HEAD SEES NEW DEAL AS FOE OF CONSTITUTION

Brands Its Legislation as Abridging Rights.

BY LLOYD WENDT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Peoria, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—A warning that the perpetuation of the New Deal administration will further a campaign definitly designed to change the American form of government and nullify the constitution was voiced today by two leaders of the legal profession in addresses before the concluding sessions of the sixtieth annual meeting of the Illinois Bar association.

Judge William L. Ransom of New York, president of the American Bar association, and John D. Black of Chicago, former president of the Illinois State Bar association, specifically branded national legislation of the past three years as directly opposed to the constitution and to the rights of the people. A vigorous defense of American institutions and traditions is needed, they said.

Nullification Proposed.

"Laws have been passed and there are bills pending before congress which, instead of proposing to amend the constitution in an orderly way, letting the people decide, propose to nullify the constitution," Judge Ransom said. "They seek to force collectivist doctrins on America and to legalize a European system of burocratic powers.

"This disrespect for the constitution and law is encouraging similar disrespect on the part of many citizens, and if is not halted it will continue to do so until there is a complete disregard for law and rights.

Defends Free Press.

"In the fight to halt the exercise of arbitrary and lawless powers there are two agencies which can raise a great bulwark for the defense of the people. These are a free, independent and courageous press and an independent and fearless judiciary.

"The press has won its freedom and is carrying on the fight. The legal profession has a duty to see that the judiciary has similar freedom. Judges must be sure of tenure and free from political influence. We are laying plans for a self-governing legal profession which can make great steps in that direction."

"We have had fair warning of the usurpation of power and rights of the people that will be attempted if the present administration is reëlected in the fall," Mr. Black told the bar association.

Bills Strike at Court.

"There are now 25 bills in congress which would rob the Supreme court of its power. The states are being seduced by legislation such as the social securities act, which would benefit such states as will surrender their sovereignty to tap the public till.

"Federal legislative tendencies during the past three years have been away from the constitution and the rights it assures to the people. It is time that the people and the members of the legal profession should do all in their power to force an about-face in Washington.

"The New Deal wants support for laws centralizing power. If such support is given, it means that the constitution and popular rights will be completely disregarded. It is time to halt such arrogation of power."

Officers Are Installed.

The bar association closed its session with a banquet and installation of officers.

Cairo Trimble, veteran attorney of Princeton, became president, succeeding Charles P. Megan, Chicago, and the vice presidents, John F. Voigt, Chicago, and William D. Knight, Rockford, advanced toward the presidency with Charles O. Randall, Chicago, taking the office of third vice president.

R. Allan Stephens, Springfield, who has been secretary of the association for 20 years, and Treasurer Frank L. Trutter, Springfield, were unopposed in the election conducted by mail before the meeting.

Charles E. Feirich of Carbondale, and Benjamin Wham of Chicago were elected to the board of governors.

Brooks Attends Convention.

Among the political figures at the bar meeting today was Wayland Brooks of Chicago, Republican nominee for for governor. Mr. Brooks had numerous conferences during the day, among them one with Clyde E. Stone, present chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court and candidate for reelection to the court from the Fifth district.

Justice Stone told Mr. Brooks that he is confident of victory when the Fifth district goes to the polls Monday. Mr. Brooks offered any coöperation which might prove helpful in the campaign.

POLICEMAN SUES STUDENTS OVER INJURY IN ROW

Champaign, Ill., May 29.—(AP)—A suit seeking $25,000 damages for injuries received by John Clement, Champaign special police officer, was on file in Circuit court today. Six defendants—all past or present law school students at the University of Illinois—were named defendants.

Clement charges he was beaten by the defendants on the night of Jan. 31, 1936, suffering a broken hip which he claimed crippled him for life.

The defendants named were: Virgil F. Bozeman, 23, Moline, expelled from the university Feb. 20 as a result of the trouble with Clement; R. Lawrence Ball Jr., 22, Venona; Leonard Carriere, 22, Blue Island; James W. Eaton, 22, Chicago; John Joe Brandlin, 22, Algonquin; James F. Heinlein, 22, Chicago.

The student senate committee on discipline, investigating the case, recommended that Bozeman, an honor student, be dropped from school, and that the others be exonerated. Bozeman was held for grand jury action and charges against the others dismissed.

10,000 OF 14,000 SEATS AT G. O. P. SHOW ARE GONE

Space Arranger Tells Apportionments.

Cleveland, O., May 29.—(AP)—Casual spectators at the Republican national convention will constitute a small minority, Ralph Williams of Oregon, national committeeman in charge of arrangements, said today in disclosing ticket reservations for the political "big show."

Seats available in Cleveland's public hall will total 14,218, Williams said. Tickets for 10,558 already have been apportioned, he said, on the following basis:

Delegates and alternates	2,006
Press reservations	956
Extra to state delegations	6,000
Cleveland convention committee	1,000
Presidential candidates [20 each]	160
Diplomatic corps [estimate]	150
G. O. P. national committeemen	100
Members of congress	104
United States senators	46
Ex-chairmen of national committee	12
Ex-secretaries of national committee	6
Governors of states	8
Former Presidents' widows	4
Total	10,558

This leaves a balance of 3,560 seats, many of which, Williams said, may be apportioned among Young Republican clubs and women's Republican organizations.

Four Widows to Attend.

The widows of former presidents, all of whom have announced their intention to attend, are Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. William Howard Taft, and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

As June 9, the opening date of the convention, approaches, the demand for tickets has increased tremendously, Williams said. He reiterated a statement that "100,000 tickets would not fill all requests."

The Oregon political veteran asserted that the 6,000 seats over which state delegations have control and the 1,000 tickets assigned the local convention committee represent accommodations for the public.

Spectators in 3 Classes.

The spectators' seats are divided into three classes, he explained, based on floor location. In marking tickets for certain groups, he added, each "received them proportionately in these classes."

Williams said the seating arrangement for delegates and alternates, to offset possible complaints against choice space being allotted larger delegations, is to be on a geographical basis.

The seats are to be in four sections. Atlantic coast states will occupy one outside bloc and Pacific coast states the other, with midwest and southern state contingents in the center sections.

Maine delegates will occupy the front rows of its section, followed by other New England states "and down the coast," Williams said.

SEND NAVY BILL OF 526 MILLION TO WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Without a record vote the house today completed action on the record breaking peace time navy appropriation bill for the next fiscal year, carrying a total of $526,546,532. It now goes to the White House for President Roosevelt's signature.

The bill contained funds for the beginning of construction of two new battleships, but added the provision that "the President shall determine as a fact that capital ship replacement construction has been commenced by any of the other signatory powers to the London naval treaty of 1930" before the United States may begin construction.

Funds also were allowed for increasing the navy enlisted personnel from 93,500 men to 100,000; for 333 new airplanes during the year beginning July 1 next, a comparable increase in marine corps strength, 12 new destroyers, and six submarines.

49 Recruits Take Oath for Park Police Force

OHN HAMILTON VILL NOMINATE OV. ALF LANDON

peaker Is Noted for Harmonizing Party.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Topeka, Kas., May 29.—[Special.]—ov. Alf M. Landon today announced he selection of John D. M. Hamilton, manager of his pre-convention elegate campaign, as the man from ansas who will place his name in omination at the Republican convenon. Among Kansas politicians who ave watched the maneuverings for is honor, this decision is regarded s tantamount to the selection of me one else as chairman of the Republican national committee in the vent of Landon's nomination for the residency.

Gov. Landon has held this announcement in abeyance for several ays, possibly waiting until the peech of Senator William E. Borah as out of the way. This had been waited with considerable misgivings n the Landon camp, but it has left he situation about where it was bepre. There still is doubt as to what Borah will do in the convention and fterward. As to the afterward, the overnor's friends may pin some hope n the visit here yesterday of Dr. Frank Fetter, emeritus professor of conomics at Princeton and now visiting professor at Urbana, Ill.

Inspiration to Borah.

Prof. Fetter, author of "Masque ades of Monopoly" and other books, was referred to by Senator Borah in campaign speech at Urbana, as the greatest inspiration of my life," and Prof. Fetter in turn promised to carry water for the elephant" if Borah was nominated, saying that he was disappointed with Roosevelt.

Landon invited Prof. Fetter here to have a talk. They had it. The professor is not a politician and did not wish to comment on his impressions. He found the governor open minded, eager to learn, and intelligent. Whether he was sufficiently impressed to take word to Borah that it would be a mistake to oppose Landon further, is something for the politicians to watch. It might make a lot of difference in Borah's attitude.

The appointment of Hamilton as the Landon nominator is regarded as a high honor. The governor had no comment to make.

"John Hamilton will make the speech," was all he said. But this is the first time in weeks that he has said anything on national politics. He did not know who would make the seconding speeches.

Party Harmony Attained.

It was recalled here that it was not so long ago that Landon and Hamilton were on the opposite sides of the political fence in Kansas, where the Republicans long have been divided as conservatives and liberals. Party harmony, however, has been the objective of both men and this has been achieved here. Hamilton is known as an organization man. He was one of the organizers of the Grass Roots Republican movement which culminated in the Springfield convention. He is younger, more pugnacious in action than Landon, and a forceful speaker.

Hamilton was born in Iowa and was brought to Kansas when he was 7 years old. He was graduated from Phillip's academy at Andover, Mass., and in 1916 took his law degree at Northwestern university. He began the practice of law in Topeka in 1918, having come out of the war as a sergeant. His law partner was Ralph T. O'Neil, a Democrat and former national commander of the American Legion.

FOX FILES PLEA IN BANKRUPTCY; OWES 9 MILLION

Camden, N. J., May 29.—[Special.]—William Fox, retired film magnate, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District court here today.

He listed his liabilities at $9,000,000 and his assets at $2,000,000.

Included in the liabilities was $2,000,000 due the federal government in unpaid income taxes and $2,500,000 of legal suits pending against Mr. Fox.

One of these is a million dollar suit brought by the Fox Theater corporation, which he once headed, and another is a million dollar claim by a Chicago financial house.

The petiton was for personal bankruptcy, no firm being involved.

When Mr. Fox retired from the motion picture field in 1930 he sold his interest in the various Fox firms, which he had once controled, to Wall street financial interests for a flat settlement of $20,000,000 and a lifetime salary.

HOOVER INVITED TO MAKE SPEECH AT CLEVELAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.] — Former President Herbert Hoover has been invited to attend the Republican national convention at Cleveland and is endeavoring to arrange his engagements so he will be able to appear on the platform of the convention, Republican Chairman Henry P. Fletcher announced today.

John Hamilton, campaign manager for Gov. Alf M. Landon, suggested that Mr. Hoover be invited to address the convention. Hamilton said it is a proper courtesy to invite the former President as titular head of the party to the convention.

Dawes Also Invited.

"I am impressed with the opportunity which would come to the convention to hear Mr. Hoover and, as a member of the arrangements committee, I shall be pleased to join in recommending that an address by our former President be included in the convention program," Hamilton said.

Fletcher also invited former Vice President Charles G. Dawes, all Republican senators, governors, and congressmen, all members of the committee and former chairmen and officers of the committee to sit on the platform as convention guests.

Committee Meets Tuesday.

The committee will meet in Cleveland next Wednesday to consider contests and other business. The arrangements committee is to meet Tuesday to approve final details of the convention.

The terms of present officers and committee members expire with the installation of new members by the convention. Fletcher is retiring from the chairmanship and will not be a candidate for reëlection.

Whether or not notification ceremonies will be held in Cleveland, he said, will depend wholly on the wishes of the party's nominee.

Peacock, were sentenced by Judge Joseph Burke in the Criminal court yesterday in accordance with the recommendations of the jury that convicted them on May 19. Reck was sentenced to 199 years in prison and Livingston, who drove the killers' car, to 30 years.

Reck wept as his sentence was pronounced, but Livingston, in keeping with his defiant attitude throughout his trial, glared at the judge, who gazed steadily back as he pronounced the sentence.

Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, who pleaded guilty in the case, are already serving their 199 year terms. Reck and Livingston pleaded not guilty and during the trial repudiated their confessions, which were nevertheless admitted into evidence. The two will start their sentences next week, it was indicated.

CARDINAL MUNDELEIN AND ROOSEVELT CHAT AT THE WHITE HOUSE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Cardinal George Mundelein of Chicago called at the White House today and spent more than half an hour with President Roosevelt. He said his visit was merely a personal call.

"I am an old friend of the President," the cardinal said, "and when I come to Washington I drop in on him."

Asked if he had promised Mr. Roosevelt his support in the coming campaign, the cardinal said: "For any one who is a friend of mine, I will go the whole way."

At a brief press conference this morning Mr. Roosevelt announced that he will attend Memorial day services at Arlington National cemetery tomorrow afternoon.

Later he will motor to Annapolis to board the Presidential yacht Potomac for a week-end cruise. The President said he will make no address at Arlington.

Tomorrow night he will watch a water pageant at Naval academy from the deck of the Potomac. He intends to be back in the White House Sunday night.

11,015 WRITE IN LANDON'S NAME IN OHIO PRIMARY

Columbus, O., May 29.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas polled a "write in" vote of 11,015 in Ohio's May 12 primary election, official figures of the secretary of state's office showed for the first time today.

Landon's name was written in on the Republican presidential preferential ticket. Attorney Stephen Day of Evanston, Ill., the only candidate in this race, polled 155,732 votes.

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, who won five of Ohio's 52 important Republican convention delegates in a contest with Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, Ohio's favorite son candidate, received 4,524 "write in" votes.

Secretary of State George S. Myers' official figures gave President Franklin D. Roosevelt 514,366 to 32,950 for Col. Henry Breckinridge of New York in a Democratic preferential deal "popularity test."

ARREST MISSING WISCONSIN MAN IN PHOENIX, ARIZ.

Harry H. Wells, 38 years old, a Monroe, Wis., trucking contractor who vanished from Chicago last February, was under arrest yesterday in Phoenix, Ariz., on a charge of deserting his wife and three children. He was found operating a grocery and filling station east of Phoenix, which he said he had bought "in an effort to reëstablish myself."

Wells' automobile was found abandoned at Madison and Wells streets on Jan. 29. Blood stains were found on the seats and on his hat, which was discovered in the car. Federal department of justice agents joined the police search after Wells' relatives disclosed the missing man had written a letter telling of extortion threats.

In Phoenix Wells said he would waive extradition and return to Monroe to face the charges.

HOODED LEGION BURNING ROBES, OFFICERS LEARN

Gov. F. D. Fitzgerald Joins Investigation.

BULLETIN.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—(Special.)—Detectives tonight arrested Virgil Morrow in connection with the Charles Poole slaying. They said he was at the Black legion meeting at which it was decided to take Poole for a ride.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—[Special.]—Frightened members of the Black Legion were reported burning their hoods and robes today as Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald personally joined the investigation and efforts were spurred to have the department of justice enter the finish fight against the night riding terrorists.

Prosecutor Owen Dudley of Jackson, a Black Legion stronghold where five men are held on charges of beating a fellow member, said he had definite information that legionnaires were hastily burning the regalia the secret order wore on its nocturnal flogging and arson expeditions.

"Twenty-two robes hidden in one house alone have been burned," Dudley said. "The back of the organization here has been broken. I don't believe any of the Jackson county members have enough nerve left to commit further violence."

Recruiting Officer Through.

Arthur F. Lupp, admitted Michigan recruiting officer for the hooded band, declared today that he had "had enough; I'm through with the Black Legion."

Gov. Fitzgerald conferred at Lansing with Attorney General David M. Crowley regarding alleged assertions of the state police that the Michigan membership of the Black Legion included state employés other than the Jackson prison guards already under arrest. No names in the connection were revealed.

"I will do my utmost to remove any state official or employé, regardless of his rank, if he has willingly participated in the councils of this terrorist organization," Gov. Fitzgerald said.

Governor Promises Aid.

The governor told Crowley that "every ounce of power and authority vested in the state is at your disposal" in the war on the whip wielding band.

"This assault upon the rights of free citizens," the executive said, "is the more abominable because it seeks to wrap itself in the American flag and to hide its crimes behind the constitution of the United States."

Shortly after the governor's announcement of his personal and executive interest in the campaign to exterminate the Black Legion, Attorney General Crowley notified County Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea that the state would take an active part in the prosecution of 13 men charged with the murder of Charles A. Poole, WPA worker who was slain allegedly because he "knew too much."

Crowley, who is in Detroit to direct the presentation of evidence before a one man grand jury investigation of the terrorist society, said the state will formally enter the case on Tuesday when Common Pleas Judge Joseph W. Liddy resumes the examination of the Poole slaying defendants.

Available at All Times.

Gov. Fitzgerald sent his general secretary, Henry O. Weitschat, here to assist Crowley and told the attorney general that "the governor will be at your command at any hour of the day or night in this case."

Crowley asserted he would "use every law on the books" in prosecuting the society's members. He indicated the state may invoke Michigan's criminial syndicalism law, enacted to combat communism, against the secret society which was formed to defend the country from communists and others.

Meanwhile Prosecutor McCrea assembled evidence flowing in from a score of states which he hopes will permit the department of justice to enter the case.

Among numerous appeals for federal intervention in the investigation was one from Hiram W. Evans of Atlanta, Ga., imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, who denied his organization is related in any way to the Black legion.

Letters Pouring In.

McCrea exhibited scores of letters from nearly all parts of the United States giving information about alleged Black legion activities or expressing fear of terrorism. Most of the letters were anonymous, the writers expressing fear of reprisal.

A Denver, Colo., man appealed for an investigation there, asserting that "scores of respectable people here are being persecuted and dare not open their mouths. This has been going on for the last three years."

From Dallas, Tex., came a letter signed "a member" and asserting that "the legion had Huey Long killed." A letter from Cedar Rapids, Ia., said there was a branch of the Black legion there.

Blame Death on Cult.

Mishawaka, Ind., May 29.—[Special.]—Following quickly on the denials of Black Legion terrorism in Mishawaka by Chief of Police James L. Guy and Deputy Prosecutor Paul S. Bryant, the mysterious death of George A. Lang, prominent Catholic resident, was attributed to the robed cult.

Deputy Coroner B. J. Wyland today concluded that Lang had been murdered by "person or persons unknown" after an inquest, which resulted in the discovery that he had been clubbed to death.

It was at first believed that Lang had fallen down the back steps of his brother's home Sunday morning.

The theory that Lang was a victim of the Black Legion was substantiated by Samuel Stalteri, a friend of Lang, who told authorities that the dead man had received a number of threats.

ROOSEVELT TO MAKE CAMPAIGN TRIP IN AUGUST

Texas Jaunt Will Be Started June 8.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Definite indications that President Roosevelt plans to make a western campaign trip in August were given today with the announcement by Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, after a White House call, that Mr. Roosevelt probably would make a speech in Ohio in August.

This announcement of tentative plans came on the heels of a series of reports circulated in informed quarters which have led observers to believe that the President planned to make a mid-summer tour of the middlewest and west which would extend to the Pacific coast.

To Visit Ten Cities.

In the meantime, White House officials worked on a tentative schedule for Mr. Roosevelt's trip to the southwest, scheduled to begin on June 8 and last for one week, which called for visits of various lengths of time to at least ten cities, including six in Texas, two in Arkansas and one each in Indiana and Kentucky. This trip is not considered by the President a political trip, despite the fact it is scheduled to take place during the entire time the Republican national convention will be in session at Cleveland.

From White House attachés came word that Mr. Roosevelt plans to visit the cities of Houston, San Antonio, Austin, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Dennison in Texas between June 11 and 13, inclusive. En route to that state he will make stops at Little Rock and Hot Springs, Ark., making a speech on the centennary of Arkansas at Little Rock. The return trip to Washington will be marked by a stop at Vincennes, Ind., the site of the George Rogers Clark memorial, where the President will speak, and at a place yet to be selected in Kentucky.

Houston First Stop.

Mr. Roosevelt will make his first stop in Texas, where a centennial celebration also provides the reason for his visit, at Houston. From there he will go to Dallas via San Antonio and Austin, stopping at San Antonio to visit the Alamo.

The President plans to make his principal address in Texas at Dallas on June 12, and on the same day to drive to Fort Worth, the home of Elliott Roosevelt, his second son, where he will remain for about twenty-four hours, leaving there to visit Dennison en route to Vincennes and Washington.

PROBE OF WPA BY PENNA. SENATE LANDS IN COURT

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—(AP)—A Republican state senate investigation of the WPA landed in the courts today and bench warants were issued for four men who refused to testify and surrender records.

The committee's recourse to the courts threatened a clash of federal and state jurisdictions, with the United States attorney general backing the WPA officers.

Named in three of the warants were attachés of the Philadelphia WPA office, accused of ignoring a senate committee subpena. The fourth, Franklin G. Connor, federal-state employment director, testified before the committee but was accused of refusing to answer certain questions. An assistant United States attorney so advised him. A court hearing was ordered for Monday.

Veteran Ordered to Give Wife Half of $600 Bonus

Arraigned before Judge Leon Edelman in the Municipal court on a charge of nonsupport yesterday, Ignatz Cepanskis, 44 years old, 4061 South Campbell avenue, was ordered to turn over half of his forthcoming government bonus of $600 for the support of his wife and three small sons. Judge Edelman directed Cepanskis to turn the $300 in to his court clerk, who will give it to the wife at the rate of $10 a week.

Cruelty Charged

Mrs. Phoebe Logan Terbell, 26 years old, yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Superior court against Joseph B. Terbell Jr., 1401 North Lake road, Lake Forest, charging cruelty. Mrs. Terbell asked for the custody of her daughter, Gladys, 4 years old, and waived alimony. Both mother and daughter are now living with Mrs. Terbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Logan, in the family residence at 2344 Lincoln Park West.

Attorney Harold M. Keele, Jr., counsel for Mrs. Terbell, explained that the suit will be uncontested and that a property settlement already has been arranged. A few minutes after the divorce bill was filed, Terbell filed through his lawyer, William C. Boyan answer denying all the charges, den. The suit will be heard next Tuesday before Judge Joseph Sabath.

The wedding of the couple in St. Chrysostom's church in April, 1931, was one of the social events of the season. Terbell's father, the late Joseph B. Terbell Sr., was chairman of the board of the American Brake Shoe company.

PARK ZOO GETS PLENTY WHEN IT ORDERS TIGERS

Floyd S. Young, director of the Lincoln park zoo, who was expecting the delivery of two Bengal tigers yesterday, was slightly surprised when an express company telephoned to say that six crates of animals had arrived for his zoo.

"You're crazy," said Mr. Young.

"I'm not," retorted the express company representative. "Some of them already are on their way over."

When the first truck arrived, Mr. Young peeped inside and saw two sloth bears, an Eland antelope, and a Malay tapir. "But I ordered Bengal tigers," he said. "Take them back."

After much confusion, it was found that the six crates of animals belonged to the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield, and that the Bengal tigers, ordered from the same New York firm of importers, were sleeping peacefully at the express warehouse.

The day ended happily for all when the two tigers, which Mr. Young says are "perfect specimens," went to Lincoln park, and the antelope, the tapir, and the two bears to Brookfield.

ELIZABETH TETER DIVORCED FROM J. BURTON SMITH

Mrs. Elizabeth Teter Smith, 29 years old, 1021 Grove street, Evanston, daughter of Lucius Teter, former banker, yesterday was granted a divorce from J. Burton Smith, assistant treasurer of the Fort Dearborn Mortgage company, by Judge Joseph Sabath in the Superior court. Mrs. Smith charged desertion, alleging that her husband left her on May 1, 1935. The suit was uncontested. There are no children and Mrs. Smith waived alimony.

Her brief testimony was corroborated by Mrs. Dorothy Beazell, 7427 South Shore drive, former sister-in-law of Mrs. Smith. One month ago in the same courtroom Mrs. Beazell divorced Charles Lodor Teter, Mrs. Smith's brother. She is now the wife of James M. Beazell.

Both women appeared in court yesterday in shabby clothing, apparently in the hope of escaping attention of reporters. Both left the courtroom immediately after the hearing and ran to elevators to avoid photographers.

'Robin Hood' of Ozarks Gets Life for Slaying

Centerville, Mo., May 29.—(AP)—Robert [Bobby] Camden, "Robin Hood" of the Ozarks, who pleaded guilty of the murder of the Rev. James A. Radford, was sentenced to life imprisonment by Circuit Judge E. M. Dearing today. The diminutive desperado, already serving a 30 year term for robbery, was sentenced immediately after a jury acquitted James Wofford, 73 year old farmer, of a charge of complicity in the slaying.

25 PASTORS ARE READ OUT OF CHURCH GROUP

Presbyterian Order Hits Fundamentalists.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Syracuse, N. Y., May 29.—[Special.]—The general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, sitting this afternoon in executive session as the supreme court of the church, began giving a grist of decisions which virtually read out of the church a group of 25 fundamentalist pastors.

Twelve of 17 nonjudicial cases were closed adversely to the fundamentalist followers of the Rev. Dr. J. Gresham Machen of Philadelphia, Pa., founder of Westminster seminary and of the independent Presbyterian board for foreign missions. The nonjudicial cases, five of which remain, deal mainly with complaints against procedures in lower courts.

Dr. Machen declared today's decisions are "utterly unpresbyterian and un-Christian tyranny against Christian liberty and authority of the word of God." He declared a new Presbyterian church will be founded at a meeting in Philadelphia beginning June 11.

But in nearly all of these cases, their dismissal had the effect of enforcing disciplinary judgments of the lower courts against members of the independent mission boards, or of clearing the way for direct disciplinary action by the assembly.

Board Ordered Dissolved.

This board was ordered dissolved by the 1934 general assembly and its members were ordered to resign their memberships in it or face discipline.

Only one case today dealt with Dr. Machen. Following his suspension by the New Brunswick, N. J., presbytery, he attempted to transfer to the more friendly presbytery of Philadelphia. Today's decision declared this transfer invalid. The Rev. Henry W. Coray, former pastor of West Pittston, Pa., under another decision was notified that the erasure of his name from the rolls of his presbytery was upheld.

The presbytery of Chester, Pa., in another case, was ordered to prosecute the Rev. Dr. Wilbur M. Smith of Coatesville, Pa., for refusing to resign membership in the outlawed foreign missions board. Another decision declared null and void the ordination of John W. Fulton by the presbytery of Philadelphia because allegations of irregularity of procedure were sustained. The candidate was asked if he would support the regular missions board of the church, but the moderator of presbytery ruled the question out of order.

First Ordination Recalled.

According to the Rev. Carl McIntyre of Collinswood, N. J., who is under sentence of suspension for membership in the outlawed board, Mr. Fulton's case is the only one in the history of the Presbyterian church where an ordination has been recalled.

Five judicial cases, or those bearing directly on charges against individuals, may not be heard by the general assembly until Monday. These are in addition to the 17 administrative cases and deal with nine members of the outlawed board, including the Rev. Dr. J. Oliver Buswell, president of Wheaton college. Dr. Buswell appealed from the sentence of censure by the presbytery of Chicago.

CRITICIZES DELAY IN SENDING AGED PENSION CHECKS

Joel D. Hunter, director of the United Charities, yesterday termed inexcusable the delay of state officials in delivering the first old age pension checks to Cook county applicants. Applications authenticated and investigated by the Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare were sent to Springfield more than a month ago but no checks have been received here.

"Payment of the pensions is of great importance to needy aged persons and to both private and public charitable agencies," Hunter said.

"The inexpedience of the state pension staf in aiding the needy has resulted in unnecessary delay. It is inexcusable, and can only be likened to the wilful failure of the legislature to enact pension laws last winter which would entitle Illinois to receive federal matching funds, so that maximum monthly payments could be $30 instead of $15."

G.O.P. May Name Democrat for the Vice Presidency

Seattle, Wash., May 29.—(AP)—J. Y. C. Kellogg, chairman of the Washington state Republican delegation to the national convention, said tonight the delegates may vote at Cleveland for a Democrat as a vice presidential nominee. Kellogg said the proposal would be presented to the delegates when they caucus in Chicago en route east.

LEWIS LEADS REVOLT AS THIRD OF A. F. OF L. MEMBERS DEFY GREEN

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor was faced today with a threat of open rebellion as a third of its members, led by John L. Lewis, defied the leadership of William Green on the question of industrial unionism.

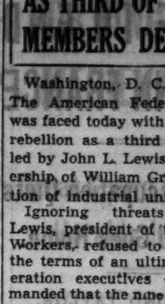
Ignoring threats of expulsion, Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, refused to bind himself to the terms of an ultimatum from federation executives which had demanded that the nine richest and most powerful unions in the labor movement immediately dissolve their committees for industrial organization.

Lewis, who favors the organization of labor by industries as against Green's plans for craft unionism, announced that the United Mine Workers, which claims 400,000 members, "most emphatically refuses to accede to either the call or the request of the American Federation of Labor to discontinue its constructive and logical course of action."

COL. M'MULLEN IS DISMISSED FROM U. S. ARMY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Col. Joseph I. McMullen, attached to the judge advocate general's department, was dismissed summarily from the army today for his conviction in the District of Columbia Supreme court on charges of having received compensation for legal services outside of his official duties.



COL. J. I. McMULLEN.

The action was announced by the war department in a routine order which stated that the dismissal was effective as of May 8. McMullen had been courtmartialed and fined for having accepted two railroad tickets from a dealer in surplus army supplies last fall.

In the civil court McMullen was convicted of having given legal advice and assistance for compensation to the Cuban-American Manganese corporation which was opposing a tarif bill in congress. McMullen has appealed a six months' jail sentence and a $1,000 fine.

Government witnesses in the District court testified that McMullen had accepted $1,000 from the manganese corporation for his help in defeating a proposed tax on manganese imports in 1932.

The court demoted McMullen to the last rank among colonels, fined him $150 a month for 24 months and voted that he be given an official reprimand.

URGES G. O. P. BACK BILL FOR REGISTRATION

Perry B. McCullough, chairman of the Republican state central committee, sent the following telegram yesterday to all Republican members of the Illinois general assembly:

"I am taking the liberty of urging you to be present and vote for the permanent election registration bill when it is up for action. We all know that the Republican members of the legislature are responsible for this bill and our party is anxious for it to become a law. Passage of this legislation will stop thousands of fraudulent votes this fall. Keep our record clear on this issue."

Action on the bill is expected at Springfield next week.

33,000 WORKERS DECIDE TO END STRIKE IN FRANCE

Army of Occupation Quits Plant and Goes Home.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 29.—While attempts by the French government to terminate the occupation of factories in the Paris area by 90,000 strikers were deadlocked tonight, considerable progress was made with an individual settlement of the Renault strike.

The Renault automobile company, with huge factories straddling the Seine just below Paris, was by far the biggest item in the walkout—or rather the staying. About 33,000 of the nearly 40,000 Renault workers participated in the strike.

Workers Start for Home.

This afternoon the management and a delegation of strikers reached an agreement and at 6:30 p. m. the workers, who had held the plant for four days, left for home. There was no violence, but frequent lifting of the fist in the communist salute, shouts of "Long live the soviet," and singing of the Internationale accompanied the exodus.

The tentative agreement that ended the Renault strike included a provision for an increase in wages in the lower brackets and better working conditions. Louis Frossard, minister of labor, said the agreement relieves the situation considerably.

Labor Minister Gets Setback.

Last night's optimism on the part of Frossard that he had practically settled the strike of 40,000 or 50,000 workers who are occupying aviation, munitions, and automobile plants in the Paris area by inducing them and their employers to meet today proved unfounded.

The workers announced they would meet the employers to discuss their demands but insisted on continuing to occupy the factories.

As a result the employers, instead of responding to Frossard's invitation to a conference with a delegation, sent one man to explain that the employers would not dicker so long as the workmen held the plants. The workers retorted they would relinquish their hold on the factories and go back to work as soon as their demands were met.

Auto Workers Join Strike.

Notable additions to the "peaceful occupation" of factories were at the Citroen automobile plant and the Rosengart company, which manufactures low price cars.

A conservative estimate of the number of strikers by right wing observers was placed at 70,000. However, a statement issued by the employers' association said that twenty new plants were involved in the strike, bringing the total strikers to 90,000.

WITNESS TELLS DEATH THREAT AT VICE TRIAL

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mildred Harris, Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey's star witness, declared on the witness stand today that she was threatened with death if she testified against Charles [Lucky] Luciano and his nine codefendants on trial before Supreme Court Justice Philip J. McCook and a jury on charges of compulsory prostitution.

Mrs. Harris, cross-examined a second time by George Morton Levy of Luciano's counsel, testified that after being taken into custody as a material witness in the present case, she met a man named Gus Franco, with whom she had once lived in a West 58th street penthouse.

"I was with a policemen in plain clothes," she said. "I asked him to step aside, as I wanted Gus to think I was out. Gus said to me: 'If you testify against those people, you'll be killed.'"

She said that when she lived with Franco three years ago, he was in the "numbers racket." It was Franco, she testified, who introduced her to the men who told her Luciano was the head of the vice combination.

Mr. Levy pressed her about her use of drugs and drew from her the testimony that she had used fifteen opium pills a day in 1933, and that when she graduated to morphine, she used about an ounce a month, three injections daily.

Report Rebels in Paraguay Are Marching on Capital

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, May 29.—Unconfirmed reports from the Paraguayan frontier said today that a revolt has flared against the government of President Rafael Franco. Followers of the imprisoned Gen. José Estigarribia, commander in chief of the army during the Chaco war with Bolivia, are reported to have isolated several government garrisons. Reports said they are marching on Asuncion, the capital.

Ousted French Missionary Returns to Ethiopian Post

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, May 29.—(AP)—Monsignor Andre Jarosseau, French missionary, who was expelled from Ethiopia by the Italians and then reinstated after Paris protested to Rome, left here today for Harrar, second city of Ethiopia. The prelate, who has devoted 50 years to missionary work among the Ethiopians particularly among lepers, had been expelled for alleged anti-Italian activities.

Serb Striker Slain in Saber and Gun Fight with Police

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, May 29.—(AP)—One striker was killed and several injured today in a saber and gun fight between building construction workers and police. About 10,000 construction workers, out on strike, attempted to demonstrate and the fight ensued when police dispersed them.

THREE CHILDREN TO SHARE MILLIONS OF EDITH R. M'CORMICK

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 29.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of Robert McCurdy Marsh, referee, which awards to Fowler McCormick, and the two daughters of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick a trust fund valued at between twelve and fourteen millions of dollars.

Notice of the judgment was released today from the office of John E. Mack, attorney for Fowler McCormick in litigation which might have reduced McCormick's share to one million or less.

Sharing equally in the fund are McCormick's sisters, Mrs. Mathilde McCormick Oser and Muriel McCormick Hubbard of New York, who opposed the interests of her brother and sister in the long legal struggle over the fund.

The committee, having general jurisdiction of the fund which now becomes applicable to the three children of Mrs. McCormick, includes John D. Rockefeller Jr., E. Parmelee Prentice, Willard S. Richardson, Bertram Cutler, and Cyrus H. McCormick.

Referee Marsh's decision, holding that Mrs. McCormick had extinguished her right to specify to whom the fund should go and dividing the proceeds of the fund equally between the three children, was made last year. It is this judgment the Court of Appeals has affirmed.

HAILE IS HONORED BY BRITAIN; DINES WITH ADMIRALS

Gibraltar Cheers Silk Hatted Exile.

GIBRALTAR, May 29.—(AP)—The fugitive emperor of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie, arrived here today and was greeted with a burst of applause.

The little negus plainly was unprepared for the ripple which marked his arrival at the Rock hotel, but only momentarily. He recovered his poise, removed his high silk hat and bowed and smiled.

Later he appeared on the balcony and again applause greeted him. He then retired to his own thoughts and seclusion.

Honored by Governor.

Later the former emperor, who fled his homeland before the Italian occupation, was entertained at the government house with an informal luncheon given by Gov. Sir Charles Harington. Several British admirals were among the 23 guests.

Haile Selassie plans to continue to England Sunday as a private citizen, thereby averting possible embarrassment of official England.

Naval police took charge upon his arrival here aboard the British cruiser Capetown to guard against any demonstrations. The 6 day voyage from Palestine through several minor squalls resulted in a touch of seasickness for the former ruler. He spent considerable time below deck.

British-Italian Deal Reported.

LONDON, May 29.—(AP)—Government opposition quarters expressed belief tonight that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin is preparing to "strike a bargain" with Italy to end Anglo-Italian tension.

This belief was sharpened as the cabinet discussed sanctions on the heels of a threat delivered yesterday by Dino Grandi, Italian ambassador, that Premier Mussolini will withdraw from the league of nations if sanctions are not halted.

Since there is a fortnight of grace before the league council meets at Geneva on June 16, the cabinet delayed a final decision until parliament reconvenes on June 9. Instructions then will be given Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

The Laborite newspaper Daily Herald, reacting coolly to Mussolini's latest bid for Britain's friendship, said:

"One thing is wanted—a resolute British policy. Given that, it is still possible despite past failure to win a victory for the league and for peace. Is there still hope for courage in Downing street, or will this once proud country under the present leadership betray the world by vacillation, lethargy, and indecision?"

Demand Meeting of Assembly.

GENEVA, May 29.—(AP)—Argentina has asked informally that an extraordinary session of the league of nations assembly be called next month to discuss the Italo-Ethiopian affair, league officials said tonight.

It was reported Enrique Ruiz Guinazu, the Argentine envoy, had explained that Latin-Americans were anxious to have the question of sanctions cleared up, as well as the league's position in regard to the Italian annexation of Ethiopia.

If the assembly session is called, it probably will be in mid-June, at the time the council meets.

Seek Enrollment of 400 in Each of Summer Schools

William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, yesterday sent out a bulletin urging summer school principals to wage an intensive advertising campaign to increase enrollment. He said efforts should be made to raise the enrollment to 400 in each of the thirteen high schools, ten elementary schools, and three city colleges which are scheduled to open for the summer. The average has been 350. Under the board rules a school having an enrollment under 200 cannot open.

Open Bids for Purchase of 46,000 Street Signs

Oscar E. Hewitt, city commissioner of public works, yesterday opened bids for the purchase of 46,000 new street signs. Thirteen bids were received. Low bidder was the General Porcelain Enameling and Manufacturing company, 4101 Parker avenue, at 44 cents a sign. The bids will be analyzed before a recommendation as to the award is made.

Police Battle Raiders in Children's Village.

JERUSALEM, May 29.—(AP)—Disorders broke out tonight in the children's village of Shefeya, Samaria, where boys and girls are trained to become farmers through the financial backing of the Junior Hadassah, Women's Zionist Organization of America.

Police, summoned when flames broke out in several barns, exchanged shots with the incendiaries, who were driven off.

An unconfirmed report said several Arabs were wounded in a clash with British troops at the Arab town of Jenin, the scene of several violent encounters in the last few days in the Arab uprising against Jewish immigration and the sale of land to Jews.

Four Jewish shops were set on fire in Jaffa.

Arabs Entrust Cash to Jews.

A paradoxical touch was added to the disorders when Arabs rushed to deposit money in Jewish banks. Arab banks had notified them that after June 1 they would be requested to contribute 10 per cent of their savings to the Arab general strike fund.

Arabs fired on a British military patrol at Ras El Ain and were dispersed after machine gunning from the patrol. Near the Sea of Galilee Arabs stoned Jews who were harvesting and destroyed a reaper.

Telephone lines were cut at Samaria, Lydda, and Beersheba. Windows of the district commissioner's office at Haifa were smashed by a bomb. Tension was reported high at Nazareth.

Seize Munitions Caravan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

JERUSALEM, May 29.—A camel caravan carrying 100 rifles and cases of ammunition was reported to have been seized today by British military patrols on the northern frontier of Palestine. It is not known where the caravan originated nor whether the munitions were meant for Arabs or Jews.

Riots Spread to Syria.

BEIRUT, Syria, May 29.—(AP)—Anti-Jewish demonstrations in sympathy with Palestine Arabs led to disorders today in Damascus. Two demonstrators were injured when a mob battled police. Squads of Syrian youths destroyed 5,400 eggs en route to Jews in Palestine. Jewish produce dealers asked for police protection.

SEAMEN'S STRIKE AT N. Y. SETTLED AFTER 2 MONTHS

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The two-month seamen's strike, which led to numerous clashes with police and tied up shipping on the waterfront, was settled today, Joseph Curran, strike leader, announced.

The decision to call off the strike was made at a meeting of 1,200 seamen, and was based on conditions agreed to at a conference in Chicago early this week between the strike leaders and the International Seamen's union officials.

"We are going back to work in order to organize all the seamen for a big push in September," Mr. Curran said. In September the west coast agreement, the terms of which were one of the objectives of the east coast strikers, expires.

He said he considered the strike a victory in that the department of commerce was forced to take cognizance of the strikers' opposition to the union officials. That, he asserted, was directed more at the union officials than at the steamship companies.

ANTI-BALM SUIT UPHELD 4 TO 1 BY NEW YORK COURT

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—In a four-to-one decision the Appellate division upheld today the constitutionality of the statute outlawing suits for alienation of affections, criminal conversation, seduction, and breach of promise to marry. Presiding Justice Francis Martin dissented, but read no opinion regarding his views of the law.

The legislature, in passing the law, effective on March 29, 1935, following which all such suits were prohibited except those accrued before that date, had a right to place the marriage contract above a contract for a day's labor under commercial agreements, according to Justice Irwin Untermyer, who wrote the prevailing opinion.

Justice Untermyer pointed out that degrading publicity frequently forced defendants to settle suits which had no legal merit.

The Appellate division accordingly dismissed the appeal of Catherine Fearon, a nurse, whose action for $25,000 damages against Charles Trainor, whom she charged with breach of promise and seduction, was thrown out of court by Supreme Court Justice Isidor Wasservogel.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 29.—(AP)—Egyptian troops captured today an Arab caravan smuggling 100 rifles near Aqaba, at the northern end of the Red sea. The arms were confiscated.

"Death Is a Little Man," by Minnie Hite Moody. [Messner, $2.50.] Published on Thursday.

"The Islands," by Gerald Warner Brace. [Putnams, $2.50.] Published yesterday.

"This Way to the Big Show," by Dexter W. Fellows and Andrew A. Freeman. [Viking, $3.50.] Published yesterday.

THIS week Chicago adds another name to its roster of novelists—that of Katharine Hamill [of Hinsdale], with a first novel of distinction, "Swamp Shadow."

"Swamp Shadow"—wholly unlike Elizabeth Madox Roberts' "The Time of Man" in plot, has something of the same reality and technical adeptness as that beautiful record, written in the native idiom of its characters. It is easy enough for a writer to use the local idiom in conversational passages. Many have tried to use it throughout a book, but most of them have failed.

Katharine Hamill has succeeded, so well that the reader is not conscious of effort, the style is inevitably rooted in the soil of gulf-washed Mississippi. Idiom, not argot, Miss Hamill uses, reproducing the construction of speech and thought rather than the actual phonetic sounds of pronunciation.

There is inevitability, also about its atmosphere . . . violence shot through with utter lackadaisicalness. Even its heroine, the one of the twenty-two children of old Joe Roper, who had a straight eye for what she wanted and took it and paid whatever life asked, knew that some things you can't do nothing about noways like when she saw the man she loved dead before her eyes by the hand of the man who wanted to make her his legal and lawful wife, but couldn't, leastways not rightly, because he was her half-sister's own son.

"Swamp Shadow" belongs to the "po' white trash" school of southern fiction the way that you and the man next door in the bus belong to the city of Chicago. You may be as different as [literally] black and white, but you both have your being in the same air on the same geographical land. Just that much alike and no more are "Swamp Angel" and, say Erskine Caldwell's novels and stories and plays and William Faulkner's fiction. They all have in common lack of ambition, physical ineritia and an acceptance of fate [whether violent, passionate, or dull]. That is the earth, good, stony or soggy, in which their authors sow seeds. What grows out of that earth is another and an individual matter.

Miss Hamill knows her material even though she is a Chicagoan. She has spent twenty-five of her thirty-five winters on the gulf coast of Mississippi and at first by unconscious absorption and later by trained intent, she gathered her material. Miss Hamill was for six years political secretary to Ruth Hanna McCormick. She then became a research expert and contributor to Fortune magazine.

Rinehart's "The Doctor" Her Best Fiction Book.

It is, perhaps, enough to say of Mary Roberts Rinehart's latest novel, "The Doctor," that it is—to this reader's mind—the best book of fiction she has ever written. For in that statement there is inherent the fact that Mrs. Rinehart has a skill in telling a story rivaled by no one. In her autobiography [which was a book as rich in human courage and reality as any of our day] she says that when her sons went to college and studied literature "it gradually dawned on them that 'mother' was no light of the world, but only a good professional writer."

Occasionally Mrs. Rinehart has written a book—among the even fifty listed opposite the title page—that might warant that modesty, but even then, the "only" is an understatement. In "The Doctor" she has written a moving, honest, intense, and fascinating life story that embodies all of her unparalleled skill as "a good professional writer" and is besides, rich in a deep human quality that made her autobiography a book you can't forget.

The situations are occasionally "good professional writing." The most critical reader might at times question the reality of Dr. Chris Aden as a character in a well-made plot or the old situation of an undelivered letter wrecking a romance, but that same reader would never question the reality of Dr. Chris Arden as a doctor. What he thinks, how he looks at his life and his work is subtle, understanding and its communication in words nearer to genius than some of the more vaunted novelists ever come.

Mrs. Moody Contributes to Literature of Negro.

"Death Is a Little Man" is a story of "Eenie Weaver, born Eenie Coade, the twelfth child and sixth daughter of an African Baptist preacher," and of her troubles with Weaver, whom she loved, and who was ornery as he could be, crackin' his eyes at other gals and stobbin' with his cantaloupe knife. In the country life was lush. In the city life was hard, but companionable. Mrs. Moody chronicles both those lives through the eyes of her Negro characters. No white man or woman is intruded. The author does, however, write not from the inside looking out but from the outside looking in.

The narrative is mostly written in white folks' words and from white folks' point of view, but with an occasional black phrase to point it.

"Abinger Harvest" Is Forster Collection.

"Abinger Harvest" is a collection of "about eighty articles, essays, reviews, poems, etc., chosen out of a number of contributions to various periodicals," says E. M. Forster in his prefatory note, and "They are arranged not in their order of composition but according to subjects," which are commentaries on passing events, literary criticism, the past, the East, and the text of the Abinger pageant. Mr. Forster lives in Abinger Hammer on ground that he bought from the proceeds of the American sale of "A Passage to India" . . . he writes an amusing and deft essay about that.

No matter what E. M. Forster writes about the result is amusing and deft—and in many cases profound, as well. The section of literary criticism is vastly stimulating and full of such pungent observations as "One always tends to overpraise a long book, because one has got through it." The first essay—chronologically—is "Macolnia Shops," written in 1903 and describing, delightfully, an ancient toilet case in the Kirchner museum in Rome.

"The Islands" Another Popular Story of Maine.

"The Islands," by Gerald Warner Brace, is another of the increasingly popular tales of Maine. Its hero, unlike the heroes of Maine best sellers of the last few years, is plucked from his native heath and taken by a kind lady to Boston for an education. The boy manages to stand it—with the help of spending most of his summers on or by the sea—until there remains only one year at Harvard between him and a civil engineering degree. The call of home is too much for him and he goes into the ship building business with his uncle.

There is much local color, though no local language in "The Islands"—except that they call a boat a "bo't." The book is well written—sometimes beautifully written—but it is uninspired, like a woman whose features are all perfect but who isn't, incomprehensibly, a beauty.

Mysteries of the Week

BY MORTIMER QUICK

"The Glittering Isle" [Covici Friede], by Wilson Collison, goes lunging through the less alluring haunts of Manhattan Island, once in a while bringing up with a bang against assorted revolting characters. The lunging is mostly done by a rough hewn Adonis who advertises himself, between drinks, as "the best —— —— newspaper man in town" and proceeds to prove it by tracking down the reprehensible bumper-off of a no less reprehensible character.

He is assisted by gangsters great and small, by a wide knowledge of that world literally called under, and a rather touching faith in his own abilities. He falls in love with a beautiful girl in a casual sable coat and one of the profounder mysteries of the book is how she happens to return his affection. However, if you like 'em high, wide, and handsome you'll get some kind of a kick out of this fast one.

In a milder vein is "The Life of the Party" [Appleton Century], by Elizabeth Jordan. Miss Jordan emphatically does not believe in murder so her heroes step in at such time to avert it. The young man who here arrives on the minute is also by implication an Adonis but a nice smooth one whose good manners reflect an admirable soul. Deep Long Island is the scene of machinations subtle and selfish which really do keep you guessing just as long as Miss Jordan prefers you in that mood. This is a pleasant book for those who dislike blood and thunder but enjoy being baffled.

No crimes are consummated, the good are made happy and the bad get a portion of what's coming to them. That it is agreeably written goes without saying and the reader sufficiently gentle is sure to enjoy it.

Waugh Writes Second Book on Ethiopians

BY FRANK SWINNERTON.

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—All readers of intelligence are agreed as to the talent of Evelyn Waugh, and not all of them agree as to its rank in the modern world. I am one of those who think him about the best, as well as the most original of our youngest prose writers, and not only versatile and brilliant but constantly improving.

Now among the best books he has written is one called "Remote People," which was published in 1931, and which described the author's experiences at the coronation of the emperor of Ethiopia, in Kenya, Tanganyika, and elsewhere. "Remote People" is a real book.

It was clear that if he could be persuaded to go to Abyssinia during the recent critical months and record his impressions, the result would be a valuable book, and it is good news that after a stay of some time in the country he is home again and finishing a picture of Abyssinia which is to be called "The Disappointing War" [Longmans, Green].

A novel which has attracted and will continue to attract much attention in England is Miss Rachel Ferguson's "A Harp in Lowndes Square" [Cape], in which the eerie and the comic are nimbly combined by an original young woman whose hand of late has been observable in "Punch." Miss Ferguson first made a name for herself with a short novel called "The Brontes Went to Woolworth's," which Benn published some years ago.

An odd book is being published by Sampson Low, It is called "The Autobiography of 'The Card'," and at first sight American readers may not realize what that means. But Arnold Bennett's book, "Denry the Audacious," was published in England under the title of "The Card," and Ald. H. K. Hales of Hanley has always been proud of the fact that he was made into a hero by his old friend, Arnold Bennett. He has long itched to write a book, and at one time he asked Bennett's help in publishing it, but only now has he carried his scheme to execution.

As Mr. Hales has had a remarkable life, which has taken him all over the world and into the British parliament, he has much to tell. And he has a gift for expression.

Literary Awards

The first annual awards were recently made by the booksellers of the United States. They were:

For the most distinguished novel of the year—to Rachel Field for "Time Out of Mind."

For the most distinguished biography of the year—to Vincent Sheean for "Personal History."

For the most distinguished nonfiction excluding biography and ephemeral subjects—to Anne Morrow Lindbergh for "North to the Orient."

No monetary awards were made but each winner received a bronze paper weight and their books the inestimable advantage of being sincerely chosen as the most distinguished books of the year by the majority of the booksellers of America.

Another important literary award was made when the American Library association chose "Caddie Woodlawn," by Carol Ryrie Brink as the winner of the annual Newbery medal for the "most distinguished contribution to children's literature published during the preceding year." The Newbery award is a medal like the Booksellers' award carrying no monetary prize. These two awards, representing as they do the judgment of the distributors of literature among readers, are considered by many to be the most coveted of all the literary awards.

Circus Press Agent Writes Autobiography.

"This Way to the Big Show" is a careless-like autobiography of the most famous circus press agent in America, Dexter Fellows. He has been at his job some forty odd years. He has seen the circus grow from a one to a three ringed riot. He has seen changing styles from the old Buffalo Bill wild west thrills to programs where even wild animals were eliminated because they frightened the audiences. He has been a pal of some of the most famous elephants of circus history and of all the most famous of human elephants—men who are reputed the smartest, the toughest skinned, but at heart the gentlest of creatures, newspaper men.

He has escorted to the royal box kings and queens and to its American equivalent deadheads from presidents to conquered redskins. And speaking of deadheads, he explains the mystery of the term "Annie Oakley" as used to signify a free ticket. It's because little Annie Oakley used to shoot the spots off cards, and free tickets always have holes punched in them. Simple as that.

He tells about the Deadwood coach used in the Buffalo Bill Wild West shows. [He tells everything to Andrew A. Freeman, never writes it himself.] He tells how it used to be a great privilege for distinguished guests of the circus to ride in it in the stage coach holdup scene.

Queen Victoria's little boy rode in the coach once in London. Well, Mrs. Butcher's little girl rode in it once, too, in Chicago. The manager of the circus was a childhood friend of my mother and when the circus came to town there was always clan gathering, food in the mess tent, patting of elephant trunks, and such innocuous happiness for a child.

The two Thompson children, about my age, had often ridden in the Deadwood coach and they dared me to go with them. I weighed 37½ pounds [avoirdupois, not troy] and was therefore afraid of nothing, though not what could be called well upholstered.

The coach was authentic, no springs, no cushions, nothing but solid padding wood—when it got started. I emerged from the attack able only to stand and not able, for days, to sit. And I count that day the one on which the seed of my present lush crop of gray hair was planted. But it was fun.

That's just what Mr. Fellows' book is—fun. Not great literature, not even a great book about the circus, but a record of haps and mishaps that is as much fun for grownup readers as the circus is for a 6 year old.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Bob Becker

Binks Has His Fun.

May 29, 1936.

EVERY time we drive through the country when farmers are busy in their fields we notice how often there are dogs following their masters as they work. The Tribune experimental farm at Yorkville is no exception. We noticed the other day that Binks, the little fox terrier, was acting as a sort of "supervisor" in one of the fields where one of the boys was running a four row corn planter.

Binks took it upon himself to see that Louis was doing a good job of planting corn. To watch this little smooth fox terrier trotting along next to the machine and see how he forgot his job when he spotted a gopher was very amusing. Once he raced away from the corn planter, hoping he could get hold of a gopher before it ducked into a hole in the ground. Having no luck at this game, back he came to supervise the planting.

Weather Favors Work.

The boys have been having good "corn weather," and so they haven't let much of the other farm work divert them from this seasonal and important job of planting and other field work. When we were there the other day, two men were driving tractors with plows and harrows attached, one man was discing, and one four-row planter was following them. As long as they had fair weather they spent long hours in the fields in an effort to get the corn planted.

The vegetable gardens are paying dividends on the Yorkville farm. The splendid garden weather of May has produced crops of onions, radishes, and lettuce for the farm families.

Water Cress Abundant.

The water cress on the tiny spring-fed streams of the Yorkville farm are "in their glory" now, their white blossoms marking the winding trails of the streams. These blossoms are especially thick on the creek leading away from the Silver spring, but the rest of the little streams on the farm have their share of the flowers.

Other Flowers Divert.

Two interesting wild flowers are drawing attention away from the water cress. We noticed a beautiful clump of American columbines on the rocky side of a hill at Yorkville, and in another section of the farm a few shooting stars were having their "last fling" as the end of May brings their flowering season to a close.

The boys on the Wheaton farm are paying a lot of attention to the game birds which are being hatched out in coops. A little buff cochin bantam hen came off her nest with ten ringneck pheasant chicks the other day. In a few days another bantam is due to show us what kind of work she has done with her clutch of Mexican quail eggs. Later on we will have mutant pheasants, Chukar partridges, Bob Whites, and valley quail.

Learn About Heaters.

There are a lot of chicks on the Wheaton farm that haven't learned how to absorb heat from an electric brooder. The other evening we went back to the brooder house with Rawlings to see the Rhode Island red chicks. They were huddled up together, some of them shivering as a result of the cool evening weather.

The electric brooder was only a few feet away, but the chicks didn't see their opportunity to get warm and so Rawlings herded them over there. They evidently liked the warm brooder because they made no attempt to get out from under the canvas "curtains." Rawlings reports that the chicks have learned their lesson now, and go into the brooder of their own accord every evening.

SPANISH GUARDS KILL 15 PEASANTS AND WOUND 40

Fire Into Mob After Row Over Tree Cutting.

ALBACETE, Spain, May 29.—(AP)—At least fifteen peasants and one civil guard were killed today near the mountain town of Yeste in one of the most serious battles during Spain's political strife of the last few months.

Between fourteen and seventeen civil guards and forty peasants were wounded in the pitched encounter in which, civil guards said, about 3,000 peasants armed with pistols, knives, and steel hooks used in dragging logs attacked forty guards.

Some reports placed the number of dead as high as twenty-five, but these could not be confirmed because of the strict censorship.

Clash Over Tree Cutting

One of the soldiers said the clash grew out of the desire of the peasants to cut trees in the richly forested mountain region in the southern part of Albacete province in order to convert the land to agricultural purposes.

He said the guards made several arrests, but later released the persons held, warning them to discontinue the tree cutting. Shortly afterward the mob attacked and the civil guards opened fire with rifles, finally dispersing the peasants.

Political observers predicted there would be serious repercussions. They believed Socialist and communist members of parliament will attack the government, which has been trying to suppress the outbreaks which have been numerous since the Leftists gained power in the parliamentary elections of February.

Spain Combats Strikes.

MADRID, May 29.—(AP)—Spain's parliamentary session, originally set to adjourn in June, was prolonged tonight to at least July 15 as strikes continued to disturb national commerce. The cabinet decided to nationalize small railway lines if the companies experienced difficulty in maintaining service. Thirty-one different branches of labor were reported on strike in the province of Malaga.

Twenty-seven Fascists, some armed with pistols, were arrested by police at a clandestine meeting here. Among them were six women. All were alleged to be adherents of José Antonio Primo de Rivera, Fascist leader, who was sentenced to five months' imprisonment yesterday by a court.

ENGINEER DIES AS LOCOMOTIVE PIPE EXPLODES

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—(AP)—Unmanned, the second of two locomotives pulling half a hundred passengers westward roared along for nearly thirty miles today before the tragedy within its cab was learned.

The second engine, in which a bursting steam pipe caused the death of the engineer and stunned the fireman, had no part in controling the train, merely adding power. There was no danger to the passengers of the eight car train.

At a crossing north of Sacramento, Fireman Harry Main on engine No. 2 of the Western Pacific Limited regained consciousness and shouted to the crew in the lead engine.

Backing two miles to Del Paso, the crew notified the dispatcher. A search was started which resulted in finding the body of Engineer O. M. Juillerat near Arboga.

Western Pacific offices here said they had not been informed just how the engineer died, but it was presumed he had jumped when the steam pipe burst. The fireman apparently stepped back to escape the burning steam, fell and struck his head, leaving him dazed or unconscious.

SHERIF SPEAKS TO PRISONERS ON THE BETTER LIFE

Words of advice and encouragement were spoken by Sherif John Toman yesterday in the first of a series of "pep talks" he and Warden Frank Sain of the county jail plan to give jail inmates.

"You're here, for the most part," the sherif told a group of inmates, "because you disregarded your parents' advice and chose bad companionship. But don't let your plight get you down. Grit your teeth and determine to regain respected station in society when you're released.

"Don't be 'copper haters.' Treat each policeman as a friend and he'll repay you with the same sort of consideration. Most of our policemen are men of families, who know your little problems that grow larger through inattention. Mayor Kelly and Commissioner Allman are doing a grand job in promoting friendly understanding between policemen and young people."

Beauty Wins a Divorce; 'Too Pretty,' Says Mate

Mrs. Lucille Ross, 26 years old, 201 South Maple avenue, Oak Park, yesterday was granted a divorce from Dr. George Ross, dentist, by Judge Joseph Sabath of the Superior court. Mrs. Ross, who charged desertion, testified that her husband left her on June 1, 1932, saying: "You are too pretty. Men follow you constantly with their eyes." She was awarded $14 a week for the support of her children, Charles, 6 years old, and Barbara, 4 years old. Mrs. Ross was "Miss Oak Park" in 1927 and 1928.

HITLER REVIEWS REBORN NAVY AT OLD WAR BASE

3 Pocket Battleships Lead Parade.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KIEL, Germany, May 29.—Standing on the bridge of his private dispatch boat Grille in Kiel bay today, Reichsfuehrer Hitler proudly reviewed the German fleet which, as a result of his efforts, will soon give this nation its place again among big naval powers. The review was held in connection with the 20th anniversary of the battle of Jutland [May 31].

The sea parade was an imposing spectacle as Germany's new navy steamed in line before the Fuehrer. The vessels were gay with flags and crews lined the rails.

Battleship Leads Parade.

The fleet was led by the newest pocket battleship, Admiral Graf Spee, the flagship of Admiral Foerster, commander of the high seas fleet.

The warships were divided into eight groups headed by three pocket battleships. For the first time since the world war the reich's new submarines participated in a naval review. The "mosquito fleet," including new speedboats equipped with torpedo tubes, brought up the rear.

Earlier in the day Hitler watched gunnery practice against the old battleship Zaehringen, now a target ship filled with cork and directed by wireless. Then came mock attacks by planes on battleships which hastily shrouded themselves in smoke screens.

Dedicate Shaft Today.

In the afternoon the fleet returned to Kiel, former Kaiser Wilhelm's war port. They steamed past Laboe, where tomorrow a memorial to sailors who were killed in the world war will be dedicated.

The shores were lined with thousands who were unable to see the review, but waited to cheer Hitler on his return. They were given a brilliant entertainment this evening when all ships were illuminated and the ships' searchlights swept the skies.

WOUNDED YOUTH FOUND ON ROAD; SHOOTING VICTIM

Thomas Griffith, 19 years old, of Zion, was found seriously wounded yesterday in the highway near the estate of G. C. Wolterding, on the Green Bay road two miles west of Zion. Griffith, who had been employed on the estate for two months, was found by a passing motorist and taken to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan.

He told police he had shot himself in the left shoulder while alone in his quarters on the estate, but would not say whether the shooting was accidental or give any explanation. In Griffith's quarters police found a .22 caliber rifle from which one cartridge had been fired, the bullet passing through Griffith's shoulder and falling on a bed.

Neither Wolterding, who is a member of an insurance firm at 164 West Jackson boulevard, nor any members of his family were on the estate at the time of the shooting.

U. S. Courtrooms Here Will Be Air Conditioned

All courtrooms in the United States courthouse are to be air conditioned, it was announced yesterday by Charles Shirley, custodian of the building. The new ventilating systems are to be installed within the next few months as a part of a $600,000 remodeling program for the building for which bids are now being advertised, Shirley said.

DUBLIN, May 29.—(AP)—The Irish Free State senate became officially nonexistent today. Gov. Gen. Buckley signed the bill to abolish it which was sponsored by President Eamon de Valera. The dail eireann passed the bill last night, 74 to 52.

WIDOW HANGS TWO CHILDREN, SELF; TIRED OF 'BATTLE OF LIFE'

Dunkirk, N. Y., May 29.—(AP)—A widowed mother, "tired of the battle of life," hanged her two little children from a single bedpost today and then hanged herself, Chief of Police John J. Warren said.

The stepson, Joseph Higgins, 35, who had helped support the family since the father's death about three years ago, said his mother had been ill almost a year. The authorities quoted neighbors as saying she told them she was "tired of the battle of life" and that she "wanted the children to go with her" when she died.

REVEALS PLAN TO MAKE PHILIPPINES 'INVASION-PROOF'

'Midget Fleet' Planes Basis of Scheme.

MANILA, P. I., May 29.—(AP)—Plans to make the Philippine Islands "invasion proof" with a fleet of tiny, high speed fighting craft and a relatively large but fast moving army reserve were revealed tonight by Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former United States army chief of staf and now military adviser to President Quezon.

When the Philippines become an independent republic after 1945, he said, there will be an offshore patrol of 50 to 100 small defense ships capable of moving 50 to 60 miles an hour, 400,000 trained reserves, 250 plane air force and a comparatively small standing army.

In thirty years, he added, there will be 1,200,000 army reserves.

$80,000,000 For Defense.

"As we go along," MacArthur said, "we shall collect supplies and equipment for this army, guaranteeing that the reserves can go into action within a short time, fully equipped for field duty.

"With leadership such as is afforded by President Quezon, these islands will become a great nation and the gateway to the far east. Their natural position will make them easy to defend and invasion costly.

"We have $8,000,000 to spend during the ten year period for military defense. That means economy, but I am confident we can erect a defense that will discourage any invasion."

MacArthur said the small boat plan would develop eight years hence and produce results two years thereafter. He said the tiny fighting vessels will carry crews of eight men each and will have two torpedo tubes each.

Claims Value Has Been Proved.

"The value of these ships already has been proven," he continued. "Their speed makes them a difficult target. With air forces coöperating with this fleet, no admiral would risk his ships to invade Philippine waters. We can get 15 of these craft at a cost of one submarine.

"We shall get the air fleet within the last two years of the transition period. In the meantime we are developing air field personnel."

MacArthur said if the islands followed the general defense plan "the Philippines can rest in perfect security."

"It would take a half million men, ten billion dollars, tremendous casualties, and three years' time successfully to invade the Philippines," he added.

RULES JURY MAY SEE PHOTOS OF LOEB'S WOUNDS

State Wins 1st Round in Day Murder Trial.

The state won the opening clash yesterday in the trial of James Day, young Stateville penitentiary convict, for the murder in the prison of Richard Loeb, one of the slayers of Bobby Franks. Judge Edwin L. Wilson, in the Will county Circuit court at Joliet, ruled that photographs of Loeb's body may be admitted in evidence and shown to the jury.

The pictures, taken in the prison hospital after Loeb was slashed to death with a razor by Day last Jan. 28, disclose 52 cuts on Loeb's body. They are regarded as the prosecution's chief weapon to combat Day's plea that he killed in self-defense. Judge Wilson's decision that the photographs were admissable came after strenuous objections by Defense Attorneys Harold L. Levy and Emmet F. Byrne.

Trial Adjourned to Monday.

The jury, which was completed Thursday after four days questioning of veniremen, was excluded during the legal arguments on the photographs. After his ruling Judge Wilson adjourned the trial to Monday.

Opening statements to the jury will be made Monday morning and testimony will begin in the afternoon. At that time the state is expected to introduce the photographs in evidence with medical testimony as to the nature of the wounds.

Because of the nature of the testimony expected Judge Wilson ruled yesterday that minors will be barred from the trial. The judge, however, overruled a defense motion that women also be excluded from the hearings.

Will Plead Self-Defense.

Day's attorneys will contend that he killed Loeb in self-defense after a furious battle under a shower in a penitentiary bathroom. Loeb had been annoying him for months, Day declared, and took the razor to the bathroom. Both men were in the nude when the fight occurred.

Assistant State's Attorneys Walter Herschbach and Charles J. McKeown, conducting the prosecution for Will county, will contend that the fierceness of Day's razor attack cannot be justified by a self-defense plea.

In Prison Since 1933.

Day, who is 22 years old, has been in Stateville since 1933, serving a 1 to 10 year sentence for larceny in Chicago. Loeb was serving terms of 99 years and life for the kidnaping and slaying of the Franks boy in 1924. Loeb's partner in this crime, Nathan Leopold, is serving similar sentences at Stateville.

SECOND GERMAN MONK CONVICTED OF INDECENT ACT

COBLENZ, Germany, May 29.—(AP)—Matthias Wansart, the second Franciscan friar to be convicted of indecent acts with male minors, received a four year penitentiary sentence tonight.

In addition, Wansart, known to the order as Brother Oswald, was deprived of his citizenship privileges for five years.

More than 250 Franciscan monks in the Rhineland and Westphalia have been indicted on charges of immorality. The first member of the order convicted at a secret trial was Peter Steinhoff, known as Brother Leovigill. He was sent to prison for eight years and lost his citizenship for 10 years.

MEXICO CITY, May 29.—(AP)—A group of 273 long term prisoners left Mexico City under heavy guard today for Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, en route to the Marias islands, this country's penal colony in the Pacific. Balconies and roofs were crowded with spectators as soldiers and police arrived at the penitentiary to escort the prisoners, some of them weeping, to the railway station.

GAS ROUTS 6 BANK BANDITS IN JERSEY; FAIL TO GET CASH

Paterson, N. J., May 29.—[Special.]—Bank bandits, unusually active in northern New Jersey in recent months, attempted today to hold up the Haledon National bank in Haledon, a suburb, but fled in a cloud of tear gas set off by an assistant teller.

There were six men in the bandit gang, and they escaped in a sedan stolen yesterday in Bergen county. They entered the Haledon bank brandishing pistols and sawed off shotguns.

One bandit approached Marinus C. Tamboer, president of the bank, thrust a pistol against his side and told him it was a stickup. He forced Tamboer to the rear of the room and two other bandits stepped up to the tellers' cages with drawn guns.

Miro Frederick, a bookkeeper, and Theodore Ellis, assistant teller, found themselves looking down the barrels of two guns. Their hands went up, but Ellis' foot moved gently to a floor button.

The tear gas was released with a report that sounded like a gunshot, and in a second the bank was filled with the blinding fumes. Half a dozen customers, who were being held off by other bandits, clapped their hands to their eyes.

One robber wandered round for a moment, a gun in one hand and a handkerchief held in his face with the other. Then there was a rush for the door, the robbers leading the way. Behind them came the customers, and after them the bank employés.

The bandits jumped into a car, but their haste was such that they left one of their number behind as they drove away. He ran after them, screaming and waving his arms. They halted long enough for him to reach the car, took him aboard, and resumed their flight.

FREE ATTORNEY ON CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Lawrenceville, Ill., May 29.—[Special.]—J. Stanley Bradbury, Crawford county state's attorney, today was acquitted of manslaughter charges growing out of an automobile accident nearly two years ago in which Charles A. Ress of Paris, Ill., was fatally injured. A jury deliberated more than ten hours, most of the time divided 11 to 1 for acquittal.

The state charged that the state's attorney's automobile was parked without lights along a highway when it was struck by the machine in which Ress was riding.

Bradbury testified his car was moving when struck and that he was knocked unconscious. He said that at the time of the accident he was returning home from a dance and was driving along a highway to ascertain if road houses were observing his closing orders.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The house today approved a conference report on the $194,762,527 agricultural appropriation bill for 1937 and returned it to the senate for agreement on two changes.

One was a reduction from $2,579,837 to $2,077,758 in the amount carried for food and drug law enforcement. The other was an amendment appropriating $40,000 for shrimp and other sea food factory inspection. The senate had provided $80,000.

Attack Association in Row with Judges.

An independent slate of candidates for Chicago Bar association offices, reported to represent 100 attorneys who were dissatisfied with the way the association has handled its controversy with Circuit and Superior court judges, was filed yesterday by Attorney Charles H. Borden, 100 West Monroe street. The independent candidates will oppose the regular slate selected by the association's nominating committee.

The controversy between the judges and bar resulted in the withdrawal of 43 judges from the association after four of their number had been requested to appear before its board of managers. The four were summoned to answer charges of misconduct because of political activity in the April primary, but have refused to appear.

Charges Lack of Diplomacy.

"We felt the association officers were not very diplomatic," Attorney Borden said. "The question of judges participating in politics cannot be settled overnight in a summary manner.

"We are opposed to the regular slate, with three exceptions, because it is the same old story of nominating men who have been officers for many years. The aim of the independent slate is to have a representation of all members, so that interest will be awakened and loss of members stopped."

On Both Slates.

The three attorneys on both slates are Donald B. Hatmaker, Carl Cohn, and Charles M. Hickman. The rival slates follow:

3,000 MORE JAP TROOPS MARCH INTO NORTH CHINA

SHANGHAI, May 28.—(AP)—On the heels of a strike of Chinese students in Tientsin against Japan's program, 3,000 fresh Japanese troops marched into North China garrisons today. These reinforcements strengthened garrisons at Tientsin, Peiping and Fengtai. Two Chinese protests against the military occupation have been fruitless.

The Chuanliangchen bridge on the railroad between Tangku and Tientsin was blown up tonight. It was believed the perpetrators intended to wreck trains carrying Japanese reinforcements to this region.

Japan, Chinese sources assert, now has 20,000 soldiers in Tientsin and Peiping. Japanese claim there are only 8,000, but admit more are en route.

Chinese authorities of Tientsin and Peiping, at the demand of the Japanese army, took steps to end student demonstrations. Authorities warned that "street parades will be stopped by force."

DAVIS PREDICTS FARM CRASH OR MORE CONTROL

Makes Statement on Return from Europe.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—[Special.]—Chester C. Davis, shelved administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration, today predicted that American agriculture faces another "tailspin" unless new forms of production controls are worked out.

The prediction was made in an hour press conference on the first day of his return from a two month inspection tour of Europe. Davis was sent on the inspection tour when the New Deal embarked on the soil conservation program of continuing farm subsidies, and direction of the plan was turned over to H. R. Tolley, a soil conservation expert, who is acting AAA administrator.

Tells Production Control.

Davis, who is shortly to embark on a speaking tour for the purpose of corralling farm votes for the New Deal on the strength of subsidy continuance, said he found strict production control in each of eleven European countries he visited. He advocated negotiations looking forward to an increased volume of international trade and the letting down or extinction of tarif barriers.

"I came back here with the very firm conviction that the United States, if it is going to live in this world of nations, will have to find some way to assist the farmers to deal with agricultural problems as national and international problems."

Favors Firmer Hand.

Davis was asked if he did not believe the present soil conservation program exerts sufficient control over farm production. He said no one could tell how the program will work out, indicating that he believes a firmer hand on the farmer would be more desirable for the New Deal, although he acknowledged the present program to be "a good start."

As for his own future Davis said he did not intend to resume active administration of the AAA "at this time," because he wants to tour the country and see how the new program is getting along. He said he plans several speeches, but denied that politics would be injected into his addresses.

Yangtze River Rises; New Flood Disaster Is Feared

HANKOW, China, May 29.—(AP)—A steady and abnormal rise of the Yangtze river tonight created fears of another flood disaster. The river overflowed the tops of dikes above Hankow, inundating several villages.

CORONATION DATE FOR KING READ AT MEDIEVAL RITES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 29.—The coronation date for the 38th monarch of the British empire was publicly proclaimed in London today with pomp and pagentry dating back to the middle ages.

The announcement that Edward VIII. of England will be crowned May 12, 1937, was made in four places—from the purple draped balcony of St. James's palace, beneath the statue of King Charles in Trafalgar square, at the corner of Chancery lane and Fleet street, and from the steps of the Royal exchange.

Great Crowd Hears Heralds.

A great crowd assembled when Sir Gerald Wollaston, garter principal king of arms, in a flat Tudor cap and scarlet gold tabard, appeared on St. James's balcony and unrolled the yard wide proclamation parchment. Beside him stood the young duke of Norfolk, earl marshal of England, in a scarlet uniform, cocked hat, and carrying a gold baton, and the marquess of Salisbury, steward of Westminster, in a privy councillor's uniform.

On either side of the two sergeants-at-arms, with gold maces, were three pursuivants, heralds, and two other kings of arms.

Delivers Traditional Challenge.

Headed by an escort of guards, the glittering cavalcade then rode through London streets to Trafalgar square and the City of London boundary at Temple bar. There the city marshal delivered the traditional challenge before the heraldic party was allowed to enter.

After the proclamation was read for a third time, the heralds drove to the Royal exchange, where the final reading was given.

WHOSE ARE THE DESTITUTE NOW? MR. ROOSEVELT'S.

Treasury figures and reports given the senate for its guidance in redrawing the tax bill serve also to disclose again the incredibility, the fantastic monstrosity of the Roosevelt depression. It is now his own monster. He and his advisers have coddled it, played with it, and been gay and light hearted about it in four years of an administration which was going to end it all in jig time. Now look at the thing.

If the country has the good sense to elect and the good luck to get a Republican President to take over in 1937, that candidate will have the bad luck to assume a burden and a problem greater than any since the day of Lincoln, and quite as stupendous as the heart break that fell on the White House in 1861.

Mr. Roosevelt was elected by people embittered by their misfortunes, which they blamed upon a political party and an administration formed by that party. They turned hopefully to a man whose speech was eloquent and whose promises were persuading. They gave him complete authority, to which congress immediately bent the knee. No suggestion he made was rejected, no act was opposed, no law he wanted was denied him, and in undertaking what he did he was able for a long time to step entirely outside the constitution of the United States.

In 1933 he had a deficit of 3 billion plus, to which in 1934 he added another deficit of nearly 4 billions, increasing it in '35 by 3½ billions, and in 1936 putting nearly 6 billions on top of that. The estimate for 1937, the immediate situation his successor would have to face, is one of expenditures of over 8 billions, the necessity of increasing the revenue by a billion and a half and still facing an additional deficit of 2½ billions.

These expenditures and deficits tower out of the realm of ordinary comprehension into the blue, where only the imagination can feebly try to rise. And what is the social and economic condition of the country? After these years which were to be the years of buoyant recovery under cocksure medicine makers, there are 20 million demoralized people in the United States whose return to self-sustaining and hopeful ways of life will tax the best public and private intelligence. They have been so depressed by the conditions in which they have been forced to live that some of them may be already beyond salvage.

For most of them there is hope if they can be encouraged to believe again that America contains fair opportunities for them. Many of them were resentful when they elected Mr. Roosevelt, but they are now dull with despair. Even youth has become embittered. Opportunity, in the world they see, has been banished.

These were the people for whom Mr. Roosevelt and his sprightly advisers were to be the trustees. The people had, it was said, been injured and done injustice. They could in a short time be rescued from their plight. Let them answer as to their present condition. Let the schemers answer for it.

No gay folly, however ruinous, in high places can in four years completely defeat all the American people. Business men have tackled their problems in spite of their fear of what the government would next do to them. They have fought conditions and they have fought politicians, dreamers, and schemers who were their greatest enemies. They have proved that if they could be relieved of a willful, destructive government they could make the grade and pull the country out of the hole by their efforts. That is the one ray of hope in the gloom.

These four years have seen not only the finances of the country abused to the breaking point, its productive resources wasted, and the means of using them crippled, but have seen persistent attack upon the liberties of the people in the interest of a social and economic revolution which cannot be mistaken for anything other than communism. It has been made quite plain that the purpose is to force the American system of private enterprise to destroy itself in order that the ruins may invite the communists in as the only salvation. Word and act in Washington leave no room to doubt this. Within this purpose lies the chief intention of the Roosevelt administration and each new proposal verifies the accusation. To the loss of property will be added the loss of liberty.

The election of Mr. Roosevelt was a calamity beyond prophetic vision. No one could have imagined that an election could have results so terrifying. Men now solemnly admit that the consequences of the return of an administration which has reduced the country to its present condition are incalculable. It might mean the end of everything that Americans have known and prized.

The Republican convention at Cleveland must face these facts. The delegates must look at this picture and realize that the man they nominate, if elected, must be qualified to restore a nation. If he is not elected, God help the people in the United States. Look back over the four years which were to have ended their misfortunes and which have multiplied them a hundred times. Then ask what the future can contain if this is to be continued.

SPEAK UP, MR. BORAH!

Senator Borah's radio speech Thursday evening contained some remarks which have been interpreted as referring to Gov. Landon. Mr. Borah said that the choice of the Republican candidate is of even greater importance than the terms of the Republican platform. He added that the candidate, if he is to win, must be a man who cannot by any stretch be regarded as the friend of monopoly. And then the senator went on to assert that a few great oil companies control the entire industry, that they will have their representatives in the convention, and the man these delegates support can be presumed to be the candidate of monopoly.

The correspondents read these sections of the speech in connection with some previous remarks by Mr. Borah. Several weeks ago he charged that the Oklahoma delegation was controled by the oil companies and this delegation stands pledged to Gov. Landon.

Mr. Borah has something on his mind. It is a pity that he chose to say it by indirection and innuendo instead of in forthright language. If he knows anything which will compromise Gov. Landon as a candidate he should say it in terms which cannot be misinterpreted or misunderstood. Mr. Borah has a duty to speak plainly. Whatever it is that he is hinting at is not known to others in the party. The delegates should have all the facts in their possession before they come to make the choice. If the senator waits until after the convention he will have waited too long.

It is known, of course, that Mr. Landon was in the oil business before he became governor. He and his friends have said, not once but many times, that he has always been an independent operator, as his father was before him, and as such he owes no allegiance to any one in the business. No evidence to the contrary has been presented by Mr. Borah or any one else, although Gov. Landon has been a prominent candidate for the nomination for a year and the leading candidate for at least six weeks.

As matters stand, there is the greatest likelihood that Mr. Landon will be nominated. He is today by far the most popular of the Republican candidates. He has a distinguished record both as a vote getter and as an executive. If he has some serious disqualification it is remarkable that the fact has not already been revealed. If Mr. Borah knows of such a disqualification he should name it specifically and at once.

WOMAN IN DEFENSE OF HER OWN.

A novel and important manifestation of the aroused determination of Americans to organize for the protection of their interests from the disintegrating forces at work is the newly formed "Women Investors of America," which will hold its first national congress in Chicago on June 3 and 4. A nonpartisan but militantly patriotic organization, Women Investors, has been engaged for some months in awakening women to their special concern in recent legislation and political and economic preachments which affect and endanger the security of women as well as men, and the purpose of the convention next week is to discuss the financial and economic problems of women as investors and property owners.

The movement is one of the most timely in the effort of the American people to bring order and practical thinking out of the confusion and demoralizing experimentation which the depression years have brought upon a normally sane and courageous people. The stake of women in the conservation of their heritage and the restoration of the prosperity and progress which American principles created and maintained is enormous, but it has not been realized. "Women Investors" has had the inspiration to call public attention and especially the attention of women to the importance of woman's share of the national wealth, to her vital importance as a property owner, in the homes, in insurance, in trust funds, savings accounts, and securities. To woman taxation and government spending are fully as important as to men, and the consequences of unwise and destructive policies are not less disastrous to her and to the nation than to men.

The first women's conference on finance will, therefore, be one of the most significant and useful events in the effort to restore American sanity and prosperity. It has been well prepared by its leaders. The topics to be discussed suggest the scope of its interests—Women's Part in the Building of Our Nation, The Great Game of Taxation, Agricultural Economics, Investment Fundamentals, What Price, Inflation—and the topics will be treated by men and women who know what they are talking about.

There is nothing more essential to the welfare of the country than to rally the intelligence and character of American women to the defense of their property rights and the future of their children, which is the future of the nation.

Editorial of the Day

CHEMURGIC AIMS.

[Detroit News.]

Francis P. Garvan was wise in disclaiming for the Farm Chemurgic council, of which he is president, any thought of advancing its aims by political means. In making this statement, as we understand it, he doubtless reflects the majority views of the 1,200 scientists, industrialists, and agricultural experts attending the council's meeting here.

The idea of seeking outlets in industry for surplus food crops and farm byproducts is a splendid one, and bringing to bear on it the mobilized thought of science, industry, and agriculture makes it seem rich in promise.

If there is in it any cause whatever for anxiety, that cause will be found in the temptation to force the fruition of its aims by resort to political coercion. By that we mean, of course, the resort to tariffs and penalty taxation to force industry's adoption of farm raw materials that have not yet proved their economic feasibility.

This temptation easily could become a strong one and should be eschewed definitly by the council at the very start, if only to insure the continued hearty cooperation of industry with its endeavors.

A movement that enlisted the organized farmers of America to force utilization of their products in industry readily could enmesh the country in a paralyzing web of price fixations and trade barriers. Such a perversion of the Chemurgic council's aims would serve only to intensify the farmers' troubles.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

NOW I DON'T KNOW but what Gov. Landon might be a pretty good President—he likes catfish. Likes to catch 'em and likes to eat 'em. And I insist there is nothing more delicious than catfish cooked right, thought right there Gov. Landon and I stand far apart on the catfish platform. He cooks it after the Kansas method, which is to clean and skin the catfish, cut it in chunks, dip it in batter, then fry in deep fat and eat 'em with hot biscuits. Maybe that's what's the matter with Kansas! It's a horrible process. The only proper way to prepare catfish so it will taste better than pompano, Spanish mackerel, lobster à la Newburgh or humming birds' tongues boiled in dew is to clean and skin 'em, cut 'em in chunks, and roll in cornmeal and likewise rub cornmeal on the inside of the fish. Then fry in bacon grease or butter, just enough to cover the bottom of the pan. And baking powder biscuit should never be served with catfish. In our best catfish circles it simply isn't done. Cohn pone or cohn bread sticks have just got to be served with catfish. And of course potatoes, baked or mashed or even fried.

But Gov. Landon has the right idea about fishing; he admits he sometimes fools around with a fly, but he loves to sit by a little river and go after catfish with a bobber. "I just like to see that cork yank under," says he. Now, that's good. And if Mr. Landon gets to be President I'll take him down to the Wabash—"through the sycamores the candle lights are gleaming"—and let him catch some catfish that will make the Kansas kind look like grasshoppers.

LAMENT.

O darkest of all tragedies, that these,
Our stalwart sons, are lying here today,
By darkness pent, mute prisoners of clay.
The Summer nears, a dream is in the trees—
But not for them!

They were so young—how easy to condemn
Mere laughing lads to war's demonic fate!
They hurried forth; they were too proud to wait
For our embrace. Ah, that our love might stem
Our zeal for strife!

Our young, young dead! We gave them throbbing life
And bade them trust in God, in final good;
We led them in the ways of brotherhood—
But earth went mad, with flames the world was rife—
And these, our sons, are dead!

THOMAS CURTIS CLARK.

LISTEN, FRIENDS! This is a holiday and there's another one tomorrow, and everybody that's got any sort of contraption with wheels on and which is moved along by the aid of gasoline is going to be out on the highway. If you're wise you won't drive at night (but you will drive at night) and you will stop when you come to a railroad track and if a train passes you will wait until you make sure there isn't another one that was hidden by the first train. And when the sign out in the country says STOP—now, honestly, it might be an awful good thing for you if you did just that. I'm telling yuh!

A MAN one hundred and fifteen years old has just died out in Nebraska. He ascribes his long life to eating only plain and substantial food. And he lived to be one hundred and fifteen years old! All right, if I see just fifteen more pictures of Shirley Temple I'm going to eat five meals a day, consisting of pate de foie gras, angel's food cake, Welsh rabbit, chicken livers in cream, chocolate ice cream, vanila ice cream, stuffed dates, assorted bonbons, all known kinds of pie, and toasted marshmallows.

Summon me back, and at your memory's door
I will stand hesitant, eager to lift
A hand against the knocker, waiting for
A little courage and the surging, swift
Upthrust of hope in my quick-beating heart
That tears against the ribs like muted drums,
Waiting to hear your answering footsteps start
Beyond the door whence all my courage comes.
Summon me back, and in the layered smoke
That wreathes the room I will take shape and form
And choose a chair and throw aside my cloak
And sit at ease, with the fire high and warm,
But take no step and say no word to me.
This will be dream, not dear reality.

THE NEW LINER Queen Mary will be in Monday. But if I had to greet friends who were arriving on the Queen Mary I'd be terribly puzzled. Suppose they had rooms in the forward part of the ship—then I'd have to be at the dock on Monday. But suppose they had rooms away back in the stern—then I wouldn't know whether to go to the dock on Tuesday or Wednesday afternoon.

Shall I fetch thee a belt that will stun thee
Ere thou runnest—and spillest my drink?

FACTORS INFLUENCING LONGEVITY.

THERE are but few persons who, barring accident, cannot attain a long and happy life. The trouble is that we are not willing to pay the price, to care for our bodies as nature intended we should. We may be in good health at the moment and, all too frequently, we are inclined to look upon it as a permanent possession—one that will never be taken away.

Every one is interested but few are willing to make the rules of health a part of daily living. No one should work at the job, but we may be mildly conscious of our physical well-being without indulging in introspection or becoming confirmed hypochondriacs.

A few centuries ago the average span of life was only eight years; today it is nearly 58. As most of us know, little progress has been made in the conquest of the diseases incident to middle or late life. The present increase in longevity can be attributed to the victory over epidemic diseases, particularly those which attack infancy, childhood, and youth. No one would wish to prolong life much beyond the period when reasonable serenity and comfort can be assured. This emphasizes the necessity for the intensive investigation of those disabling afflictions that attack mentally alert men and women in the most productive period—middle age.

Of all the killers, heart disease heads the list. We may decrease suffering and disability from this single cause by better care and more attention to rheumatic infections which occur in childhood and in early adult years. Could we remove the baneful effects of rheumatic fever from our midst 70 per cent of all heart disease would be prevented.

It has often been said that the child is father to the man. Upon the welfare, nutrition, and mental outlook of childhood depend the physical vigor, poise, disposition, and efficiency of the adult. Undernutrition is a real factor in early life. This rarely means insufficient food, but rather the wrong types.

Why is it desirable that men and women shall live at least from twenty to thirty years beyond middle life [age 45]? The reason is obvious. Youth and early manhood and womanhood, despite its enthusiasm, its "go," its intelligence, and its knowledge, lacks wisdom. Cut life short and we will miss sadly the creations of ripened thought. Because society needs mature judgment so desperately, we cannot with complacency view the wrecking of efficiency that accompanies the unhygienic habits of those who are beginning to think.

Overeating places so severe a strain upon vital organs that sooner or later disease will gain the ascendancy. Over exercise and overwork will damage the circulation, and apoplexy comes because of weakened blood vessel walls. High blood pressure announces itself because of stress, strain, worry, hurry, and improper elimination, and in turn damages the kidneys and the heart.

With but a minimum amount of attention to health, productivity will not lessen at 60 or even 70. Among many of our greatest minds we find examples of carefully regulated modes of living. Kant, who lived frugally, reached the age of 80. Alexander von Humboldt was 90 at the time of his death; Isaac Newton was 84, as was Herschel, the astronomer. Goethe and Victor Hugo died at 83. Titian died of plague at 90; Michelangelo at 89, and Tintoretto at 82.

Every one must have an occupation, a vocation, or an avocation. The solitary idle man wears out quickly. The one who retires from business is rarely happy unless he can interest himself in something of value to his community. The man or woman in middle life who has not learned how to rest, or play, or take some form of recreation deserves our sympathy. I know scores of men past 60 who will live 20 or more years if they can view their personal affairs with complacency and adopt a philosophy of life that takes the good with the bad, without undue elation or depression.

But let us not be anxious about life. It takes away zest and proves a veritable killjoy.

CONCENTRATION.

H. I. writes: In my earlier years in school I had little trouble in studying; in fact, was an honor student. Now, to my great agitation, I find it impossible to do any studying at all. The slightest noise around me makes me unable to concentrate. Is it possible for a person to disregard all the noises about him?

REPLY.

The ability to concentrate in spite of noisy surroundings is a habit that may be acquired. One should find the most secluded spot possible, because there is no point in driving oneself to put up with more noise than is necessary. However, in this busy world where people are forced to live in small apartments, on streets with much traffic, it pays to cultivate the power of concentration. This will take time, but it will be worth while. You will accomplish more in much less time and with much less nervous strain.

NOT ACID FRUITS.

A. L. writes:

1. Is grapefruit more acid than orange?
2. Is garlic good for high blood pressure or any other ailment?
3. Are elastic girdies injurious to the health?
4. Can an adult exist and be healthy without eating sugar?
5. Is it necessary to eat some substitute for cane sugar if not taken daily?

REPLY.

1. Both grapefruit and oranges are alkali producing foods, not acid.
2. No value has been proved.
3. Not if they are worn for support and are not unduly constricting. Let your personal comfort guide you.
4. Yes.
5. No. Many other foods contain sugar; in fact, all carbohydrates are transformed into sugar by digestion.

PROBABLY FATIGUE.

S. R. writes: I have a bluish tinge under the eyes. There is nothing wrong with my eyes, although I wear glasses. My general health is good. What is the cause?

REPLY.

A bluish tinge about the eyes results from insufficient sleep—burning life's candles at both ends. This indicates low vitality because reserves have been drawn upon too generously. The remedy is more rest and observance of the rules of good hygiene. If you do not improve, have a general examination.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON.

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

Philadelphia, Pa., May 30, 1787.—On the question as moved by Mr. Butler it was resolved in the committee of the whole that a national government ought to be established consisting of a supreme legislative, executive, and judiciary. Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina being ay—6, Connecticut being no—1, New York divided, Mr. Hamilton ay, Mr. Yates no.

Supremacy of the National Government

The following resolution, being the second of those proposed by Mr. Randolph in the Virginia plan, was taken up, viz.: "That the rights of suffrage in the national legislature ought to be proportioned to the quotas of contribution, or to the number of free inhabitants, as one or the other rule may seem best in different cases." Difficulties arising, Mr. Madison moved that the equality of suffrage between states established by the articles of confederation ought not to prevail, which would have been agreed to, when Mr. Read of Delaware moved postponement of the clause, reminding the committee that the deputies from Delaware were restrained by their commission from assenting to any change in the rule of suffrage and that it might become their duty to withdraw, offering, as Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania observed, an early proof of discord. The motion to postpone being agreed to, the committee then rose.

From Across the Sea

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON.—The interior of St. Paul's cathedral has undergone a striking transformation as a result of cleaning the frescoes round the dome, which has just been completed. The effect of height and light has been greatly increased, while the cathedral's paintings are now plainly visible from the floor. They are the work of Sir James Thornhill, who started them shortly after the last stone of the building was laid in 1710.

They consist of eight scenes from the life of St. Paul—his conversion, his preaching before Sergius Paulus, the sacrifice at Lystra, conversion of the jailer at Philippi, preaching at Athens, the burning of books at Ephesus, the defense before Agrippa, and the shipwreck at Melita.

A splendid example of the eighteenth century style of historical painting in the grand manner, they are carried out in gray monochrome. The figures are from fourteen to sixteen feet high. There is no cramping in the episodes, which are divided by richly decorated arches.

Sir Christopher Wren, the architect, had wished to cover the dome with bright colored mosaics, but when his stubborn opposition to frescoes was overcome he welcomed the choice of Thornhill for the work. Thornhill's intention was also to use color, but the clergy restricted him to monochrome. He complained of the low wages he received—$10 per square yard.

He painted from four successive sets of scaffolding, risking his life. On one occasion an assistant saw him step back to view his work and place his heel over the edge of the planks. Hurriedly seizing a brush the assistant made a daub on the fresco. Thornhill rushed forward in a rage, and was saved.

The most famous decorative painter of his day, Thornhill was born in 1675 at Melcombe Regis, Dorset. His work attracted Queen Anne, who employed him at Hampton Court, Windsor, and Greenwich, where he was busied for twenty years. In 1720 he was made sergeant painter to King George I., and painted the panels of the state coaches and barges. He was the first native English artist to be knighted and was in parliament for twelve years until his death in 1734. He was also one of the dozen original members of the first English Academy of Painters, founded in Great Queen street in 1711.

NECESSITY FOR PROBATE.

Chicago, May 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father died leaving no will, but his wish was that everything should belong to my mother. There are three children, two sons and one daughter. We are all willing to sign everything over to our mother. The estate consists of a home and some real estate gold bonds which are only recorded in my father's name. No claims whatsoever stand against the home. Some of the real estate bonds have been turned in to a bank, acting as trustee, and we are holding certificate of deposit, which is only made out in his name. Can you tell me the best way to go about having the property and bonds put in my mother's name without probate procedure?

E. O.

Probate would be the only way of producing a real estate title which a contract purchaser would be forced to accept, but if there will be considerable delay before sale and if the value is small you may be able to find a purchaser who would be willing to waive the requirement.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SIGNATURE ON DOCUMENTS.

Chicago, May 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. If the heir of an estate has to sign some documents pertaining to the will and that person's name is misspelled in the will, does all the signing have to be done in the misspelled form or should it be signed correctly? 2. Is it necessary, when making a will, to have it witnessed by an attorney and [3] how many witnesses are necessary?

A. G.

1. On the facts stated we would advise signing all documents in one name, followed by the words "otherwise known as" and the other name. Perhaps this is an excess of caution. We cannot advise to advantage without having the wording and the facts before us.

2. No, but it is advisable to employ an attorney to see that the drafting and execution are properly handled.

BLOCKED STREETS.

Chicago, May 26.—I am one of the thousands of motorists who has been shoved over Grant park and the loop this last week since the paving department has decided Michigan boulevard needs paving.

I wish one of your experts would tell me how much time and money has been lost on account of this paving job?

I also would like to know why this paving job could not have been done at night; other cities and the street car company do this sort of work at night.

One thing more I would like to know is, why can't these overpaid trafic masterminds figure out what causes all the trafic jams in the loop? One of the main causes is the one block light system. If they would change the lights and make them green for two blocks and reroute some of the bus lines off State street and Michigan avenue there wouldn't be the jams and delays there are now.

CHAS. H. CRONINGER.

ALIBIS ET AL.

Chicago, May 26.—As a Cub fan I note with disgust the alibis of Irving Vaughan when the Cubs dare to win a ball game.

Let me quote a few:

Billy Herman's long fly dropped in front of the right center field screen for a double.

Lillard slapped a fly to right and it bounced from the foul line into the seats.

A fly ball is a batted ball, the trajectory of which forms a parabola, reaching its highest point at a distance of three-quarters the distance from the plate to point of fall, then falls almost directly downward with no bounce.

Balls that bounce off the field are well hit line drives and are so called by Vaughan when made by the opposing teams.

I would suggest that the editor of THE TRIBUNE insist that the sports writer should sit in the bleachers at least two games a week, instead of looking through a fish net 40 feet above and 400 feet away from the play he is trying to describe to his readers.

A FAN.

THE OLD GRAY MARE.

Danville, Ill., May 26.—Who says "The old gray mare she ain't what she used to be many long years ago"?

Away back in the horse and buggy days one mule colt was considered a 100 per cent crop for any mare. It now develops that in this new day, when at the behest of the administration all economic laws have reversed themselves, an old gray mare, the property of Mr. John Lucian of Columbus, Kas. [page Mr. Jim Farley quickly], has forwarded to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE a photograph of herself and three [count them] lively mule colts—all 1936 models.

In the name of millions of slaughtered piggies may they thrive and reach maturity—and all be kickers!

A MULE MAN.

CHICAGO IN FOREIGN TRADE.

Chicago, May 25.—Your thoughtful editorial titled "Chicago in Foreign Trade" merits the commendation of every one interested in seeing business interests of the Chicago area achieve the greatest possible prosperity.

There is no easy solution of the problem, but your editorial should encourage an approach to the subject without the hysteria that so generally accompanies public addresses and printed articles concerning foreign trade.

V. D. SEAMAN,
Manager, Foreign Commerce Department.

DR. TOWNSEND'S ATTITUDE.

Chicago, May 22.—Dr. Townsend is to be arrested for contempt toward the house of representatives. In view of the spineless rubber stamp attitude of the majority, how could the poor old gentleman have any other opinion but contempt for his inquisitors, not that I have any brief for Mr. Townsend's impractical schemes?

JUSTICE.

PLANK.

Chicago, May 20.—May I suggest for your "Platform for 1936" the following: "Elect a President, not a dictator."

If Gov. Landon is nominated at the Republican convention that might be an effective slogan for the Republican party.

ENCOURAGEMENT TO IDLENESS.

Chicago, May 27.—If President Roosevelt is reëlected the hard working, industrious people of America, in all walks of life, rich and poor, high and low, will continue to be saddled with the support of the inefficient, unambitious, thriftless, lazy, and worthless members of society who are content with any existence without effort, and who are only too happy to vote for that kind of President. We need a President who will give his hearty support to the unemployed citizen honestly seeking work, but will deal firmly with professional drones.

To care for the helpless is emphatically everybody's duty, but for a government to actually encourage mendicancy at the expense of the working staff and support of the nation is sheer lunacy unless it is sheer demagogery. The spur of necessity inspires many a purposeless soul to throw off his lethargy, and often this very necessity leads him to success. He is not picky and choosy about jobs. He is ready to seize any opportunity. Remove the spur of necessity upon millions and you have a decadent populace. No nation could stand up against it.

What keeps a nation going strong is the effort of every able bodied citizen to keep himself afloat, within his ability. To aid him in this effort is to benefit not only him but the nation. But to diminish this effort has an exactly contrary effect.

Even in normal times, in families and cities, we find the strong are bearing the burdens of the weak through affection or necessity, but it remains for this administration to encourage men to be weak and to depend on a spendthrift government for bread in exchange for votes.

A WORKER.

THE STEAM ROLLER.

Chicago, May 26.—I have attended several Republican national and state conventions. I recall the steam roller tactics practiced when Taft was nominated. The majority of delegates wanted Roosevelt or Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, but the steam roller worked and caused the split in 1912.

Bertrand Snell was the steam engineer at the Republican convention in 1932. Republican State Chairman W. W. Schroeder the other day declared the resolution indorsing Frank Knox carried before the opposition had a chance to vote no.

This steam roller method has a bad effect when election day comes. When in Cleveland give every one a square deal and you will get a square deal in November.

ANDREW RINGMAN.

UNDER THE LASH.

Chicago, May 26.—The statement of Lionel G. Thorsness before the Advertising post of the American Legion was perfectly correct. The evident intention of the New Deal high command is to keep everything in statu qu until after the election. Whether on relief or WPA work [which really amounts to much the same thing] the recipient is a ward of the federal government and as such is under the whip hand of the New Deal overseer.

Were he or she put into private employment and once again able to breathe the uncorrupted air of freedom the New Deal lash would have lost its power and the New Deal candidate a vote.

WILLIAM VERNON.

ON BACKWARDNESS.

Chicago, May 27.—At last we discover the foundation on which Italy's claim for greatness is based. In the dim dark ages Italy ruled England for a few years and built a road, a school and a hospital.

History discloses that every nation has at some time been subject to alien rule, and it was not until 1859 that Italy was able to achieve its independence from Austria. If your correspondent James W. Lendsey's contention that backwardness is a peculiarity of a country under foreign rule is true, then Italy has its full measure.

W. T. M.

HE CAN TAKE IT.

Calumet City, Ill., May 25.—It gripes me exceedingly to see the Cubs referred to as champions when they are in sixth place playing less than .500 ball. However, I do not intend to quit reading THE TRIBUNE on that account.

Many Parties Planned for Horse Show

Lake Forest Will Entertain for Visitors.

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVEN before this busy and gay week-end is over Lake Foresters are making plans for the last week-end in June, which will be even a busier and gayer one, for it will start on Thursday instead of Friday. The Lake Forest horse show, to be held on June 25, 26, 27, and 28 in the Onwentsia outdoor arena, will attract horse lovers from various parts of the country to the north shore town, and the horse show committee is making plans to entertain the visitors royally.

Miss Judy King is bringing her horses from Atlanta; Miss Frances Dodge of Detroit will be an exhibitor; Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Van Sinderen are bringing their entire string of show horses from their Glenholme stable in Washington, Conn., and from Washington, D. C., will come the Guggenheim string. These are just a few of the out-of-town exhibitors who will be here for the show.

All of the judges except C. Groverman Ellis, who will choose the winners in the equitation classes, and a military officer, who will be asked to score the military jumping, are from away. From far-away Los Angeles will come E. Allen Russell, who will judge the harness horses and ponies; and from Lexington, Ky., the traditional home of fine horses, will come Arthur Roberts, who will judge the three and five gaited saddle horses and saddle ponies. W. Brock Fuller of Milwaukee will judge the hunters, and members of the show committee will score the open jumping classes. The famous Canadian hunting team that was here last year will be an entry again this year.

The show is being held for four, instead of three days, this year, for a Sunday afternoon performance has been added to the usual schedule. Other performances will be on Thursday afternoon and evening, Friday afternoon and evening, and Saturday morning and afternoon.

Albert B. Dicks Plan Luncheon for First Day.

The junior Albert B. Dicks, whose 9 year old bay gelding, Melbourne Swell, won the light harness horse class at the Devon Horse show in Pennsylvania Thursday, will start the horse show, entertaining with a large luncheon party on the first day of the show. Melbourne Swell and the other ten of the Dick string, which won twenty-seven ribbons in the recent Atlantic City show, will be back in Lake Forest next week to prepare for the home show. The Dodge, Glenholme, and Guggenheim strings, which were at Atlantic City and Devon, too, will show at Detroit before coming to Lake Forest.

On the night of the 25th Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell are giving a dinner for the judges and the next night the junior Edward A. Cudahys will be hosts at a large dinner party. That day at luncheon Mrs. J. Andrews King and Mrs. Samuel J. Walker will have parties. The big horse show ball will be on Saturday night and on Sunday, immediately after the last performance, the Howard Linns will give a tea.

Since the Arlington Park race course opens on Monday, the 29th, undoubtedly most of the visiting horse lovers will stay over for that event, and will be entertained at luncheon in the Post and Paddock club that day. Several of the men who are most active in arranging the horse show also are interested in Arlington, among them Laurance H. Armour, who is president of the Post and Paddock.

Country Clubs Will Open Season Today.

Memorial day marks the formal opening for the season of almost all the country clubs and most of them are having dinner dances tonight to finish a day of golf events for men. At some of the clubs there are putting and approaching contests arranged for women, but on the whole today is a day of golf for men and not for women. The women will spend the day playing bridge on the wide verandas of clubhouses, or perhaps in lounges in front of fires if the day is cool, or on tennis courts and in swimming pools if the sun is warm.

The weather will strongly influence the dances tonight, too, for just as almost every country club now has a pool, so does it have an outdoor dance floor, and if the temperature is high enough and it is fair tonight the orchestras will be placed out under the moon and stars instead of in the clubhouses. The Shoreacres club in Lake Bluff had its dinner dance last night and for today's golf tournament has been planned for men.

The Onwentsia club, which is on the club list of practically every one who belongs to the Shoreacres, had its opening dinner dance a week ago, but it is having another dance tonight although this one will be only about one-third as large a party as the first one, for there are many private parties in Lake Forest tonight.

The C. Corson Ellises are giving a dance at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Thorne, for the Walter Hovings, who are moving back to New York next week. The junior John B. Drakes are giving a dinner for the Hovings first, and among others who will be having dinner parties in Lake Forest this evening are the Philip D. Armours, the Hermon D. Smiths, the John F. Jelkes, the Austin H. Niblacks, and the Charles H. Schweppes, who are entertaining for Cyrus H. Adams III, and his fiancée, Miss Harriet Haynes of Bronxville, N. Y.

The Smiths and the Jelkes will take

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Lying under the summer sun is grand sport, but it has its beauty hazards, too. Moderation about the length of time spent under the sun's rays is the golden rule if you want to end this summer with skin and hair unchanged.

Tips to those who plan to take to the sun and the surf this summer:

If you're naturally dry haired, remember that a little sun is good for the hair but that too much is ruinous. Before and after sunning brush the hair until the elbows ache. To do the thing up right you should have hot oil treatments. Better yet, plan this summer to make a course of hair treatments part of your beauty routine. Do this and you'll be storing up hair beauty for winter, to say nothing of guarding against damage this summer.

Use oils or brilliantines to keep the dryness under control while you're in the sun. If you swim in salt water don't dress your hair while it's wet; if you're really smart you won't get it wet, or if you do you'll shampoo it immediately afterward. If you're careful you can save yourself the expense of reconditioning treatments in the fall and the heartache of unsuccessful and unattractive permanents.

About sun tan: When physicians recommend sun treatments they're scientific about it. Usually only a third of the body is exposed at a time and that for graduated, surprisingly brief periods. Lots of patients begin at three or five minutes of exposure and work up to the hours that court the bronze coat.

But nine out of ten of the men and women who can sun themselves only over week-ends wouldn't dream of such caution. They dive into hour stretches of sunning and think nothing of the consequences such as burned and coarsened skin, or even actual illness.

The preparations designed to prevent burning or to encourage tan are excellent; use them by all means. But remember that they can't work miracles if you lack moderation!

Good Morning!

The plot of this one has long gray whiskers—but a glamorous pair of leads, an able supporting cast, and good director do a lot toward making you forget this fact.

The story is the one about the millionaire's son who loves and marries secretly a girl "beneath him"—who bears him a son, is persecuted by his family and others, and misunderstood by him until the courtroom scene where he learns of her true nobility and comes across in a big way as a penitent and her future protector.

The heroine is a personal maid to the hero's mother and the "obsession" of the sinister and autocratic family butler. It is this fiend in human form who, spurned by her, stirs up the mess in which the family becomes mired.

Quite the most satisfactory scene in the picture is the one where the hero gives the Machiavellian retainer something he didn't expect and that has been coming to him for a long, long time!

Basil Rathbone, adept portrayer of the sleek and slimy, is perfectly and chillingly at home in the rôle of Mr. Wroxton.

Loretta Young is warmly appealing as the persecuted—and beloved—servant in the house. A most unusual maid from the standpoints of both education and charm and one who had never seen "service" till exigency compels her to accept a position in the Winfield household.

Robert Taylor makes Richard Winfield a fine, upstanding young fellow and will get a world of sympathy from feminine fans. Marjorie Gateson is most pleasing as his mother. Patsy Kelly is endearing as Gracie, the maid, who "plays interference" for Ellen. Other parts are in capable hands.

The piece is stunningly staged and, all things considered, will probably please you if you do know all the answers.

Lake Forest Flower Show Is Great Success

BY BETTY BROWNING.

The Lake Forest Garden club's flower show opened yesterday at Walden, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus H. McCormick's estate, amid even greater popular acclaim than the show there received a year ago.

This return engagement promises to be even greater "box office" than last year's, since the hundreds there, including leading gardeners from all over Illinois, carried away an impression of perfect order achieved through expert policing and the provision of unlimited parking facilities without congestion for the throngs which will attend the show today and tomorrow.

The show was Lake Forest's only in the sense that it was planned and carried out there, for an unprecedented number of exhibits were from other garden clubs. The two prizes of $100 offered this year for the first time to the two most meritorious exhibits account for this increased participation, as they were intended to, Mrs. John Andrews King, chairman of the show, pointed out.

The judges had no easy time deciding which of the entries should receive these awards and finally decided that three such prizes should be awarded. The Todd School for Boys at Woodstock, Ill., the Lake Forest academy, and Mrs. Harold Seaman and Mrs. Alfred James of the Green Tree Garden club of Milwaukee won these cash awards.

The two schools had entered the class for booths or stands suitable for sale of flowers or vegetables along a roadside or in a village square, and both stands illustrated how much can be achieved with white paint and an attractive display of wares. The roadside stand entered by Mrs. Hermon D. Smith, Mrs. William Burry Jr., Mrs. Edgerton Throckmorton, and Mrs. Donald Welles drew enthusiastic comments and won the blue ribbon in that class.

The Green Tree club's entry was in the classification of gardens featuring water. A shell shaped bird bath was the focus of a bit of lawn with a horseshoe bed of daisies, yellow marigold, and pansies, sweet alyssum, and blue ageratum.

Mrs. Arthur Sullivan of Winnetka won second prize in this class with her "Detail from an Old French Parterre." Bronze cupids played in a tiny square pool outlined in twisted antique iron that also outlined the flower beds of white petunias and green and gray leaved plants.

Mrs. Henry P. Isham and Mrs. Albert D. Farwell received third prize for their terrace and wall of weathered brick. A tiny statue of a boy stood against the wall in a semi-circular pool. Pots of fuchsias, pansies, and Persian violets were placed around the garden.

George H. High singled out Miss Sarah Hinde's "Garden of Joseph Furttenbach-Ulm, 1638" for a photograph. A pond in the shape of a square cross was surrounded by white tiles, and beds of white petunias and lilies developed the geometric pattern. In a niche in the high hedge that formed the background a white marble bust of a boy stood on a pedestal. This exhibit won honorable mention.

The stable yard with its conical sky blue stands of geraniums and gay booths was overcrowded in just one place, the entrance to the exhibits of unconventional arrangements. Visitors lingered over the bouquets of old Spanish moss, cottonwood, and rhubarb blossoms, exclaiming at the charming effects that had been achieved with such materials. Mrs. Samuel Douglas Flood won first prize in this category with a combination of chives, jack in the pulpit, purple cabbage, and eggplant in a turquoise bowl.

Mrs. Frank Barrett of Kenilworth won second prize with her green tomatoes and dill in a plain wooden chopping bowl, Mrs. Edward K. Welles, third prize with rhubarb blossoms and purple plum leaves in a pewter container, and Mrs. Hazel Crowe Ewell honorable mention for a dish of mushrooms and moss.

Nearby was Mrs. Thomas A. Connors' blue ribbon shadow box with its Chinese bowl and tiny matching plate of blue and white arranged with white flowers against a blue background. Mrs. John Stuart's entry of a green bowl filled with poppies and ribbon grass against a panel of natural wood won second place, and third prize went to Mrs. Lawrence Robbins' arrangement of an antique Japanese statuette with a bowl of dwarf iris against a yellow background.

Most original was the junior Mrs. William E. Clow's exhibit "In the manner of Salvador Dali" which received honorable mention. A recumbent white China mask was linked by a chain to a purple background where a set of false teeth held a rose. Bleeding hearts dropped above the mask and in a corner were three white peony buds.

Mrs. Howard Linn had a rubber cat set between two cornucopias of bridal wreath in one exhibit. Another of hers reproduced the advertisment of a French perfume with lavish use of old fashioned pink lace paper.

In one of the busiest corners of the stable yard was the flower market. Mrs. Thomas C. Dennehy Jr., Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, and Mrs. William A. Pullman, hatless and wearing sweaters and large flowered aprons, were selling plants, bunches of lilies and peonies, gardening tools, and a flat wicker contrivance that turned from a pancake into a low chair most convenient for a gardener who does her own weeding.

An entry with a cool Victorian charm that was quite unexpected in the midst of the brilliant colors of surrounding exhibits was Mrs. James O. Hinkley's garden corner. A wrought iron table and bench painted white stood near a circular bed of imported heliotrope and white impatiens. A long narrow bed of blue lobelia and white sweet alyssum and a log fence completed the exhibit, which was awarded a blue ribbon.

For their garden corner Mrs. Charles F. Glore and Mrs. William Roy Carney were ranked second only to Mrs. Hinkley. Two yellow and white chairs, their canopies edged in white balls, were placed near a bed of yellow and white daisies, pansies, and sweet alyssum, with a white picket fence in the background.

The Garden club of Evanston received third prize for its terrace bordered with blue iris and yellow lilies. Unusual was Mrs. William McCormick Blair's garden corner with its old fashioned unpainted garden chairs, a table of old Chinese tiles set among fruit trees, and mixed flower beds. In the background a bronze statue of a boy stood against a hedge.

A timely group of exhibits were the tables set for outdoor meals. Mrs. Donald B. Douglas won first place with Mexican pottery plates set on yellow rattan doilies, the centerpiece a wooden platter of gourds flanked by standards bearing flowers and candles. Mrs. John N. Lee and Mrs. Leonard Prince were second place winners with a combination of Japanese and modern accessories contrasting white China statuettes with green metal ware on a sheer white cloth.

Mrs. James H. Douglas Jr., used a brown cloth as a background for a pale pink couch shell filled with matching stock. Two other shell ornaments accompanied the centerpiece and there were shell ash trays and white China plates. This exhibit won third place.

A centerpiece for a dinner table that won first prize was Mrs. Robert Pirie's arrangement of yellow gourds, gladioli, and lillies in an unvarnished basket cornucopia fashion on a plain tan linen cloth. The senior Mrs. James H. Douglas received second prize for her table set with a white cloth, twin cranes of blue china, a blue and white center dish offset by fuchsia, with an unusual arrangement of red plums and a pineapple crest in side dishes of matching china. Mrs. Richard Thorsen of the North Shore Garden club received third prize for a centerpiece of three shells with lavender and yellow flowers on a sheer white cloth.

"Bow Knots" Is Pieced Quilt of Michigan Origin

Bow Knots.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Bow Knots" apparently is one of the most complicated of all the pieced blocks. The square contains only two patches, which are set together in shades of blue print, light blue, and white material. The original quilt, which comes from Michigan, was made of a contrasting shade of light and dark blue printed materials. The white merely served to accentuate the effectiveness of the blue knots. Thirty-five blocks measuring 15 inches square comprise a quilt with over-all measurements of 75 by 105 inches.

Men's Shirts Cut Small for Women's Wear

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Having borrowed or helped ourselves to anything in the masculine wardrobe we liked, and got away with both the loot and the idea, there isn't a man's shop in town that bats an eye over our shopping expeditions in search for ideas. What's more, the shops very chivalrously aid and abet this growing yen for various accessories usually owned and worn by men.

The latest in sharing is the man's shirt for feminine wear. You've all envied your big brother's good shirts, with the button-down collar and the pockets, and the only times you could get away with them were when you tagged along while he went hunting or were the big nuisance on a fishing trip. Now you can have your own, slick tailored things designed and cut by an expert shirtmaker, but considerably scaled down for your own particular streamlines and with short sleeves. The collar is soft, buttons down just like a man's shirt, and there's a chest pocket. Even the material is from the masculine shirting supplies and you can choose from white oxford, or canary, French blue, or a grayed wine tone in a material resembling a twill.

But the shirts aren't all the excitement . . . having supplied the shirt and fearing for the raid on the pet ties of your male relatives, this shop sells a stunning duet of tie and handkerchief in soft foulard silk just to go with these same shirts. Deep maroon, sapphire blue, brown, and other harmonizing colors are available. If you want and can use men's shirts to fit any size from twelve to twenty, here's your chance.

While you're waiting for the package to be wrapped saunter over and inspect the handkerchiefs . . . huge, soft twenty-nine inch squares of linen and mull mixture, the softest, most luxurious handkerchiefs imaginable. They come in white with printed scarlet turtle, and white with a pale yellow gold border, or some positively eye blinding affairs with concentric squares in such torrid colors as brick red, canary yellow, vivid blue, and green.

These handkerchiefs are the nicest things you could own to wear in the neckline of your sports clothes or tied cowboy fashion around the collar of a dark blue or brown or black linen spectator sports dress.

Reducing Diets Becoming Saner as Time Passes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If you can remember back far enough to recall the baked potato and buttermilk diet, you also will remember the raw tomato and hard boiled egg diet and the pineapple and lamp chop diet. Maybe you can remember others of the two food dieting era. The pineapple and lamb chop, in my opinion, had the most popular and longest lived run of them all. Restaurants used to cater to the freak two food diets, which is funny to muse on now, remembering their business profits from getting people to eat.

But that all was part of our silly era, or might we not be kinder to ourselves and say our "growing up" era in dieting. It all seems so kindergartenish now. But we surely did rush after them, even subsisting on one of them, at least, for eighteen days. Luckily for us survivors, word got around that some of these two-fold or other freak dieting programs were landing women in the last place they wanted to be found with their reduced silhouette. Under the sod, to be brutally exact.

A recent résumé of this dietary growing up stage was given in Fortune magazine, in which we read of the survival of one diet that really includes more food than its two food name would indicate—namely: the banana and milk diet.

"There is a reducing diet most doctors will recommend, the so-called banana and milk diet first proposed in 1934 by Dr. George A. Harrop of Johns Hopkins university. Actually, this diet is not limited to bananas, which have no special advantage over many another common food, potatoes or carrots, for example. Bananas, however, taste better to most people. Dr. Harrop's diet limits bananas and milk to breakfast and lunch, allowing a small yet complete supper.

This diet reduces most people from four to nine pounds in twenty days, since they are getting only about half as many calories as they would on a normal ration. The drawback to this, or any restricted diet, is that one may not be able to take so much milk and so many bananas without upsetting the digestion!

A doctor's supervision is advisory, the magazine cautions. The safest way to reduce, it is concluded, is to increase your ration of bulky foods [vegetables, fruits, etc.] and eat only enough protein [meat, fish, eggs, etc.] to supply the body's tissue needs.

Movie Rooster Hurt by Stray Dog; Prize Winner Gets Role

Hollywood, Cal., May 29.—[Special.]—A thousand dollar rooster, only understudy for Hollywood's only rooster movie actor, finally got a chance today. The regular bird was hurt when a stray dog chased it on the Paramount location ranch. A hurry call to Animal Land in Hollywood brought the prize winning Foxhurst Rainbow before the camera, and the new star strutted forth to win his own fan following in "Yours for the Asking," the George Raft-Dolores Costello movie now in production.

Here Are Ways to Simplify the Baby's Bath

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

In the preceding article in this series on the big story of the baby's bath, we discussed the value of wise planning, so that our strength and nerves would be saved, and the baby's comfort and temper conserved. A scrambled bath session is just "no go."

Today we will describe the bath articles needed, and let me say at the beginning that we are not confining ourselves to the ideal or de luxe equipment, which so many people cannot afford.

First, of course, we have:

The bath tub. There are many types of good bath tub arrangements on the market, such as the folding, flexible, and other types, but the regular, white enamel baby's bath tub is perhaps the most practical. Also practical are the kind that can be improvised at home, if for financial reasons that is necessary. A large dish pan or laundry tub can be used, though, of course, it must be thoroughly cleaned before using, if it is also used for other purposes. [Some hospitals use sprays, and there are some types on the market to be used at home, but it does not seem advisable to recommend them here.]

The bath tub stand. The bath tub should be on a stand, or stool, or table that is firm, and is the proper height. [If a stand or table is not available, the tub can be set on two chairs.]

The table for bathing is not a luxury but a necessity. It saves the mother's back, and makes the giving of the bath an easier and pleasanter operation. It should be big enough to allow the baby plenty of freedom to move and kick, and also to hold the towels, pitchers for water, clothes, and so forth. If it is big enough, the tub can also be put on it. The kitchen table is a perfectly satisfactory expedient, though a table in the baby's room is a great comfort, not only for this but for many other purposes.

A chair in which the mother can sit while giving the bath is a great strength saver. If the table is the usual height, a high stool may be necessary so that the arms do not get tired, or the body strained.

The screen. A baby should be screened from drafts during his bath. A regular three or four panel screen is good for this, beside being necessary for other nursery uses. However, if one is not available, the baby can be screened by draping a sheet over two chairs, or by a blanket thrown over a folding towel rack.

The next article in this series will describe the other articles needed for the baby's bath. It will appear on Monday.

A new baby-care leaflet, "Breast-feeding and Weaning," is obtainable upon receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

WPA Stage Group May Give Tableau of Death of AAA

George Kondolf, state director of the WPA federal theater project, is considering the presentation of "Triple A Plowed Under," which was given its première by the living newspaper unit of WPA in New York City two months ago. Kondolf said he will decide within a week.

There are more than twenty scenes chronicling the farmers' woes, with a series of diagrammatic charts presenting the government's crop control program. The explanations of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace are presented, which raised the cry of "propaganda" when the experimental tableau was on the New York stage.

In circles in close touch with Buckingham palace it was said all talk of such a visit was "premature," although in Germany the rumor said the date had been fixed for shortly after the Whitsuntide and preparations for the visit were already far advanced.

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Neil Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in Wellsport, her home town, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15. Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife, lives with them. Hilda has married again and lives in South America. Her children have been told she is dead. Granny tortures Neil with constant reminders of Hilda. The family moves to Wellsport, where Eric has an engineering job. A solicitor's clerk, Shyner, calls and tells Neil that Hilda's husband had died, leaving her destitute. Neil arranges to send her a weekly sum secretly. Meg receives a string of pearls from her mother from London. Eric suggests looking up Hilda. Neil threatens to leave him. Granny says she'll go away, but breaks her leg and has to stay. She arouses Eric to jealousy of Dick Holmes. A letter comes for Neil from Shyner, telling her Hilda needs £50 to go to a nursing home. Neil tells Eric she needs £12 for a debt of her own. He pawns his watch and ring to get it for her.

INSTALMENT XXXVI.

HATED REMINDERS.

The realization that Eric had been wearing, you might call it treasuring, a ring given to him by his first wife all this time, was more than Nell's jealousy could bear.

She moistened her lips and tried to speak naturally.

"I'm sorry you had to pawn things," she said.

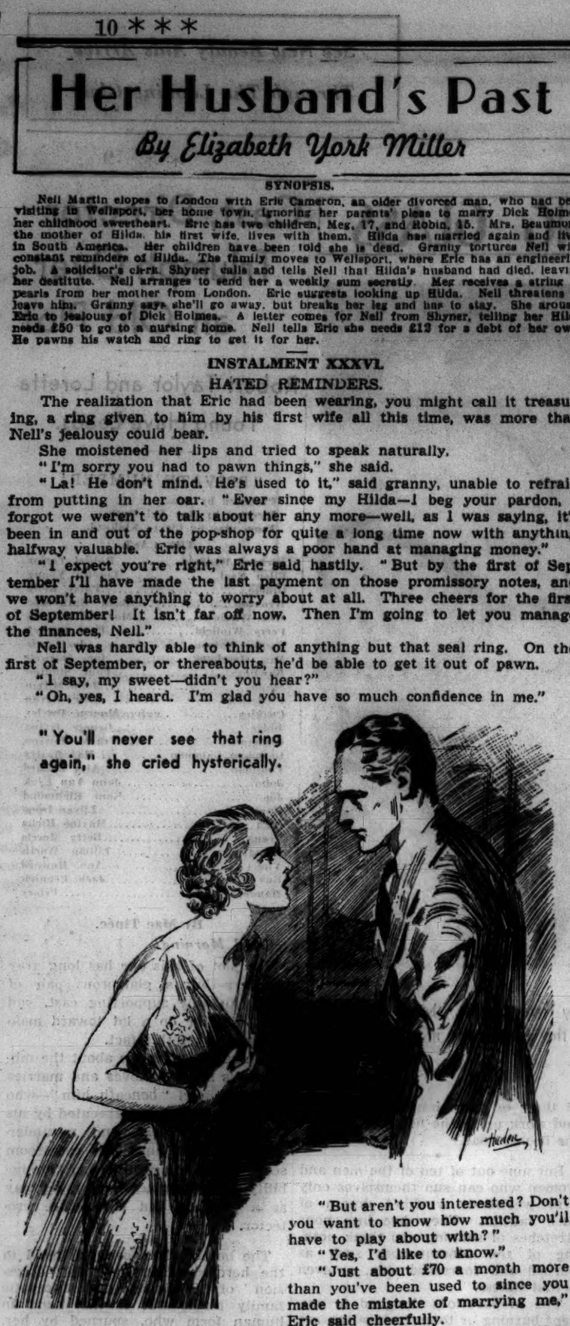
"La! He don't mind. He's used to it," said granny, unable to refrain from putting in her oar. "Ever since my Hilda—I beg your pardon, I forgot we weren't to talk about her any more—well, as I was saying, it's been in and out of the pop-shop for quite a long time now with anything halfway valuable. Eric was always a poor hand at managing money."

"I expect you're right," Eric said hastily. "But by the first of September I'll have made the last payment on those promissory notes, and we won't have anything to worry about at all. Three cheers for the first of September! It isn't far off now. Then I'm going to let you manage the finances, Neil."

Neil was hardly able to think of anything but that seal ring. On the first of September, or thereabouts, he'd be able to get it out of pawn.

"I say, my sweet—didn't you hear?"

"Oh, yes, I heard. I'm glad you have so much confidence in me."



"But aren't you interested? Don't you want to know how much you'll have to play about with?"

"Yes, I'd like to know."

"Just about £70 a month more than you've been used to since you made the mistake of marrying me," Eric said cheerfully.

She tried to do a mental calculation. It must be, then, that Eric had been paying out £70 a month regularly for the past five years to meet the obligations Hilda had left behind her. The total sum would be rather staggering for a man in his position.

Hilda had robbed him cruelly, and robbed her own children, too. Meg's schooling had been cut short and she had been little more than a household drudge until her father married again. No wonder she was a little warped by the experience.

One ought to regard Eric as a hero. But the fact remained that he had clung to the ring Hilda had given him and continued to wear it.

He didn't know it, but they weren't done with Hilda yet. He thought she was living in luxury with her ranger out in the Argentine, whereas she was quite close to them, reaching out, demanding, threatening.

Eric might fondly imagine that by the first of September he would be a free man where Hilda was concerned, but Nell knew the shackles were still on his wrists.

One thing, however; that heavy gold ring would never again adorn his little finger.

It was his wrist watch.

Opening it, he looked at her in surprise.

"How did you get hold of this?" he asked.

"I found the pawntickets in your top drawer when I was putting away your clean handkerchiefs," she said.

"Well, darling—you needn't look so tragic about it. Where did you get the money from?"

"I borrowed it of dad. I—I simply had to."

"But my sweet one . . . I'm awfully sorry. I don't like to think of your going into Tewbury and doing a thing like that. Couldn't you have waited? I mean, it's quite true what I told you about the first of the month. I don't like your borrowing of your father, either."

"I told dad I'd pay him back on the first. No, I couldn't wait, Eric. I think I would have gone mad if I'd had to wait another moment."

"I didn't know you felt like that about pawning things." He peered into the envelope again, as though wondering if he had missed something.

"The ring isn't there," Nell informed him.

The tone of her voice was baffling. He looked at her in a puzzled fashion.

"You'll never see that ring again," she said, her voice rising in a hysterical note. "I threw it into the river!"

Was he never going to learn how she felt about Hilda?

It almost seemed as though Eric did not comprehend what she had said.

He turned and laid the watch on his dressing table before he spoke to her.

Nell thought: "If he is angry, then I shall know Hilda still means a great deal to him."

There was a dull ache in her heart.

"I must get this quite straight," Eric said. "Sit down, my dear. You're a little wrought up, I'm afraid."

Nell backed away from him and declined the chair he indicated.

"I'm not in the least wrought up," she said.

Nevertheless her voice betrayed her. It still had that hysterical catch in it.

"You're telling me you went to Solomon's in Tewbury, redeemed my watch and ring with money borrowed from your father, and then threw the ring into the river?"

"Yes, that is what I did."

"But why—in heaven's name, why!"

"Because I didn't want you to wear the ring any more. Isn't that a good enough reason?"

"Hardly. That you are going to have a baby may account for a few eccentricities—but I can't think it would make any woman do a thing like that unless——"

"O, say it—say it! I'm mad—completely insane if you like. I don't care what you call me. The ring is gone and you will never see it again. I won't even tell you where I threw it in. You'd have to drag the whole estuary to find it."

"But will you please tell me why—apart from not wanting me to wear it any more? I've been wearing it all along and it doesn't seem to have offended you before. Why didn't you throw the watch into the river, as well?"

Her eyes flamed. "Did Hilda give you the watch, too?" she asked.

"O . . . it's Hilda, again. No, my father gave me the watch. . . . Yes, I see now. Forgive me for being so dense. I remember granny mentioned that the ring was a present to me from Hilda."

"Although you were married to me, you kept on wearing it, and never said a word about who gave it to you," Nell said breathlessly. "How would you like it if I treasured something another man had given me—a man who had meant a great deal to me at one time?"

"My darling, what a fool I am! Of course I understand. I couldn't have borne it—I wouldn't have borne it."

He went to her quickly and took her into his arms.

"Honestly, my sweet, I never thought one thing about it. I'd had the thing so long . . . it was just something I always wore, that's all. It never occurred to me to throw it away, though. But when you put it up to me just now as to how I would feel if you went about wearing something another man had given you, I understand. To me it was only a rather nice ring and occasionally useful when I wanted to be fancy about putting a seal on an envelope. To you, it seemed a token of sentiment. Very well, it's at the bottom of the river now."

I can swear on a Bible that during the last two years since I met the girl, my every thought has been of her. Since she quit me it has been the same until I go nearly crazy. I would have worked day and night for her.

"I would do anything for her even yet. No one could love or ever has loved a girl as I have this one. But lately she began to act strangely toward me, and finally told me she was through. She said I wouldn't marry her when she wanted to marry me. That was when I had my good job, which, through no fault of mine, went out from under me. I immediately got another one, but with only half the pay of the first. There's a future to my work, however, of which I tried to convince her.

"I hear she is going around now with a man who owns a good deal of real estate but whose reputation with women is bad. HAM."

No use telling you in your present state of feelings that you'll live to bless the day that girl turned you down. You can't believe right now that she was one of the fair weather loves, no good for the long matrimonial adventure. But those jobless period tests and reduced income tests have saved many a man from a marriage that couldn't have turned out well.

And the sooner you get yourself interested in a successor the better for you. You simply have to force yourself out of your present gloom and believe that there are women in the world who'd see a man through hell, if necessary.

Many Parties Planned for Horse Show

Lake Forest Will Entertain for Visitors.

their guests to the Ellis dance after dinner and the Schweppes will take their young guests to the Onwentsia for dancing.

Expect Four Hundred at Knollwood Party.

About 400 will dine and dance at the Knollwood club's first dinner dance of the summer tonight. The pool will be open today and so will the new refreshment pavilion that has been built near the pool. That the Exmoor club's opening dinner dance tonight will be a very gay party is assured for there were reservations for 550 yesterday. The Indian Hill club had its first dinner and dancing party of the season last night and the outdoor pavilion was ready for those warm-blooded ones who wanted to dance under the stars, but the swimming pool will not be filled until June 10. The Onwentsia, Knollwood, and Exmoor pools are all being opened today.

Golf Program at Glen View.

There will be golf for men from sunup to sundown at the Glen View club today, and tonight there will be an informal dinner and dance. The pool will be ready for use today, too.

Out west at the Chicago Golf club the pool and badminton and tennis courts will be opened today so there will be plenty to entertain the women and children while the men are golfing. The first dinner dance of the summer will be held tonight. The rooms in the clubhouse and the club cottages will be filled over the week-end, among their occupants being the Allen Jacksons, the John L. Cochrans, the John D. Blacks, Edward E. Brown, the Ernest P. Wauds, John J. Abbott, the Orville Taylors, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Harris, the O'Neil Ryans, Joseph P. Spang, Patrick F. Buckley, and Percy Graham.

The tennis courts and pool at the Dunham Woods club in Wayne are in use but the summer opening of the club is not taking place until next Saturday when there will be a dinner dance. Quite a number of members will spend this week-end in the attractive old clubhouse, however, among them being Miss Martha Lee and her fiancé, Roland K. Smith Jr., the Marshall Sampsells, the Raymond O. Mitchells, Jack Fortune, and Jimmy Miksak.

The Samuel D. Rowes, the Frank Hechts, the Stillson Harts, the Caleb Canbys, the Selden Whites, and Miss Bonnie-Jean Clark will be among those having guests tonight at the opening dinner dance at the Barrington Hills club, which is opening its pool and tennis courts today.

Homes Are Opened at Lake Geneva.

The Lake Geneva Country club is not having a dance until the middle of June but there will be a buffet luncheon there today to which most of the summer colonists around the lake will go. Henry P. Isham is president of the club this year and it is expected that there will be much gayety at the club as a result. The new en-tout-cas court is ready for use but it will be opened formally later with some exhibition tennis.

Most of the houses at Lake Geneva are open now and there will be house parties in almost every one of them this week-end. The Kellogg Fairbanks, just home from Europe, are at the Butternuts with their family and the John Alden Carpenters as their guests. The Tracy C. Drakes were up at the lake last week getting their place, Aloha lodge, ready for the Railton family that will occupy it this summer.

Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson has opened Bonny Brae for the season and her friends are flocking there to see the beautiful gardens which are colorful now with amaryllis, yellow callas and iris, and enormous pansies.

Among others who already have opened their Lake Geneva homes are the Daniel Peterkins, the Augustus K. Maxwells, the Henry Bartholomays, the William M. Spencers, the Albert F. Madleners, the Ishams, the Henry H. Porters, the William N. Pelouzes, the A. F. Gartzes, Mrs. Otto L. Schmidt, Mrs. Theis J. Lefens and the Rawleigh Warners. The last named family is having a house party of young people over Memorial day, friends of Dorothy and Rawleigh Jr.

The W. Edwin Stanleys, the junior Stanleys, Miss Barbara Stanley and Miss Peggy Hixon have gone as far away as Desbarats, Ontario, Can., for the week-end. They are staying in the Stanleys' cabin there and the men will return on Monday, but the women will stay on until the middle of the week.

James H. Mitchells Will Motor East.

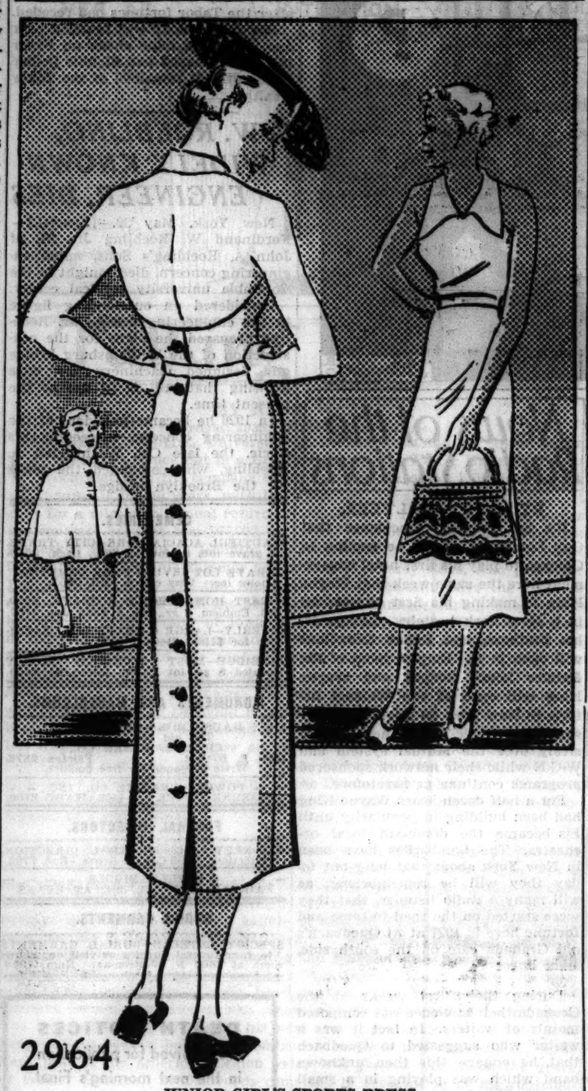
Dr. and Mrs. James Herbert Mitchell and their two little daughters are starting today for a fortnight's motor trip in the east. Upon their return they will go to Lake Forest, where they have leased a house, to spend the rest of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott Linn are spending this week-end at Nashville, Ind., but by next week-end they will be settled for the summer in the charming old house in St. Charles that has been in the Linn family for several generations.

Mr. and Mrs. Vladimir de Zavodov are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son on Thursday at the Lying-In hospital. The baby is to be christened Nicholas Vladimirovitch after his grandfather, the late Admiral Nicholas de Zavodov of the Russian imperial navy. Mrs. Zavodov is the former Miss Cynthia Richards of Chicago and her marriage to the young Russian took place in Monte Carlo last June. They had met in Nice when the Chicago girl was visiting Princess Marina Petrovna Wolkonsky and her mother, the dowager Princess Elizabeth Wolkonsky.

The De Zavodovs live in Monte Carlo but they came here some weeks ago to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Richards, and they will remain here for some weeks longer. Mr. De Zavodov is secretary to the internationally famous art authority, Dr. Abraham Bredius.

Halter Back Is Attractive



JUNIOR GIRL'S SPORTS DRESS.

For exceedingly warm days there is nothing as comfortable as a halter back sports frock. When one is on the beach, or anywhere outside the city, it is perfectly appropriate as well as smart. Although there is no back to the waist, there is a smart collar which serves as the "halter." In front the same collar has chic width.

Simplicity characterizes the entire front of the dress, with the major portion of this frock's tremendous chic centered in the back, with the skirt attractively buttoned.

When one comes into the city from the "wide open spaces" there is a lovely military cape to be worn for both smartness and suitability. It is longer than most capes which come with sports frocks, and serves to cover the entire back. It buttons up close to the throat in front.

The original of this lovely sports frock, which is so indispensable for vacations, is fashioned of yellow cotton in a shantung weave. If you want it definitly for the beach, glazed chintz in gay colors is most effective.

Style No. 2964 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17, and 19 years. Size 15 requires 2½ yards of 35 inch material for the dress, and 1 yard of 39 inch material for the cape.

Actor's Leap Year Gag May Lead to Altar

Jimmy Dunn Gets Proposal from Girl Friend.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., May 29.—Just before he went east for a personal appearance tour Jimmy Dunn decided it would be fun and good publicity as well to post a $50 prize for the girl who wrote him the best leap year proposal. Letters began coming in every day, but Jimmy's own girl friend, Louise Henry, the young actress, began to think Jimmy's idea might not be so bad.

She telegraphed Dunn in Baltimore: "One good proposal deserves another, will you marry me?"

That had Dunn a bit puzzled. He wired back "You're eligible for the booby prize." But at the same time he canceled subsequent weeks of his stage tour and he is coming back to Hollywood to talk things over with Louise.

Cecil De Mille, like Mary Pickford, has joined the Hollywood radio program broadcasters. He will start a series of weekly programs by presenting Marlene Dietrich and Gary Cooper in a shortened air version of their screen success, "Morocco," which De Mille did not direct.

Ann Ronell, woman song writer who turned out "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" for Walt Disney and also has "Rain on the Roof" and "Willow, Weep for Me" on her list of profit making hits, has been signed to do both music and lyrics for Gladys Swarthout's "Champagne Waltz" at Paramount. It is the first time this studio has intrusted the musical success of a picture to a woman and it also represents a change in Miss Swarthout's screen vehicles from classic and opera numbers to a lively, topical story with tunes.

For the second time a Mickey Mouse character is working in a Fox film. This time it is Carol Tevis, the baby faced blonde of 23 who is the voice of Minnie Mouse in the Walt Disney cartoons. Carol is playing Tessie, night club girl whom Adolphe Menjou picks up while trying to evade Alice Faye, another night club girl in "Sing, Baby, Sing" at the Twentieth Century-Fox studio. The first time Fox used Disney's brain children was before the amalgamation with Twentieth Century in Janet Gaynor's "Paddy, the Next Best Thing." In that story Fox paid Disney a royalty reported in excess of $20,000 for permission to have Mickey and Minnie Mouse and their friends appear in Janet's bedroom in a dream, climb her bedpost and dance on the coverlet.

Charles King, who was the tenor romantic lead in "Broadway Melody," the original sound movie musical hit, is now playing a bit as a college alumnus back for a frat party in "We Went to College" at M-G-M.

Marvin Jones, 11 years old, brother of Marcia Mae Jones, child actress who made one of the two hits in "These Three," has been signed to play with Francis Lederer in "The Count of Arizona" at Paramount.

Charlie Murray told "How I Did It" at a dinner party which celebrated his thirtieth anniversary of his marriage to his wife this week. "I never go any place I cannot take Mrs. Murray," he said. "I don't do anything I wouldn't want her to do. We go fifty-fifty about everything."

Clarence Kolb of the old slapstick dialect team of Kolb and Dill came down from San Francisco to help the Murrays celebrate; George Sidney, who was Cohen with Charlie in the "Cohen and Kelly" series, dropped in with a present suitable to the occasion, and Del Henderson, who directed Charlie in the first movie he made in New York in 1911, was another guest. Mrs. Murray was Beatrice Hamilton. They were married in Muncie, Ind., in 1906.

Joan Crawford has been instructed not to do any more dieting. She is on orders to drink one quart of milk a day to build herself up. The actress is not sick, but her physician thinks the new rules are a matter of health insurance for her.

Tom Brown's father, Harry Brown, retired vaudeville trouper, did a movie bit, the rôle of a city editor, in "The Return of Sophie Lang" with Gertrude Michael and Ray Milland at Paramount.

The census at Twentieth Century-Fox studio enumerates sixty-one stars and major featured players, of whom 34 are men, 26 are women, and one is a dog, Buck. The same studio has a youthful stock list which includes three men, eleven girls. This may indicate that as stars and well known contract players, male players outlast feminine stars. This writer's superficial recollection of Hollywood during the years since the decline of the silents confirms this. On the other hand, many more young and romantic looking girls get the chance to break into featured movie parts than is the case with young men.

WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Leonard of 8053 Kimbark avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Madeleine, to Gil Berry, which will take place at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Felicitas church, 1526 East 83d place.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton L. Pereira announce the marriage on Wednesday of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Joseph Phillippson.

According to CULBERTSON

The complete interdependence of bidding and play is recognized by every expert worthy of the name. Indeed, it is unfair to present a hand to a player with the question, "How would you play a four spade contract?" unless, at the same time, the detailed bidding is accurately stated. The most important of these details is whether the final contract was doubled or not and, if so, by which adversary.

In today's hand, for instance, an expert declarer based his entire play on the fact that he had been doubled by a defender whom he knew to be conservative in doubling for penalties.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 dimds.	3 clubs	Double
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened the king of diamonds and, when his partner played the deuce, switched to his singleton club. Dummy's ace won the trick, and declarer now went into quite a huddle. Two facts were apparent, the first of which was that East had doubled three clubs on little except a long club suit. Also, the only high cards that West could hold were the ace and king of diamonds and, therefore, it was a ten to one chance that he had the guarded queen of trumps as well.

It looked bad. There apparently was no way to avoid the loss of two diamonds, one heart, and one spade. But, rather than give up, the declarer decided to embark on a line of play that would offer, at least, a chance for his contract if West should slip a little. He therefore led a low club from dummy and ruffed low in his own hand, actually hoping that he would be overruffed. West did overruff and fell squarely into the trap that was laid for him.

The only suit that he could have led safely at this point was trumps, but, holding the queen and another, he felt that there was a good chance of making the queen, and decided to lay down the diamond king, feeling that inasmuch as dummy had begun with only two diamonds, it could do no harm. He soon learned that he was wrong.

A third diamond lead went to South's queen, while dummy discarded a low heart. Now the ace and king of trumps were led, felling the queen, after which declarer had only to cash his two high hearts and ruff the third round in dummy for his contract.

Had West led a heart after he overruffed the club, the result would have been the same, inasmuch as declarer then could have won all three heart tricks.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: I held the following hand and bid one no trump. Was it the correct opening bid?

♠ K 8 6 2 ♥ A Q 4 ♦ A 7 5 3 ♣ K 4

Answer: No. One diamond [a shaded minor suit] was the correct opening bid.

Culver City Arena Blaze Threatens M-G-M Studio

Hollywood, Cal., May 29.—[Special.]—Fanned by a stiff breeze, a fire which this afternoon burned the Culver City boxing arena, threatened for some hours to jump to the sets and wooden dressing room row of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer motion picture plant two blocks away. The stadium caught fire from a roaring weed blaze.

Juvenile Chefs Make Charlotte Dessert Today

BY MARY MEADE.

If you're a young cookster about to plan a party we can't think of anything much nicer to serve your guests than a pink strawberry charlotte. Or, if you're just a young cookster, without even a thought of a party in the offing, we still can't think of anything that's more fun to make and lovelier to eat!

You'll want individual molds, or one medium large fancy one for this luscious dessert. Put these in the refrigerator to chill before you begin, so that the charlotte will "set" more quickly. Then start out with us here:

PINK STRAWBERRY CHARLOTTE

1. Hull one pint box of ripe strawberries and wash them well. Then cut them into quarters and cover them with one-half cup of sugar. Stir and mash the berries until the sugar is all dissolved.

2. Measure one and one-half tablespoons of granulated gelatin into a mixing bowl.

3. Stir one-quarter cup of cold water into the gelatin to soften it.

4. Then measure one-third cup of boiling water and stir that into the gelatin. Continue stirring until the gelatin is dissolved.

5. Add the crushed strawberries and juice to the gelatin. If the mixture isn't deep enough pink to suit you add just a tiny drop of pink coloring.

6. Set the bowl in a cold place until it begins to thicken, stirring it occasionally.

7. Pour three-quarters cup of chilled heavy [whipping] cream into a bowl and whip it until it stands in peaks.

8. When the strawberry mixture is thick, but not firm, fold in the stiffly beaten cream. Cut and mix it lightly until the cream is well blended with the gelatin.

9. Then turn the mixture into the small molds or the one big mold.

10. Chill the molds until the charlotte is firm, then unmold them on cold dessert plates.

A total of $50,000 has been contributed toward the Jane Addams memorial fund since its foundation a year ago today, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, acting president and treasurer of Hull house, said yesterday.

At the time of the noted social worker's death many persons suggested erecting a monument in her memory, but the directors of Hull house, which Miss Addams founded in 1889, decided that a memorial fund to continue the work of Hull house among the underprivileged would be a more fitting monument.

The settlement's need for funds is even greater now than it was a year ago, Mrs. Bowen said, as 10 of its 13 buildings had to be repaired this spring, following the bitter winter. "And of course," she added, "it is more difficult to get money now without Miss Addams' personality.

This year, work toward raising an adequate fund will be extended among some 50 large cities, she said, while an annual appeal will be made in Chicago. "It's a bad time to raise money," she explained, "but we're going on with it."

SEIZED FOR BLOW TO DEVIL'S ISLE GUARDS' HONOR

Woman Faces Trial for Tale of Prison Conditions.

PARIS, May 29.—(AP)—Mireille Marogen, young and prominent woman lawyer of Paris, won a delay today in her expected trial on a charge of defamation of character, brought by 118 guards of the French penal colonies in Guiana.

A police court declared itself incompetent to try the case because it involves functionaries and it must be tried in the Assizes court.

Miss Marogen's arrest was an outgrowth of a honeymoon visit to Devil's Island and other dreaded prison reserves of French Guiana. She is the wife of an engineer, but uses her maiden name.

Professional Honor Hurt.

On her return she wrote a series of articles for a Paris newspaper describing conditions in the colonies. The guards brought the action against her jointly, declaring she had "wounded their professional honor." Whether they would carry the case on into the Assizes court is uncertain.

She charged in the articles that favored treatment and in some cases "escapes" could be obtained by prisoners with money, while less fortunate ones received inhuman treatment.

Prisoners with relatives in France who sent them money were assigned to comparatively pleasant work, she said; dined well, strolled about Cayenne, the capital of French Guiana, and in some instances even maintained quarters of their own outside prison precincts.

Demands Probes of Escapes.

She demanded an investigation of the large number of escapes—there were 266 one year, official figures disclose.

The favored prisoners, the writer continued, wore freshly laundered linens and had jobs that kept them out of the sun, while others toiled in torrid fields, clad in rags.

At mealtimes, she said, the latter class were thrown bread, sardines, and chunks of meat, which they grabbed and devoured like animals.

She attacked the system of "doubling," under which prisoners sent to Guiana, after completing their prison terms, must spent an equal length of time in semi-liberty in Guiana and even on completing that can return to France only at their own expense.

In many cases, she said, the period of semi-liberty was worse than the prison term, for the men had to shift for themselves and earned so little money that they could never save enough to pay their passage home.

SEEK INDICTMENT OF U. S. AGENT'S SLAYERS MONDAY

James R. Fleming of South Bend, United States attorney for the district of northern Indiana, said here yesterday that he will ask Federal Judge Thomas Slick in South Bend on Monday to order grand jury action in the murder of John R. Foster, an agent of the federal alcohol tax unit. Harlan Crouch, 43 years old, and James Jacobs, 40, both Indianapolis alcohol runners, have confessed that they shot Foster on a highway near Hammond on May 14 as he and another agent were trailing them.

Fleming made his announcement after conferring in Chicago with E. C. Yellowley, district head of the alcohol tax unit, and L. N. Swygert, Fleming's assistant. He declared that he had gathered sufficient facts in corroboration of the confessions to go before the grand jury.

LOUIS ECKSTEIN ESTATE VALUE EXCEEDS MILLION

Ravinia Opera Backer's Fortune to Widow.

An estate of more than $1,100,000 was left by Louis Eckstein, capitalist who sponsored the Ravinia opera for more than 20 years. This was learned yesterday when an inventory of his estate was filed with August Urbanski, assistant to the probate judge.

Mr. Eckstein died last Nov. 21st at the age of 70. His will, which was filed shortly afterward, left most of his estate in trust to his widow, Mrs. Elsie Snydacker Eckstein, who lives at the Drake hotel.

Included in the inventory of the estate were $50,000 of bonds and $142,800 of stocks of the Ravinia company. The value of these securities is doubtful, according to the inventory. M. W. Lowell, vice president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, one of the trustees of the estate, said that the Ravinia company owned the land on which the opera was conducted and that Mr. Eckstein's holdings represented at least a controling interest in the company.

Silent on Opera Plans.

Mrs. Eckstein has not disclosed her plans with regard to the reopening of the opera which her husband sponsored until 1931. Another trust for her benefit, believed to have been the bulk of his fortune, including valuable loop real estate, was created in 1932 by Mr. Eckstein.

In addition to nearly $30,000 in cash, Mr. Eckstein's estate included the following securities "deemed good," according to the inventory, the value shown being the market value unless otherwise indicated:

Shares.

600 Continental Ill. Nat. bank	$ 91,200
14,000 Chicago Mail Order Co.	392,000
1,125 Diversified Products Co., par	112,500
300 Emporium-World Millinery Co., par	30,000
100 Personal Loan & Sav. bank	16,000
250 Swift International	7,500
50 Anaconda Copper	1,700
10,240 McCall Corp., common	307,200
4,500 Int. Scientific Products Co., common, par	22,500
72 American National Jocky club, preferred, par	7,200

Treasury Notes Listed.

Also listed in the inventory are $82,182 of United States treasury notes, $67,500 of bonds of the Pepsodent Manufacturing company, and $6,750 of bonds of the Lake Shore Country club.

Seven parcels of real estate in the vicinity of the Ravinia opera property were also listed in the inventory.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

It's an unusual coincidence that Guy Lombardo should be coming to Chicago to play his first hotel engagement here the same week that Wayne King is making his first appearance in a New York hostelry. Lombardo, his brothers, and fellow Canadians will open in the Empire room of the Palmer house tonight and Wayne King will open at the Waldorf Astoria in New York on Tuesday. Their sustaining music will be heard exclusively over the Mutual system and W-G-N while their network sponsored programs continue as heretofore.

For a half dozen years Wayne King had been building in popularity until his became the dominant local orchestra. The Lombardos have been in New York about that long but today they will be remembering, as will many a radio listener, that they were started on the road to fame and fortune here in 1927 at Al Quodbach's old Granada cafe on the south side, since burned.

During their first weeks at the Granada their audience was composed mainly of waiters. In fact it was a waiter who suggested to Quodbach that he engage this then unknown band which was playing in a small cafe in Cleveland. Al tool the fellow's advice—and then almost came to regret it.

Guy finally suggested that they try radio. WBBM put in a wire and in a few weeks the place was swarming with customers. Loud and raucous music was the thing then, but the Lombardos muffled their brasses and stuck to sweet music. Through the years they have changed their style very little. And despite shifting fancies they have remained at the top of the heap, winning the radio editors' annual poll for five consecutive years, Wayne King, incidentally, has been second the last few years.

Nelson Eddy will conclude his current series for that tire concern over NBC Monday evening. When he reappears next fall it will be in the interest of that cold cure that paid the Grace Moore bills last season.

Paul Whiteman's idea of an annual Radio Academy Award for meritorious programs and personalities [similar to that of the motion picture world] has radio row interested. It seems likely the first awards will be made next April by a committee of broadcast bosses, advertising agency experts, radio editors, and perhaps others.

The Fibber McGee and Molly show which has originated in Chicago for more than a year will go visiting this summer. Several broadcasts are to be made from Cleveland, where the Great Lakes exposition will be in progress. The show also will visit Detroit. Ted Weems will provide the music for this program beginning June 15.

WIDOW OF GUIDE FOR THE "SILVER CROESUS" IS DEAD

Denver, Colo., May 29.—(AP)—The widow of the man who led H. A. W. Tabor, Colorado silver Croesus, to his first million was buried today. She died Wednesday.

The life story of Minnie Junghuhn Rische of Baltimore, and her husband, August Rische, strangely paralleled those of Tabor and his wife—sudden riches and a place among Denver's social "400," then financial panic, vanished fortune and seclusion.

Rische came west in the seventies. With Theodore Hook, Pittsburgh steel puddler, he appeared in Tabor's grocery store at Leadville "dead broke."

They wanted to search for gold and silver. Tabor grubstaked them. They hit a "pay streak." One year from the discovery the holdings were capitalized at 20 million dollars. Rich, Rische married Minnie Junghuhn of Baltimore.

In the panic of 1892 and 1893 Rische lost his fortune. Twenty-five years ago he died. Like Rische, Tabor died almost penniless.

And like Mrs. Rische, Tabor's widow, "Baby Doe" Tabor, died long after the Tabor fortunes had receded.

Her frozen body was found a year ago in a rude mine shack on Fryer hill. She clasped two $1 bills in her hand, all that remained of the Tabor wealth.

In 1926 he became president of the engineering concern, succeeding his uncle, the late Col. Washington A. Roebling, who completed the plans for the Brooklyn bridge.

150,000 TO SEE 33 CARS START 500 MILE RACE TODAY

Weather forecast—Fair and cool.

Last year's winner—Kelly Petillo.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press rvice.]

Indianapolis, Ind., May 29.—A crowd that may exceed the 1930 record of 165,000 is assembling for the annual 500 mile automobile race tomorrow. Advance ticket sales are 25 per cent greater than last year, when 140,000 saw the Memorial day classic, which attracts more spectators than any sporting event in America.

Speed records also are threatened. The qualification runs were faster than any previous year. Kelly Petillo won last year's race with an average of 106.240 miles per hour for a new track record, but as he still has some of last year's prize money, he's not competing tomorrow.

Mays Earns Pole.

The fastest time in the 25 mile preliminary trials this year was made by Rex Mays, who turned up an average of 119.644 in his four cylinder mount. The slowest qualifying time of the 33 starters was 111.078 miles per hour.

Of course, it will be impossible to maintain such a pace for 500 miles, even with $100,000 prizes encouraging them. The machines could not stand it even if the drivers could. Last year 18 of the starters were eliminated by mechanical failures, broken connecting rods and the like.

But it appears as though the leader at the finish may have to average better than 106.240 miles per hour. Fuel, lubricants, and machinery through the normal advancements in all branches of automotive engineering, have been bettered since last Memorial day and, perhaps more important, the track has been improved. The 180 degree turns at each end of the two and a half mile oval have been smoothed and resurfaced with a grifty bituminous concrete.

Pretty Lucky—So Far.

Other improvements aim at reducing the risks that have taken 31 lives since the track was founded in 1909. Last year two drivers and a mechanic were killed in trials while a fourth was fatally injured in the race.

This year the preliminaries have been free of fatalities although there were four smashups. The track is closed to tune up drives today so that the race will start at 10 o'clock [11 a. m. Chicago time], with an unusually clean accident record.

On the basis of previous performances, the odds are against all the 66 drivers and mechanics being alive and well tomorrow night. In 1933, the most tragic year at the speedway, three were killed in the race and two in preliminary runs.

Some Wait Weeks.

It is this hazard that attracts the crowds which fill 350 acres in the infield with parked cars and the grandstand and boxes with their 70,000 seats. Few, if any, come here to see the operation of this proving ground of the automobile industry.

The risks remain, notwithstanding track improvements made in the name of safety. One of these betterments consisted of doubling to three feet the thickness of the retaining walls on the turns, lessening chances of being thrown from the track when hitting one of these walls at better than 100 miles per hour. Another safety improvement was widening the cinder apron inside the track, giving more room for a car to skid or roll before hitting concrete.

Special trains, including four from Chicago, are rolling toward Indianapolis tonight and the highways are humming with fans en route to the race. Cars from at least a dozen states are parked four abreast for a mile outside the entrance, seeking favored spaces tomorrow. Some have been there several days. The one at the head of the line holds Misses Grace and Flora Ford of Peoria, Ill., who have been there for five weeks.

Edsel Ford to Attend.

Davis Cup Zone Finals Start Today

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—(AP)—The Australian champion, Adrian Quist, will oppose the American title holder, Wilmer Allison, in the opening match of the American zone Davis cup finals at the Germantown Cricket club's court tomorrow afternoon. Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., will encounter the veteran Australian team captain, Jack Crawford, in the other singles contest. The players will trade opponents for the concluding singles on Monday.

The pairings for the doubles match scheduled for Sunday were also announced today, Budge and Gene Mako of Los Angeles being pitted against Crawford and Quist. The winning team will qualify for the interzone series at Wimbledon against the European zone title holder.

On recent form the 31 year old Allison seems the weaker of Uncle Sam's singles players while Quist seems to be holding the peak which carried him through a series of triumphs over Crawford at home.

Quist appears ready for a major match. Allison is a slow starter nd seldom arrives at top form until midsummer. But he's a tireless fighter and his teammates are counting on him to raise his game under the spur of competition.

Budge's youth and superior stamina will count heavily in his favor against Crawford. The Australian captain has been impressive in practice, but he appears to be short of endurance. A master tactician, Crawford's big hope depends on whether he can confuse his young rival.

GODWIN FAILS TO LAST ROUND AGAINST LEWIS

A crowd of about three thousand witnessed the bout, which lasted only 1 minute and 27 seconds. Soon after the bell sent them into action the champion floored Godwin with a right to the jaw for a nine count.

The champion drove the southerner to the ropes, and, seeing that Godwin could offer no resistance, the referee stepped in and stopped the bout.

BY FRENCH LANE.

To entertain what will be one of the largest turf crowds of the year in Chicago the Hawthorne track officials today will present the best program that has been offered here this season.

The best route running handicap performers in the west are named for the $5,000 Memorial day handicap at a mile and a sixteenth which features the card. In addition the companion feature, a dash at 6 furlongs for 3 year olds, attracted an over night field of nine eligibles to the Chicago Derby which is to be run at Hawthorne three weeks from today.

The advance clamor for tickets indicated last night that the crowd may reach 25,000 provided that number of holiday racegoers can crowd into the Hawthorne inclosure. This throng would be a new high for Hawthorne. It is the first time in ten years that the track has been assigned a choice holiday date.

Dozen Named for Handicap.

The $5,000 handicap attracted an even dozen in the overnight field, and it is expected that not more than two of them will be withdrawn before post time. Bright Light and Silent Shot are the doubtful starters. Both are noted mud runners and there doesn't seem to be any mud in prospect for Hawthorne this afternoon.

In the overnight betting, much to the surprise of most of the regulars, the Mrs. Emil Denemark entry of Corinto and Chasar was made the favorite. Still it was a wide open betting affair with the Denemark color bearers quoted at 3 to 1.

Chanceview was the second choice at 4 to 1, and Billy Jones, owned by Tom Worden of Chicago, and Whiskolo, from the stable of Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, were the equal third choices at 5 to 1.

Corinto's impressive victory in the Clark handicap in Kentucky no doubt was the cause of the stout backing which developed for the Denemark entry. His stablemate, Chasar, also is reported to be in fine fettle.

Star Juveniles to Race.

There is a third race on the program which will attract attention. It is a 2 year old number in which several eligibles to the Hawthorne juvenile stakes will endeavor to prove their worth.

Warren Wright is running an entry of Gallant Eagle and Never Tire. The formidable Vladina Farm stable of Texas will be represented by Brown Prodigy and Western Slope. It is expected that either Tom Worden's colt Inscolt or Joseph E. Widener's Fitter will rule as the favorite.

Notre Dame Beats Indiana; Keeps Title

Bloomington, Ind., May 29.—[Special.]—Notre Dame's track team, scoring heavily in the field events, defended its state intercollegiate championship today by leading Indiana university, Big Ten champion, 67 to 64.

The Irish dominated the shot put, broad jump, low hurdles, 440 and 880 yard runs, while the Hoosiers took charge of the short dashes, the distance events and the high hurdles.

Purdue finished third with 13½ points. Butler was fourth with 7; De Pauw had 5; Ball State, 4½; and Oakland City college, 2. Other entrants failed to score.

Lash Sets Record.

A high wind, sweeping through the stadium, hindered the contestants and only one new record was set. Don Lash, Indiana university's great distance runner, won the two mile run in 9 minutes 19 seconds to clip nearly four seconds off the mark set by Henry Brocksmith, former Indiana star, in 1932.

Don Elser, Notre Dame all around man, won the low hurdles, took third in the shot put and fourth in the discus to lead his team. He was the favorite in the shot put, but two teammates beat him as Notre Dame scored a slam in the event.

Relay Is Thriller.

Lash, who won the mile and two mile races from his teammates, Tommy Deckard and James Smith, and Bob Collier, who won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes in addition to running anchor on the mile relay team, paced Indiana.

The mile relay provided the thrill of the meet, with Indiana, Notre Dame, and Purdue alternating in setting the pace, until Collier of Indiana, given a slight lead by Hobbs, raced in the victor by inches.

Tigers Beat Sox, 4-3, in 10th; Bonura's Brainstorm Is Costly

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Goose Goslin's home run bat and Zeke Bonura's cerebrum, both ponderous in two entirely different emergencies this afternoon, enabled the Detroit Tigers to take the final and rubber game of the five game series from the White Sox, 4 to 3, in ten innings.

Al Simmons scored with two out in the tenth when Babe Phelps couldn't recover a shot at his shins in time to retire Marvin Owen at first for the third out.

The Sox got away to a three run lead in the second inning off Clarence Phillips, making his first start in two years' employment with the Tigers. The Tigers tied the score with two out in the fifth when Goslin knocked a homer with two on.

Put 'Em on Fish Diet, Jimmy.

Phillips by this time had become a sweet pitcher, in all except the seventh. The Sox filled the bases with none out and would have scored the run that would have won in regulation time but for a coma into which poor Zeke passed in a situation involving lesson No. 1 in baseball's base running primer. After that the Tigers deserved to win, thinking still being an element in the game as played in major league circuits.

The Sox thus for the second time in the series blew an opportunity to pass the Tigers because of mental breakdowns.

Bonura Starts Scoring.

The day's hitting and scoring started in the second inning when Bonura led off with a single to left. Hayes doubled off the left field wall, Bonura stopping at third. Piet singled to center, scoring Bonura and Hayes. Sewell fouled to Burns, then Piet stole second and scored on Morrissey's single to center. Phelps grounded into a double play.

With one out in the fourth Walker singled to left for his second and the Tigers' fourth hit, but promptly was forced by Burns, Morrissey unassisted. Owen forced Burns, Piet to Morrissey.

Zeke Ruins Chance.

Phillips led off the fifth with his second single and stopped at second on Rogell's single. Radcliff made a fine run to left center to pull down Cochrane's drive. Gehringer forced Rogell, Bonura to Morrissey. Phillips stopping at third. Goslin then tied the score with a home run into the stands in right center, scoring Phillips and Gehringer. It was his third homer of the series. Simmons dumped

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Except for the fact that the Reds succeeded in making a laughing matter of the entire affair, the home debut of Curt Davis, rescued from the Phillies by the Cubs, was a howling success yesterday. Curt held up his end with dignity and style, but his foes displayed such a marked leaning toward comical endeavor that the champions couldn't avoid winning, 8 to 1.

Leading in the role of mirth maker was one Alex Kampouris, who was present on the assumption he was a second baseman. He convinced a slim crowd of 3,158 paying patrons and 8,500 ladies' day guests that there was something wrong some place. He booted two grounders in the second inning, giving the Cubs a run. He warmed up for his third error in the third when the Cubs counted three times on one hit by juggling long enough to lose a double play and letting another tap escape him for a hit. Then after his third error he hurled his glove into the grandstand and asked for another. The new mitt apparently restored him to normal.

Schott Aids with Passes.

Gene Schott, the Reds' starting pitcher, also performed nobly in behalf of the Cubs. He gave them three passes in the first inning, but they spurned the chance. He handed them three more in the third. This time the champs scored three on a lone hit that the staggering Kampouris should have captured. Then in the fourth the Cubs got around to some real hitting, but Schott continued to aid by walking two more. Four runs grew from this assault which was halted by the intervention of Walter Hilcher. The Cubs also were halted for the rest of the afternoon.

Davis, while registering his third victory of the season and his first as a Cub, was bothered in only two of the nine innings. In the third the Reds collected their run, good enough for a tie at the time. Three hits were tossed into this effort, but two of them came after two were out. The other inning in which there was a slight disturbance was the seventh, when two hits put men on third and first with one gone. Davis snuffed out this threat.

Waste Three Passes.

Schott was big hearted as early as the first inning, but the Cubs couldn't turn a profit. Hack led off with a walk but refused to await developments. He set forth on a steal of second and Campbell threw him out. Then Herman walked. So did Galan. O'Dea bounced into a force out that gave Herman time to sneak to third, but Demaree closed the inning with a tap to Kampouris.

There was nothing wrong with Schott in the second, but Kampouris decided to show how second base should not be played, an exhibition that gave the Cubs their first run. Allen flied to left and Grimm singled to right for the only hit of the inning. Lillard bounced to Kampouris, who politely fumbled, Grimm taking third. Davis was set down on strikes. Hack bounced to Kampouris, who fumbled for the second time, Grimm scoring. Herman also rolled in the same direction, but Kampouris fooled everybody by getting the ball and making the throw to first.

Reds Gain Brief Tie.

The Reds climbed back into a momentary tie in the third when they nicked Davis for three hits. Myers led off with a single to right and was sacrificed to second by Kampouris. After Grimm had taken a pop up off Schott's bat, Cuyler singled to right and Myers dashed home. Goodman whistled a single past Grimm's head, putting Cuyler on third, but Scarsella rolled to Davis.

Schott's second attack of generosity came at the start of the third and with more help from Kampouris the Cubs collected three runs on one hit. Galan and O'Dea walked with none out. Demaree bunted to Schott, who

CHALLITE WINS AFTER MIGHTY BETTING PLUNGE

Opens at 20 to 1; Rewards Backers with $7.

In yesterday's TRIBUNE there appeared the exclusive information that Challite from the Tranquillity Farm stable had turned in the most sensational workout of the year in Chicago, a gallop of three furlongs in 34 seconds.

There came a mighty plunge on Challite. The opening odds were 20 to 1. Down and down went the odds against her until she turned out to be the "best thing" of the meeting. She won in a sensational finish by a nose from Not Asleep and paid $7 for a $2 ticket.

Challite had to be a good filly to win. She was bumped considerably during the early stages and then was forced to race on the extreme outside in the run down the stretch. Gradually she wore down the early leaders and finished the five furlongs in 1:01 4-5.

Not Asleep was the last one she conquered. Challite accomplished that in the final stride. Mattapony, quite a star in Maryland, finished third.

Warren Wright and his trainer, Bert Williams, decided yesterday to send Count Morse after the Belmont stakes pot of gold at New York one week from today. Count Morse will travel east tomorrow and probably will start in a race fashioned for Belmont eligibles on Tuesday. Jocky Eddie Arcaro is going along to do the riding. Two juveniles will be Count Morse's traveling companions.

The Illinois racing commission decided yesterday that the camera eye at Hawthorne was not functioning the way it should be. It was ordered that photo finishes be discontinued until additional apparatus is added to the "eye." This will be accomplished within a short time, Albert Sabath, president of the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, announced last night.

Jocky Basil James has piloted two or more winners each day since the Hawthorne meeting opened.

REPORT COLOR LINE IS DRAWN AT A. A. U. MEET

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—[Special.]—Four colored athletes were reported to have been denied admittance to the District of Columbia A. A. U. track and field meet and regional Olympic tryouts, scheduled for tomorrow at Washington, D. C. William J. Bingham, chairman of the Olympic track and field committee, said if the reports were true the colored athletes automatically will qualify for the Olympic semi-final tryouts June 26 and 27 at Cambridge, Mass.

"When so many people in this country have accused Germany of racial discrimination, how can we justify ourselves, if the circumstances reported are true?" Bingham said. "The Olympic committee wants every athlete, regardless of race or religion, to have a fair chance to try out for the American team. We intend to make sure this chance is given."

MIGHTY QUICK, fractious at the post, but away well and never far back, was forced wide for room when beginning to move up approaching the stretch, disposed of ROCKEY ROO without need of pressure, but was shaken up in the last sixteenth. JUSTA SHEIK, raced wide and far back for a half mile, came with improved speed thereafter.

MADCAP YANKEE, lucky to get through on inside when moving up on the turn, sprinted into a long lead quickly when straight in the stretch and was not fully extended while continuing to draw out in the final eighth. FIRST TIME, factious at the post, away fast, displayed fair speed, but tired badly in the last eighth yet withstood WEAPON'S rush. Latter, taken back early and raced wide, closed well.

BLIND PIG, a sharp factor from the start and never strongly persevered with, raced to the lead gradually and easily held MR. RICKS safe the final eighth. Latter displayed fair speed from the start, saved ground throughout and held on well, though failing to hold the winner. BON CENTIME, well in hand for a half mile, closed fast under mild urging.

PRINCE JOHN forced the early pace under light restraint, took a short lead quickly after reaching the stretch and holding on well stalled off FULL UP in a long drive during which he swerved out. FULL UP, a factor from the start, responded to strong urging after reaching the stretch and fought it out stubbornly to the end, despite light interference. $16,000 Race Draws 12 at Belmont Today

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The $16,000 Suburban handicap, flanked by the Juvenile stakes and the Corinthian Steeplechase handicap, will be renewed at Belmont tomorrow.

The fiftieth running of the Suburban should prove a bitterly contested race, for it will bring out twelve of the best handicap horses in training. At one mile and a quarter, it is a test not only of speed, but of stamina.

Whopper Gets Top Weight.

Hal Price Headley's Whopper, son of Pharamond II., is high weight of the probable starters, under 119 pounds. He will clash again with Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt's Good Harvest, which led home the big fellow in the Metropolitan handicap. Good Harvest picks up seven pounds to carry 113, while Whopper is dropping four pounds from that race. With this switch, Whopper is conceded a fine chance to even the score with the former selling plater.

Vanderbilt will not rely wholly on Good Harvest, however, as he plans to run him coupled with Identify and Gallant Mac—a powerful entry.

Good Goods Will Start.

Brookmeade Stable intends to start Good Goods. Firethorn, which has trained well, will represent William Jeffords. Having qualified by winning on Thursday, Observant will represent Morton L. Schwartz, whose colors were borne to victory in both the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness by Bold Venture, now retired. Granville, a 3 year old, will be watched with special interest. His showing against older horses will aid in giving a line of his capabilities. He is being pointed for the Belmont, a week hence.

OMAHA TO MAKE SECOND START IN ENGLAND TODAY

LONDON, May 29.—Omaha, William Woodward's American champion, will make his second start in the Queen's plate race at Kempton park tomorrow. The son of Gallant Fox won the Victor Wild stakes in his first start of his English campaign on May 9.

Omaha, winner of the 3 year old title in the United States last year, was assigned top weight of 130 pounds. Among Omaha's 24 rivals in the two mile event will be Bobsleigh, owned by Lord Derby.

SMITH YIELDS 3 HITS; GIANTS BEAT BEES, 15-0

Boston Batter Gets to Base Until Eighth.

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Lefty Al Smith, the Giants' second best pitcher, retired 23 men in order through seven and two-thirds innings today, and then allowed a pair of singles to open his no hit game as the New Yorkers defeated the Boston Bees, 15 to 0.

A Texas leaguer by Hal Lee with two out in the eighth, and a hot grounder through the infield by Bill Lewis in the ninth were the only Bee hits off Smith as he chalked up his fourth victory. Up to the time Lee connected in the eighth not a man had reached first. Smith did not walk a batter. He had one strikeout.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 29.—(AP)—Chuck Klein picked up at Baker bowl today where he left off three years ago when he was traded, and drove five runs as the Phillies defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers, 10 to 2.

He found the range of the right field wall in the first inning to hit his first home run since his return from the Chicago Cubs, and added a double and a single before the game ended, sending the Dodgers back to the National league cellar.

CARDINALS BEAT PIRATES.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—(AP)—Six runs in the fifth inning and three more in the eighth gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 9 to 7 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates here today.

In the fifth Jim Collins, veteran first baseman who has been benching warming while Rookie John Mize covered his station, smacked the ball out of the park for a home run. It was the first hit the Cards had made off Mace Brown, but before they got through with Brown and Cy Blanton that inning six runs crossed the plate. Guy Bush stopped the mutiny.

Austin Defeats Bowen, 13 to 8; Proviso Wins

Overcoming an eight run disadvantage Austin High school defeated Bowen in a City league quarter-final baseball game, 13 to 8, at Mills stadium yesterday.

Five hits and a wild pitch netted Bowen five runs in the opening inning. The south siders continued with three more runs in the second.

Austin pushed over two runs in the fourth, five in the fifth, and one in the sixth to tie the score. Austin got four more in the seventh inning and another in the eighth to assure victory. Score:

Tigers Whip Sox, 4 to 3, in Ten Innings

From the close of the second inning through the sixth only 12 batsmen, the absolute minimum, faced Phillips. In the seventh, however, the Sox filled the bases with none out, but failed to score, mostly because of Bonura's unbelievably dull wit on the bases. Zeke opened with a single and stopped at second on Hayes' single. Piet bunted and was safe on Phillips' fumble, filling the bases.

Sewell sent a short fly to Walker, then Morrissey drove a long one to left. If it had evaded Goslin Zeke could have walked home. It therefore should have been automatic for Bonura to touch up and be prepared to run after the catch. But Zeke has only been playing baseball since he was six years old and hasn't figured this one out. So he raced half way to the plate while the drive was in the air. Then Goslin threw to the screen, but Zeke was returning to the bag. When he eventually got there, he got one of his feet caught under the other and was still trying to extricate himself when Cochrane completed his chase of the ball and ran to the plate. The inning ended when Phelps forced Piet.

How Tigers Ended It.

Gehringer opened the Tiger tenth with a double to left center. Goslin failed in two attempts to sacrifice, then achieved his purpose when Gehringer reached third after Piet had caught the Goose's long foul. Simmons was given an intentional pass and the bases were full when Walker walked because of Phelps' unwillingness to give him anything to hit at. Piet made a nice play to get Burns' hot grounder near first, then threw to Sewell to force Gehringer at the plate. Owen caromed a single off Phelps' shins and Simmons scored the winning run.

TWO GAMES TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—John Whitehead, the White Sox problem child, will make his eleventh start of the season in the first game of the double-header with the Indians at Cleveland tomorrow. He will be after his fourth victory. Sugar Cain, who has been a happy result of a what was at the time rated an inconsequential swap, will pitch the other game.

Tomorrow marks the first anniversary of the White Sox surrender of first place in the American league. On the morning of last Memorial day the Sox still were in first place, eminence they had achieved on May 6, 1935. During the day, however, the Yanks beat Washington twice and the Sox split with the Indians. On the night of May 30 last year the Yanks had won 24 and lost 14 games, the Sox had won 21 and lost 13, Cleveland had won 19 and lost 15, and the rising Tigers had won 19 and lost 17.

Luke Appling will be out of the game at least a week longer. His right ankle was badly sprained sliding into first in a frantic effort to avoid a double play in yesterday's game.

EARLIER CHICAGO.

DEAR Wake: In 1889 and later Burcky and Milan conducted a double restaurant on the west side of Clark street between Madison and Monroe streets.

On one side meals were served for 15 cents [all you could eat, according to announcement]. If meat was ordered it was a generous portion, well done or rare as ordered. If the first helping did not fill you, another was forthcoming. In addition, soup, bread piled high on the table, butter, tea, coffee or milk, and a fine piece of pie.

At breakfast you could order buckwheat cakes if you wished, five or six to an order, or pancakes six layers deep. Eggs were also on the menu. Biscuit or cone pone was served with fish orders. It was the greatest place in Chicago to get a satisfying meal at small cost.

On the other side of the restaurant a full meal cost 25 cents. The principal difference was a white tablecloth and napkins.

On the floor above the restaurant was a hotel of 10-20-30 cent rooms and in the basement a poolroom.

Ever hear of the Minnie? Unless you are an old resident, probably not. She was a diminutive locomotive that pulled the pay car of the North Western railroad out of Chicago 60 years ago, a pretty little wood burner of brass trimmings, broad smokestack, and red drive wheels, with name appearing under cab window. As she passed on her way out through the open country [Wisconsin division] and over the crossing at Indian Boundary road, now Rogers avenue, she was a pleasing sight to us dwellers thereabouts.

He nearly always started off in a rich brogue, "If there's any people I hate more than any other 'tis the Irish," always good for a laugh. His only makeup was a pair of spectacles. Harry W. Meltzer.

A Day in May.

Our grandmothers gathered with loving care
Their peonies, lilacs, and rue,
And placed them each May on a soldier's grave
Along with the red, white, and blue.
Like the boys in blue, our khaki clad lads
Vast flowering meadows marched through,
Only poppies now nodded at the feet of those Carrying the red, white, and blue.
So let us all wear on "Poppy day"
A blossom of flaming hue,
In loving memory of those who "went west"

Reds' Comical Fielding Helps Cubs Win, 8-1

threw to third to get Galan, but Umpire Stewart decided the runner was safe. Allen lined toward Kampouris and the ball went on its way for a single, Galan and O'Dea counting. Grimm fanned and Lillard forced Allen, a double play being lost by Kampouris' momentary fumble. Demaree scored on the play.

Schott continued to cause misery for his manager by uncorking a wild pitch before walking Davis. Then Hack grounded to Kampouris, who showed there was no limit to his juggling. He fumbled again, whereupon he blamed everything on to his glove. He sailed it into the grandstand, took a new mitt and threw out Herman for the final play of the inning.

There were no bargains attached to the four runs the Cubs picked up in the fourth. They earned them by doing enough hitting to nudge Schott out of action. Galan opened with a single to center, O'Dea walked and Demaree singled, Galan scoring. Allen's bunt advanced O'Dea and Demaree and both registered on Grimm's single, which bounced over Schott and rolled into center. When Lillard singled and Davis walked, filling the bases, Schott was recalled. Hilcher nailed the next two batters.

The only hits yielded by Davis after the third appeared in the seventh and eighth. In the former session Byrd doubled with one out and moved to third on Myers' single to left. Just to round out a perfect day for himself Kampouris fanned for the second time and Hilcher flied to Demaree. In the eighth Cuyler led off with his third hit of the afternoon but Goodman fouled to Hack and Scarsella poked to Herman for a double play.

Lee, Henshaw to Pitch Today's Double-Header

Bill Lee and Roy [Lefty] Henshaw will be in charge of the Cubs' pitching today in the double bill with the Pirates. The Pittsburgh starters will be Red Lucas and Ralph Birkofer.

Capt. Woody English had to keep himself out of action for the day because of soreness resulting from being plunked on the left shoulder by a pitched ball aimed by Lee Stine immediately preceding the fistic display in Thursday's game.

Bill Jurges, the Cubs' regular shortstop, may get back into the lineup within a few days. At least that is the prediction made by Manager Charles Grimm yesterday after the ailing athlete had demonstrated during fielding practice that he really could throw.

The boys involved in Thursday's scuffle heard about it from league headquarters yesterday morning. Woody English and his adversary, Lee Stine, were requested to forward $25 each. Coach Roy Johnson of the Cubs and Coach George Kelly of the Reds were assessed $50 apiece for staging their own private fight.

The daily physical jolt for Manager Grimm didn't come until the ninth. He ran over toward the Red's coop in pursuit of a pop foul, stepped on the bats, and bounced to the floor of the dugout with bats showering all around him.

Maroon Rally Beats Waseda Nine, 18 to 16

Out of a welter of heroics and blunders, the University of Chicago baseball team emerged victorious over Waseda university, touring Japanese champions, 18 to 16, in their first game at the Midway yesterday. A home run by Catcher Bob Shipway, his second of the game, drove in the last three runs of a five run rally in the last of the ninth, by which the Maroons overcame the visitors.

Waseda, too, enjoyed a heroic ninth inning. Trailing, 13 to 7, at the end of the eighth, the Nipponese scored nine runs in their final time at bat, with the help of four Maroon errors and a long homer by Catcher Masuo Murakata.

Fools Maroons at Start.

The game opened in exemplary fashion, with Kanemitsu Kondo, spectacled Waseda southpaw, fanning seven Maroons in the first four innings with a deceptive curve. It closed on a less classic note, twenty-six runs being scored in the last four innings. Each team committed eight errors.

Yedor, who went the route for the Maroons, despite the twelve hits and nine walks he gave to the short Japanese, made four hits. Kiyoshi Suzuki, left fielder, made three to lead the Waseda team. A crowd of 3,000 watched the game. Score:

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—Firmness prevailed in most sections of today's bond market, with a pace of activity somewhat more substantial than ordinarily precedes a two day week-end recess.

Second grade rail issues were prominently in favor, staging an advance that was broad, although within moderate price range. Most of the usual leaders, including Southern Pacific, Southern, M., K. & T. and other midwestern roads moved ahead under the impetus of a noticeable increase in speculative demand.

Boston and Maine Issues Fall.

Conspicuous weakness in Boston and Maine bonds was not accompanied by specific news development and was believed to reflect growing disappointment over the road's net operating income in April, which was adversely affected by heavy expenditures for earlier flood damages and other factors. The 5s of 1967 dropped 4½ points to 71½, the 4¾s were 2 lower, and the 5s of 1955 lost 2¾ points. The three issues were weak on Thursday.

High grade bonds in the rail and public utility sections also firmed narrowly as investment demand was swelled by month-end portfolio buying. Industrial issues were about at a standstill.

Government List Uneven.

United States government issues failed to do much either way. The three most active treasury issues ranged from an advance of 2-32ds to a decline of like amount, while an extremely thin buyers' market resulted in losses running up to 6-32 point in some of the guaranteed obligations.

French bonds checked their decline of the last few days and were relatively inactive. Most European issues were fractionally higher.

Commonwealth Edison Co.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me advice regarding Commonwealth Edison stock?—Mrs. T. A. C.

Answer: Commonwealth Edison company supplies the entire electric light and power requirements of Chicago, including most of the power for the elevated and surface transportation lines. The present management has followed a policy of gradual elimination of various substantial investments of the Insull régime.

"Gross income has recovered substantially from a 1933 low, but the company has been faced with increased operating costs and taxes which have kept net income from gaining as rapidly.

The federal 3 per cent tax put into effect in 1933 is equivalent to a reduction of rates by $2,000,000 a year. At present the company is seeking to pass on to customers the new state utility sales tax through higher rates, while at the same time the Illinois commerce commission has cited the company to show cause why its rates should not be reduced.

These are factors to be reckoned with in considering the company's outlook. On the other hand, it is advantageously located in the nation's second city and established as one of the largest operating utilities.

First quarter earnings in 1936 were adversely affected by an increase of $709,000 in tax provisions, largely because the state sales tax was not in effect in that period of 1935. Gross was up to $21,394,000 from $20,441,000, but net declined from $3,361,000, or $2.09 a share, to $3,330,000, or $2.07 a share. The record of the preceding four years follows:

	Gross earn.	Net inc.	Inc. per share.
1935	$79,149,000	$10,274,000	$6.39
1934	75,428,000	10,271,000	6.38
1933	72,584,000	7,409,000	4.56
1932	74,461,000	10,059,000	6.54

At the end of 1935 1,608,084 shares of capital stock were outstanding. Funded debt amounted to $194,504,000, or approximately 52½ per cent of total capital and surplus. During 1935 an issue of $29,500,000 of 3¾ per cent bonds were issued and a like amount of 4½ and 5½ per cent bonds were retired.

Current assets were $47,225,000 and current liabilities were $28,102,000 at the end of 1935—favorable as compared with other utilities.

Dividends have been paid continuously since incorporation of the company in 1907. The rate was $8 a year from 1914 to May, 1932, when it was cut to $5. The $4 annual dividend in effect since Aug. 1, 1933, has been amply covered by earnings.

CHICAGO STREET CAR LINES SOLD; TO REORGANIZE

System Bought by Security Holders.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The Chicago street car lines, including trackage, rolling stock, and other equipment, was bid in yesterday at a master in chancery sale by the security holders as a legal step in the reorganization and financial consolidation of the four companies now operating as one system. The knockdown price was $33,100,000.

The projected merger is expected to simplify franchise negotiations with the city. The lines are now operating under temporary extensions of the old 1907 franchise.

The bid for the property was submitted by Frank M. Gordon of the First National bank and M. H. MacLean of the Harris Trust and Savings bank. These two men represented the Abbott reorganization committee on behalf of all security holders who have assented to the Abbott plan. These assenters include holders of more than 90 per cent of the first mortgage bond holders and a majority of the junior bond holders and other security holders in the existing companies.

Protests Will Be Presented.

The reorganization plan is being protested by certain minority groups, including the holders of junior bonds of the north and west side lines. These dissenters, several of whom were present, will have a chance to voice their objections before the sale made yesterday comes up for final consummation before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson on June 19.

Gordon and MacLean were the only bidders for the property. Consummation of the Abbott reorganization would result in the release of more than 20 million dollars for the purchase of new equipment. Under the present receiverships of the four surface line companies these funds have been tied up. The sale was held at 11 a. m. in room 337 of the County building before Special Master Thomas J. Pedan. Nearly 100 lawyers, security holders, and others gathered to witness the proceedings.

Before reading of the lengthy legal notices was completed the crowd had dwindled to about a score directly interested in the sale.

In effect the sale was carried out to establish a price upon which the dissenting bondholders might be paid off. The purchasers of the property are actually in control of it at the present time. However, a minority have refused to go along with the plan. The sale, if confirmed by the federal court, will establish the basis upon which this minority will be bought out.

Security Holder Files Protest.

Prior to the hearing a protest had been filed with Master Peden by Attorney Harry F. Hamlin on behalf of Edward B. Grossman, who holds $300,000 of first mortgage bonds and other securities of the Chicago Railways company, owner of the north and west side car lines. His protest asserted that the sale was a "plain case of selling the junior security holders down the river."

The first property offered by Master Peden was the north side street car system owned by the Chicago Railways company. After the reading of the notice was completed MacLean stood up to "offer the sum of $19,000,000 for all the properties of the Chicago Railways company, pursuant to the plan of reorganization."

"No other persons have qualified to bid for the properties and I hereby declare the bidding closed," Peden said after a moment's pause.

There followed in turn the auctioning of three remaining parcels, the Chicago City Railways company, which brought a bid from Gordon of $11,000,000; the Calumet and South Chicago Railway company, for which $1,400,000 was offered, and the Chicago City and Connecting Railway Collateral Trust, which was knocked down to the two bidders for $1,700,000.

Sale Requires Only 1½ Hours.

The entire proceedings took about an hour and a half. Most of the time was taken up by the reading of the lengthy legal notices wherein the property for sale was briefly described and the qualifications for bidders set forth. During the reading of these notices the dozen lawyers present chatted and smoked in apparent boredom. As soon as Master Peden declared the bidding closed on the last parcel there was a hurried exodus.

The value placed on the Chicago street car system, which is the largest of its kind in the world, is approximately $169,000,000. This is the price at which the city may purchase the properties under the terms of the 1907 ordinance. There is outstanding against the four companies a bonded indebtedness of $121,593,000.

Junior Holders May Participate.

Yesterday's sale differed from the ordinary foreclosure sale by bondholders in that the junior security holders are being given a chance to participate in the reorganization. Usually the first mortgage bondholders may take over the properties of a company which has defaulted and then sell the properties at a price which will satisfy their claims.

At the conclusion of the sale Gordon and MacLean issued a statement in which they expressed confidence that the reorganization program will be confirmed by the federal court. The bids will be submitted to Judge Wilkerson on June 19. In the in-

The bid was made on behalf of the security holders of the present street car companies as a step in the reorganization and unification of the properties into a single company. The sale is subject to the approval of the federal court.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 29.—By a vote of 60 to 16, the senate today passed the commodity exchange bill, giving Secretary of Agriculture Wallace dictatorial powers over trading in nearly all major farm commodities, including butter and eggs. As the bill differs only in technical respects from the measure passed by the house last year, it may be accepted by that body without a conference, and is certain to become law at this session.

Today's action was sudden and unexpected, the bill having been shunted aside for consideration of the deficiency and relief appropriation measure. However, Senator Ellison D. Smith [Dem., S. C.], chairman of the agriculture committee, retreated from his controversial amendments setting up special regulations for cotton and Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.], minority leader, demanded the regular order, which was the commodity bill. It was passed with little further discussion.

Smith's Action Unexpected.

Smith's withdrawal from the cotton amendments, without which, he had said, the bill would be "passed over his dead body," caused much speculation as to his motives. The cotton amendments would have limited the open market position of any trader in cotton futures to 100,000 bales in any one month and 600,000 bales to any twelve consecutive months. This is about the amount of business handled by small New York cotton speculators with whom Senator Smith is friendly and who are constantly warring with the large firms, notably Anderson & Clayton.

However, Secretary Wallace and the commodity exchange commission which he will head has power, under the bill, to limit future trading to the extent desired by Senator Smith, and there were reports that Wallace had given assurances so to exercise this power with respect to cotton. The only difference is that the 600,000 bale limit would have been mandatory under the amendments and is now discretionary.

Commodities to Be Controled.

The bill amends the grain futures act to embrace wheat, cotton, rice, corn, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, grain sorghuma, mill feeds, butter, eggs, and Irish potatoes. The grain futures commission is changed to the commodity exchange commission but retains the same membership, including the secretary of agriculture as chairman, and the attorney general and the secretary of commerce.

It sets forth a declaration of principle that "excessive speculation in any commodity under contracts of sale of such commodity for future delivery" causes "sudden and unreasonable fluctuations or unwaranted changes in the price of such commodity" and is "an undue and unnecessary burden on interstate commerce."

The bill gives the commission power arbitrarily to fix, after notice and hearing, limits on the amount of trading under contracts for future delivery which may be done by any person, and different trading limits may be fixed for different commodities.

After the promulgation of such limits, it will be unlawful for any trader to buy or sell for future delivery any amount of any commodity in excess of the commission's order, or which would give him a net long or net short position at any one time exceeding the commission's limit.

Required to Register.

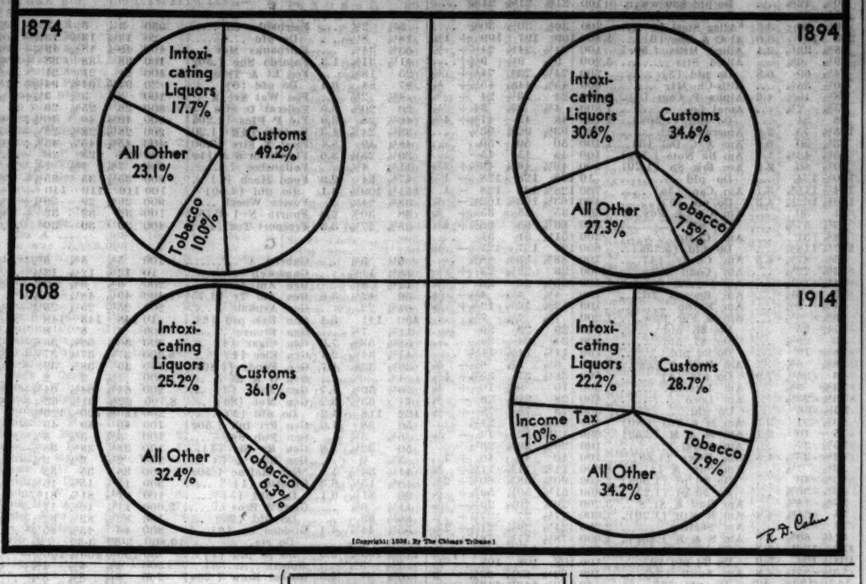
Futures commission merchants and floor brokers are required to register with the commission and any registrant violating any of the terms of the act or any regulation prescribed by the commission, or failing to make such reports and keep such books as the commission may require, may be suspended or barred from trading privileges.

If any board of trade, or any director, officer, agent, or employé violates any provision of the act or any regulation of the secretary of agriculture, the commission, in lieu of revoking the designation of such board as a contract market, may issue a cease and desist order. Violation of such an order would subject the offender to a fine of $500 to $10,000 or imprisonment for six months to one year, and each day during which such refusal to comply continued would be a separate offense.

GRAIN BOARD HEADS SILENT.

Officials of the Chicago Board of Trade refused to comment yesterday on the senate action approving the commodity exchange bill. Representatives of the board criticized the measure severely during the congressional hearings. Robert P. Boylan, president of the exchange, conferred with Howard Ellis, counsel for the board, after news of the senate action was received, but said he would make no statement until later. There was some speculation over the possibility that the exchange will test the constitutionality of the measure through courts if it is given final approval.

How Uncle Sam Balanced His Budget in Other Depression Years



COURT OUSTS SIX PRODUCE MART TRUSTEES

Name Others; Judge Orders Reports.

Judge Joseph Sabath of the Superior court yesterday signed a decree ousting six trustees of the $17,000,000 Chicago Produce district and appointed their successors. At the same time the court, retaining jurisdiction, ordered the ousted officials to make full reports on their operations, against which certain irregularities had been charged during the course of the hearings. The trustees removed are S. J. T. Straus, Sidney H. Kahn, and Henry R. Platt Jr., and the following associate trustees: Hugh McLennan, who acted as manager of the district for the trustees; Albert J. Weisberg, and B. K. Goodman.

JUDGE SABATH.

New Trustees Named.

The new trustees are: Graham Aldis of Aldis & Co., real estate operators; Frank Bering, vice president and general manager of the Hotel Sherman; Morris M. Rothschild, president of the Greenwood company, printers, and the Midwest Paper company; associate trustees, Benjamin Weintraub, Charles W. Irrgang, and Edward B. Fogtmann.

Weintraub was the original complainant in the suit against the trustees removed yesterday. Irrgang is vice president and general manager of the Fruit Auction Sales company, commission merchants, located in the market district. Fogtmann is also a commission merchant.

Receiver Is Removed.

The appointment of the new trustees automatically removes Aaron J. Jones, temporary receiver of the district, who has been under fire on charges by five of the six ousted trustees that he had received excessive fees of $24,000 and that he had been negligent in managing the market district. One of the complaints was that Jones vacationed too long in Florida.

The order allows Jones thirty days within which to make a final accounting of his receivership records.

Judge Sabath in the decree voided the management contract of Hugh McLennan and ordered S. J. T. Straus, Sidney H. Kahn, and Melvin L. Straus to file a complete report and account of all money received by them from the sale to the original guarantee fund of about $430,000 in bonds underwritten by S. W. Straus & Co.

Removed "for Good Reason."

Among the findings of the court was that trustees had withdrawn $430,000 from a sinking fund of $554,000 without the consent or knowledge of the bondholders and had bought $430,000 of bonds, most of which were underwritten and held for sale by S. W. Straus & Co.

The findings brought out that by Jan. 15, 1932, when principal prepayments and interest fell due the $430,000 of bonds had grossly depreciated in value and by Jan. 12, 1933, when a sale was held under the mortgage foreclosure, the bids for and the worth of these bonds was not above $50,000.

It was also found that S. W. Straus & Co. had mailed a printed letter on Jan. 14, 1932, to holders of all Chicago Produce District first mortgage bonds for the purpose of inducing bondholders to deposit their bonds with the Straus National Bank and Trust company under the deposit agreement.

Fails to Mention Investment.

The letter, the court said, stated that sufficient funds had been deposited to meet the semi-annual interest payments due the next day, but omitted the fact that $430,000 of the sinking fund cash had been invested

New Attack on TVA Begun by 19 Utilities

Birmingham, Ala., May 29.—[Special.]—A new assault on the Tennessee Valley authority, challenging the validity of almost the entire sweep of TVA activities and striking at the base of the Roosevelt power program, was launched here today by 19 public utility operating companies in the United States District court for northern Alabama.

The petition, which seeks to define the government's right to engage in any phase of the power business in competition with private companies, asks the court to enjoin TVA from further operation on the ground that it violates the constitution on several points.

Sue TVA Members.

Arthur E. Morgan, Marcourt A. Morgan, and David E. Lilienthal, who constitute the Tennessee Valley authority, are named as defendants. Complainant companies are largely subsidiaries of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, Electric Bond and Share company, Cities Service company, and Associated Gas and Electric company. They represent virtually all of the principal power generating companies in the Tennessee Valley area.

The same group of companies at the same time filed a similar bill of complaint in the state Chancery court at Knoxville, Tenn.

The bill charges that TVA "some time in 1933 promulgated a plan unlawfully to disrupt the good relations existing between the complainants and thei rrespective customers to appropriate their respective markets and to invade and destroy the property, business, and business relationships of the complainants."

Charge Property Taken.

It is further charged that TVA "unlawfully conspired together with the federal administration of public works, its officers and agents, to take unlawfully from the complainants their business, rights, and properties.

The TVA yardstick for wholesale electric rates was characterized by the bill of complaint as "dishonest, unfair, unreasonable, and confiscatory" as a measure of rates of the complainants "or other privately owned and operated utilities." The companies charged that the yardstick "excludes the cost of the major part of the investment necessary to render the service and excludes necessary operating expenses, which TVA either ignores or recoups from state and federal taxpayers instead of from rates."

Cite Threats Against Property.

"To effectuate this conspiracy," it said, "the defendants inform owners of properties desired that unless they sell the property at a price arbitrarily fixed by the defendants, either TVA or the municipalities will build a duplicate distribution system or transmission system with federal funds and by competition, so subsidized with federal funds as to be completely destructive to competitors not having access to the federal treasury, render the property of the 'recalcitrant' utilities valueless except for junk."

It also charges that one intent of TVA is to "launch the federal government upon a competitive commercial enterprise and to draw to the federal government the conduct and management of a business having no relation to the powers for which the government was established."

The TVA program, the companies charge, has no direct, real, or substantial relation to navigation nor other constitutional functions of the federal government.

Constitutionality of TVA was not involved in a decision handed down by the United States Supreme court last February. In this case the court, by a vote of 8 to 1, upheld TVA's right to sell power generated at the Wilson dam.

In that decision the court expressed no opinion as the validity of TVA, or the status of any other dam or power development.

RAIL FREIGHT TRAFIC RISES TO NEW PEAK; 14.2% ABOVE YEAR AGO

The total trafic, reported by the Association of American Railroads, was 683,406 cars, an increase of 1,959 cars, or 0.3 per cent from the preceding week, but the gain was slightly less than seasonal. As compared with a year ago, the gain was 85,010 cars, or 14.2 per cent, and 57,416 cars, or 9.2 per cent, above the corresponding week two years ago.

The week's total was the largest for late May since 1931, and was the eighth consecutive week in which a new five year seasonal peak was established.

The largest gains over both the preceding week and a year ago were in miscellaneous freight, regarded as an accurate trade barometer.

	This wk.	Last wk.	Yr. ago.
Misc. freight	284,310	+1,738	+54,431
Less than carlot	162,096	— 173	+ 4,862
Coal	106,130	— 540	— 6,603
Grains	31,365	+ 808	+ 5,553
Live stock	11,153	+ 519	— 188
Lumber	33,414	+ 288	+ 9,333
Ore	46,414	+ 170	+15,445
Coke	8,191	+ 187	+ 2,177

Total loadings for the year to date amounted to 13,156,999 cars, compared with 12,132,312 cars in the corresponding period of last year and 12,351,993 cars two years ago.

STEEL DISTRICT EMPLOYMENT IS ABOVE 1929 LEVEL

Youngstown, O., May 29.—(AP)—Figures released by steel companies today disclosed that Youngstown district steel mills are employing more workmen than in 1929.

One of the largest steel companies, the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, has nearly 12,000 men on its pay roll, the figures showed, more than it employed in 1929. This condition has been attained in spite of the displacement of old hand worked sheet mills by the company's new continuous strip mill, virtually automatic.

In some classifications there is an actual labor shortage. This appears chiefly in the highly skilled work at open hearth furnaces and in rolling mills, where five or six years' experience is needed to turn out a competent workman.

One employment agent said he could use "skilled mechanics of almost all kinds," and another said that his company experienced a shortage even in certain kinds of common labor.

NEW YORK CITY POTATO PRICES SET 5 YEAR PEAK

New York, May 29.—(AP)—Prices of Irish potatoes touched the highest levels in five years at New York today, old crop Maine No. 1 selling at $3.00 to $3.25 a hundredweight and the new crop South Carolina No. 1 cobblers at $4.00 to $4.25.

Potato prices in Seattle rose to a ten year peak yesterday.

Behind the steady price advance is the fact that the old crop—grown last summer and stored during the winter—was short and is currently low, while the new crop—coming up now from the southern states—is not sufficiently large to take up the slack.

PRICES RISE HERE.

Since May 12 prices have risen sharply in the Chicago cash market. Idaho russets, which then were quoted at $1.90 to $2.10 per hundred pounds, were priced yesterday at $3.25 to $3.80. New Alabamas were quoted at $3.60 to $3.80, against $2.50 to $2.75, and new Louisianas at $3.60 to $3.90, against $2.60 to $2.85.

Canadian Roads to Reduce Passenger Fares 13 Pct.

MONTREAL, Que., May 29.—Canadian railroads are following the lead of the United States roads and will reduce passenger fares 13 per cent, effective Monday. The return time limit of 30 days is being extended to six months.

Gold Moneys Strained as Metal Flees

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Developments in the foreign exchange market today gave evidence of increasing strain on the gold bloc currencies as the time approached for France's new leftist government to take control next week.

The engagement of $18,661,000 additional gold aboard for shipment here was announced at the federal reserve bank. The Bank of The Netherlands raised its rediscount rate from 2½ per cent to 3½ per cent as large amounts of gold poured out of that country. The pound sterling touched $5, the highest price since Feb. 8, as funds flowed in larger volume from the continent to London. The franc weakened in the spot market and the guilder went to a heavier discount in the futures market.

Several Countries Send Gold.

The gold engagements consisted of $14,850,000 taken in France, $450,000 in Holland, $1,259,000 in India, and $2,102,000 in Colombia. In addition, large amounts, not yet officially reported here, are known to have been engaged in Amsterdam in the last few days. Dispatches from that center said that the ship Veendam would sail today with about $18,225,000 gold consigned to this country. Including today's reported engagements $39,943,000 gold has been taken abroad this week for shipment here, and since April 24, when the movement began, a total of $204,600,000 has been engaged of which $164,700,000 has been taken in Paris.

Reflecting the steady rise of the pound and the discount on European gold bloc currencies, the price of bar gold in London today fell to the lowest level since Nov. 22, 1934, at 139s 3½d an ounce equal to $34.78.

Franc Loses Ground.

Despite buying by banks for the purpose of arranging gold shipments, the franc lost ground today. It dropped to 6.58¼ cents and closed at 6.58 5-16 cents, off 1-16 point. At today's final price the exchange showed a loss of 1-16 point for the week. The discount of three months forward francs at 51 points, showed an increase of 8 points in the week. The dollar was worth 100.76 cents against francs, compared with 100.75 cents Thursday.

Spot guilders declined 1 point to 67.52 cents, which was equal to a net loss of 5 points in the week, and the discount of three months forward guilders widened to 140 points, 10 points larger in the day and 50 points larger in the week. The Swiss franc at 32.30 cents was off 1 point on the day and the week.

Sterling, having advanced to $5, closed at $4.99 9-16, up 1-16 cent net in the day and 2⅛ cents higher in the week.

Local banks today advanced their price for German travel marks by 1 cent to 24.50 cents. This was the first change in more than two weeks.

U. S. ANNOUNCES RURAL ILLINOIS POWER PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The Rural Electrification administration announced today a unified rural electrification program covering a wide area in Illinois and Missouri.

Five allotments, totaling $295,000, were made with which farmers' cooperatives may begin construction on the integrated system. Power will be purchased, the REA said, from the Hannibal, Mo., municipal plant on the west, and the Sprinfield, Ill., municipal generating plant on the east.

The Illinois loans were as follows:

Pike County Electric coöperative, Pittsfield, Ill., $85,000, to begin construction on a system which eventually will include 362 miles in Pike, Scott, and Adams counties. This project was sponsored by the Pike County Farm bureau and the Illinois Agriculture association.

Morgan County Electric coöperative, Jacksonville, Ill, $50,000, to begin construction on a country-wide system of 138 miles when completed.

Menard County Electric coöperative, Petersburg, Ill., $35,000, for rural electric lines in Menard and parts of Sangamon counties. The completed system will comprise 116 miles of transmission lines.

Am. Steel Foundries Plant to Resume; Idle 20 Months

East St. Louis, Ill., May 29.—(AP)—The American Steel Foundries plant here, idle since September, 1934, will resume the pouring of steel for use in railroad equipment on June 15. The company's announcement stated between 450 and 500 workmen were being hired to operate the plant at half capacity.

333 NORTH MICHIGAN REORGANIZATION PLAN FOUGHT BY BOND GROUP

Opposition to the recently approved plan of reorganization for the 333 North Michigan Avenue Building corporation was presented to the Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday when several bondholders attacked the plan in oral arguments before Federal Judges Evan A. Evans, Will M. Sparks, and Robert C. Baltzell.

The bondholders are appealing from an order of Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward approving the plan, which provides for the issuance of preferred and common stocks in lieu of the present $7,600,000 bond issue. Bondholders would receive one share of preferred stock and one share of common for each $100 bond. Present stockholders would receive 0.7 share of new common for each share of old.

Attorneys for the dissenting bondholders argued that indebtedness of the property is more than its value and that bondholders are entitled to their foreclosure decree entered in state courts 14 months before the 77B petition. Under that the stockholders would receive nothing.

Counsel for the majority group favoring the plan contended 83 per cent of the bondholders approved it. The appeal was taken under advisement.

I. C. C. TO DEFEND RAILWAYS' SUIT ON LOWER FARES

New York, May 29.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission filed in federal court today notice of appearance as an intervening defendant in a suit started last Saturday by 23 eastern railroads to restrain the government from enforcing the rate reduction which becomes effective June 1.

The commission also put on file an answer to the petitioners' complaint in which it said its order for lower passenger coach and Pullman fares is neither unjust, unreasonable, or illegal. It asked that the railroads' petition for temporary and permanent injunctions be dismissed.

Small Roads Exempted.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today exempted eight small railroads from observing its recent order sharply reducing passenger fares, effective June 2.

AGENCIES REPORT SEASONAL DROP IN AUTO OUTPUT

Automobile production registered another seasonal decline this week, estimates of two statistical agencies disclosed yesterday. Ward's Reports, Inc., placed output in the United States and Canada at 106,733 cars and trucks, compared with 110,845 a week earlier. Cram's Reports, Inc., estimated 108,346 units were produced, against 109,821 last week and 65,675 in the same period of 1935.

Ward's said that despite the decline a fairly stable condition prevails in the industry and June schedules will be only slightly under May output.

"Many manufacturers anticipate declines of less than 10 per cent during the coming month," Ward's commented. "A few hope to continue operating schedules at May levels. An output of 400,000 units for the industry during June appears likely."

Charleston, S. C., May 29.—(AP)—Mayor Burnet R. Maybank said today negotiations had been completed with the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company to build a large paper mill here soon. Maybank said that several million dollars would be spent. The mill is expected to open a market for pine timber in the lower part of the state.

Banks, Markets, Stores Close for Memorial Day

Business will be virtually suspended throughout the United States today in commemoration of Memorial day. Banks and principal security and commodity markets and most industrial and commercial establishments will suspend operations until Monday. Commodity exchanges, business firms, and banks in a handful of southern states will be open as usual.

Brokers Will Tell Harm in Margin Rules

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Governors of the New York Stock exchange called upon all member firms today to furnish, not later than June 15, complete data on margin accounts as of March 31, April 30 and May 29. The information, presumably, is to be used to back up the brokers' claim that the new federal reserve board margin restrictions are too drastic.

A questionnaire sent to exchange members on two optional forms will draw out information on all customers' margin accounts having both debit balances and long security positions, and also will disclose total market value of segregated securities available for use as margin.

Press advices from Washington indicated that the federal reserve board had been apprised of the move and had given tacit approval.

Assert Market Is Handicapped.

Wall street opinion was that the new compilation will prove that stock market activity has been measurably thinned by the present margin restrictions.

Whether or not the reserve board will be any more impressed by the showing of the survey than it has been by the brokers' agitation of the margin question during the last few weeks could only be conjectured. The Washington dispatches said the governors of the board declined to discuss the exchange questionnaire, saying only that they would be glad to see the summary when it had been compiled.

The margin question developed acuteness on April 1, when a regulation fixing margins at 55 per cent went into effect, and reached a condition approaching crisis on May 1, when the reserve board promulgated another regulation cutting loans to brokers to 60 per cent of the market value of collateral.

Brokers Assail Restrictions.

Brokers were quick to assail this new restriction. It was argued at once that the brokerage business would be unduly curtailed and that stock trading accounts would be driven out of the country for better terms.

Within the last few weeks Charles R. Gay, exchange president, and various brokers have traveled to Washington, presenting to the reserve board reports purporting to support these arguments. A veritable exodus of trading accounts to foreign brokerage firms to escape the restrictions placed on domestic stock exchange member firms has been going on since May 1, brokers asserted.

Member firms, starting today the work of preparing answers to the exchange questionnaire, expressed a belief that the two weeks to June 15 might be too short a time for assemblage of the data.

STORES ENLARGE STOCKS; AWAIT BONUS SPENDING

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Merchants have been accumulating stocks in preparation for the sudden bulge in demand when bonus payments start, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., said today in its weekly trade review. Shortages of some types of goods are imminent, as apparel manufacturers will be too occupied with fall lines during June and July to take care of reorders, aside from drawing on their stocks, which already are low, the review said.

Even on current orders, it was reported, delivery difficulties have been encountered, particularly on cotton dresses and some styles of white coats and travel apparel, which were well to the fore in the merchandise that built up the week's wholesale volume to 12 to 18 per cent more than that booked in the corresponding 1935 period.

"Consumer buying continued at an improved pace during the week," the review said, "but was unable on some days to rise above the handicap of the sudden drop in temperature, which affected many parts of the country.

"This gave an increase of 10 to 15 per cent in the estimated volume of retail sales from the total for the corresponding 1935 week.

"Retail sales in the middle west ran ahead of 1935 by 15 to 20 per cent, with some cities reporting gains up to 25 per cent."

STOCKS STRONG; HOLIDAY TODAY LIMITS TRADING

Gold Mining and Steel Groups Take Lead.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 29.—Dealings in stocks were exceedingly dull today as both professional and public traders absented themselves from the financial sector for an extended week-end. What trading took place was largely for evening up purposes, which made for a colorless affair.

Moderate strength in the gold mining, steel and miscellaneous industrial sections provided a firm underlying tone for the list and resulted in higher prices for most stocks. Some issues were able to advance as much as 2 points but the restricted activity robbed the higher prices of much of their significance. It was discovered that the market had developed thinness on the upturn, as well as on the down side, and moderate demand sufficed to push prices into higher ground.

Trading Expands Near Close.

Trading picked up slightly before the close on advices from Washington that the senate committee had finally agreed on the terms of the new tax bill, with the administration forces within the committee apparently giving up their fight to obtain a bill retaining more of the administration ideas. Volume for the session, however, was on a par with the slowest sessions of last week. Approximately 740,000 shares changed hands.

Dome Mines was one of the strongest stocks in the list, rising 2¾ points to a new high of 60⅝. McIntyre picked up more than a point and Alaska Juneau registered a fractional advance.

J. I. Case was a strong spot in the farm implement section, getting back the 2 points it lost yesterday and adding another point and a half for good measure. The rest of the group was fractionally higher. Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward gained fractions.

Steel Issues Advance.

Steel stocks showed their appreciation of the optimistic remarks being uttered by leading lights of the industry. Private forecasts of higher operations in the Youngstown district also provided help. U. S. Steel registered a gain exceeding a point and Bethlehem was marked up 1%. National Steel was buoyant, rising 2 points.

Despite another slip in output the motor shares hardened fractionally, a good sum of the veterans' bonus money is expected to go toward the purchase of new automobiles. Utility shares advanced fractions.

Rail shares failed to get up much steam. Great Northern, Union Pacific and New York, Chicago and St. Louis were the leaders with gains of a point each.

Reflecting the boost in its dividend rate, Commercial Credit climbed 2½ points. Other individual strong spots were Monsanto Chemical, Allied Chemical, Continental Can, American Brake Shoe, Commercial Investment Trust, Eastman Kodak, Electric Autolite, Louisiana Oil, Owens Glass and Wright Aero.

MOVES TO CURB SUPREME COURT POWER DECRIED

Recurrence of "Circular Insanity," Says Norton.

Present moves to curb the pawer of he Supreme court in passing on acts f congress were escribed as a re- urrence of "cir- ular insanity" y Thomas James Norton, authority n constitutional aw, in an ad- ress yesterday noon before the Executive Club f Chicago in the Hotel Sherman.

T. J. NORTON.

Gradual under- mining of the onstitution may eventuate in a complete change n the American orm of govern- ment, Norton warned. He said that although efforts in this direction have been under way for forty years, the fact that 50 bills are now before congress to alter the constitution and limit the power of the Supreme court is the most recent and serious threat.

Real Cause for Alarm.

"The American constitution sought to guarantee life, liberty, and property," he asserted. "When signs of arbitrary rule by men appear, citizens have real cause for alarm. No nation can live unless it adheres to a constitutional government of laws, not men, for most miseries have been caused by a government of men."

Tracing the rise and fall of the ancient Greek and Roman empires, Norton said that governments of the past have failed because they prepared no way to control individuals in power. The American judiciary system, as a check on the executive and legislative factions of the government, is an American invention which no other country had previously, he said.

"But since the Pullman strike in 1895, when the courts enjoined the destruction of property and interference with interstate commerce and the mails, attacks on the Supreme court have appeared periodically," Norton said. "The national government has tried several times to infringe on the rights of the states, but has been stopped by the courts.

Court Under Fire.

"More recently, the court has been under fire by universities, politicians, bureaus, and special interests. It is preposterous that one of three coordinate bodies of government should try to limit the other, but if the attempt is continued it may succeed."

Norton said that governments which have adopted constitutions modeled on that of the United States have been democratic and have endured, while those lacking a balance of power have died. "Had Germany followed this form when it adopted a new government in 1919, Hitler would still have been painting barns, and peace would now prevail," he added.

Should the power of the courts be limited, Norton said, historians will write of American citizens as a race of "over schooled, under educated adults who wasted the greatest opportunity ever offered for freedom."

U. S. STEEL SETS UP DEPARTMENT OF PUBLICITY

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The United States Steel corporation announced today that J. Carlisle MacDonald has become associated with its executive personnel as an assistant to Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board, to direct public relations.

The corporation has never had a public relations department, nor has any executive been charged exclusively with public relations duties in the past. Several months ago the corporation adopted a more aggressive advertising policy, and appointed Batton, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., as its advertising agents.

MacDonald was a newspaper man for twenty years. From 1923 until 1931 he was a member of the foreign staff of the New York Times. He resigned to become public relations counsel to Guggenheim Bros., New York banking firm, and has relinquished this post to join the steel corporation.

PARAMOUNT HAS $718,921 INCOME IN THREE MONTHS

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—Paramount Pictures reported today net income of $718,921 for the quarter ended March 31, 1936. Of the excess costs of certain pictures for which a reserve was provided out of 1935 earnings, approximately $800,000 was charged to operations for the first quarter of this year and a similar amount of the reserve was credited to operations. The reserve, amounting to $2,500,000, was established at the end of last year as an inventory reserve for film productions not yet released.

Joseph P. Kennedy, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, who was retained recently to make a survey of the financial affairs of the company, returned to New York from the California studios last night. Kennedy's report, containing suggestions on corporate policies, is expected to be completed in a week or ten days.

Rail Credit Pool Returns One-Half of Contributions

New York, May 29.—[Special.]—The Railroad Credit corporation announced today that, as of next Sunday, it will have returned to the contributors one-half of the $73,590,000 it distributed to needy railroads from the proceeds of freight surcharges from Jan. 2, 1932, to March 31, 1933. The latest distribution will amount to $735,881, or 1 per cent of the contributions to the pool, bringing to $36,794,000 the total of repayments.

Nearly All Lines of Chicago Business Sharing Expansion

Business activity in Chicago continued to make forward strides during April in practically all industrial and commercial lines, the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday in its monthly survey of conditions. Upturns were scored in every important branch, with the exception of live stock slaughtering.

One of the largest gains was recorded in contracts awarded for new building projects. The actual number of construction jobs increased from 125 in April, 1935, to 173 last month, while the expenditure involved soared to $4,260,400, or nearly double that of a year ago.

Department store sales were more than 10 per cent ahead of 1935. Pig iron output showed a substantial increase, and carloadings rose 10 per cent. Pay rolls also gained.

The cost of living of Chicagoans, with 1923 used as 100 for index purposes, rose to 84.1 per cent, compared with 82.4 per cent in April, 1935, the survey showed.

OUST PRODUCE MART TRUSTEES; OTHERS NAMED

Judge Orders Report on Management.

in other bonds underwritten by S. W. Straus & Co. and that the bonds had depreciated to a nominal value.

The court also found that since the beginning of the trust the only books kept at any time by the trustees were the cash receipts and disbursement records of Hugh McLennan. As to McLennan, the court found that his five different capacities as associate trustee, agent of the market, president of the McLennan Construction company that did the repair work, owner of part of the equity and purchaser of the securities of the trust required him "to constantly perform conflicting duties and assume responsibilities at odds with each other."

In entering the decree, Judge Sabath retained jurisdiction for several reasons, among them this: "To enter a judgment or a decree, or judgments or decrees, against all or any of the said defendants, and each of them, for any and all amouts found due and owing from any and all of said defendants, individually or jointly."

Suit Filed by Weintraub.

Weintraub, who was represented by Samuel P. Gurman of Olson & Gurman, 10 South LaSalle street, filed suit against the trustees after he had responded to advertisements by the depositary that the income bonds would be retired at 70 cents on the dollar, and was in turn instructed to surrender his income bond and accompanying Class A and common certificates to the Straus Securities corporation at a total price of 62 cents on the dollar.

The final order was presented to the judge by attorneys for the objecting bondholders and contained several statements which Judge Sabath elminated before signing.

One of these dealt with the transaction of Robin P. Allen with attorneys for the bondholders' committee, whereby Allen sold a $2,000 bond to the trustees for $5,000. The firm of Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautman, Levinson, and Morse, which represented the trustees, was also employed by the bondholders' committee formed by S. W. Straus & Co. Allen had previously refused to deposit his bonds with the committee.

An original statement in the order to the effect that the Allen transaction "was a further direct attempt to perpetrate a fraud upon this court," was deleted by Judge Sabath in the decree as entered.

Controversy Has Been Bitter.

Bitter controversy over the produce market's affairs has attracted attention ever since interest on the $8,000,000 bond issue, floated to finance promotion of the market district, was defaulted in January, 1932. After this default the property was placed in the hands of the six trustees who were formally removed yesterday. They were supplanted in March, 1935, by Jones as temporary receiver, but constant litigation held up issuance of the final decree on the trustees' removal until yesterday.

The Chicago Produce district trust, which is the center of all the controversy, was organized in 1933 and acquired property known as the Chicago Produce district. This property consists of land and three story buildings located at West 14th place and West 15th street, between South Racine avenue and South Morgan street. There are a total of 165 individual units in six blocks of buildings. Some produce merchants leased quarters there while others bought the units under sales contracts, calling for monthly payments.

ROCK ISLAND REPORTS LARGE DEFICIT; TAXES AND NEW LAWS CITED

A net operating deficit of $475,963 for April was reported yesterday by the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway. This compares with a deficit of $37,430 in March and an income of $294,659 in April, 1935. Operating revenue was 11.7 per cent ahead of April, last year, and the highest for any April since 1931.

The railway's statement said lower net income for the month resulted from increased taxes due to federal legislation, the social security and railroad retirement acts, and a greatly enlarged program of maintenance, rehabitation and modernization.

The Chesapeake corporation reported for the first quarter of 1936 net income after all deductions of $1,788,313, compared with $1,810,208 in the same quarter a year ago. The balance on March 31, 1936, in the earned surplus account was $14,951,870, compared with $11,380,509 a year ago.

In the earned surplus account was an item of $1,553,006.26 of profit from conversion of bonds into common stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company, less expenses incident thereto.

WHEAT FIRMER ON HEAT, DROUTH IN NORTHWEST

Most of Early Advance Is Canceled Later.

Trading in grains yesterday was largely of a pre-holiday character. Wheat advanced about 1 cent in the early trading, due to continued dry and hot weather over the greater part of the northwest, and to short covering attributed to eastern account. The upturn was largely lost later, however, and closing prices were only fractionally higher.

The Minneapolis and Winnipeg markets, in which only spring wheat can be delivered on future contracts, were about ½ cent higher. Kansas City, where only winter wheat is eligible for delivery, gained a small fraction. Short covering advanced Liverpool futures as much as 2 cents per bushel.

Weather Hot in Northwest.

While high temperatures again were reported in the Dakotas, Montana, and the southern part of the three Canadian prairie provinces, the forecast held out the prospect of showers in some sections. This had the effect of greatly tempering bullish sentiment. The selling movement which developed toward the close was said to have been based on passage of the commodity exchange control bill by the senate.

Reports from the winter wheat belt yesterday indicated some improvement in the outlook in Kansas and Nebraska, as compared with the prospective harvest on May 1. Cutting of wheat is expected to get under way in the advanced sections of Kansas within two weeks. Some new wheat is already being marketed in Texas, being ⅝ to 1 cent.

Prices on July Deliveries.

	Yest.	Thurs.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$ .84⅝	$ .84¾	$ .85¼	$ .83⅝
Corn	.59½	.59⅝	.59¼	.61¾
Oats	.25¾	.24⅝	.25	.26
Rye	.53⅞	.53½	.54	.50⅝

Closing of spreads between July and September corn narrowed the difference between the two deliveries to 2 cents at the close yesterday, compared with 2¼ cents on Thursday.

A sharp advance in the oats market in the last few minutes of the session surprised the trade yesterday, gains being ⅝ to 1 cent.

Cash houses were active buyers of September and sellers of July oats yesterday at ⅝ cent premium for the former during the early trading. Rye advanced a small fraction in sympathy with wheat and on continued unfavorable crop reports from the northwest.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car, you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly repayments.
2. Payments are small. For example, the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule. Other amounts in proportion.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.
